

NEBRASKAN

Vol. 44, No. 66

Lincoln 8, Nebraska

Wednesday, March 7, 1945

AWGWA STAFF—Members of the staff of the campus humor magazine which has gone to press, altho the subscription drive is still on, are: standing, Ed Robinson; sitting, Bill Miller, Phyllis Johnson and Paula Jones.

Mortar Board Presents Nine Awards at Tea

Nine university coeds received awards and recognition Sunday afternoon at the annual Mortar Board tea held in Ellen Smith hall from 3 to 5 p. m. The awards consisted of four scholarships and five senior honors for exceptional work in scholarship and activities.

Mortar Board scholarships of $75 each, given to students of unusual ability, were presented to Helen Busacker, sophomore in fine arts; Adline Baum, freshman, teachers college; Elizabeth McHenry, freshman in arts and sciences; and Mrs. Geraldine Olinger, freshman, home economics.

Senior Honors.

Senior girls honored for exceptional work in scholarship and activities were Barbara Stahl, arts and science, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Beta Kappa. Miss Stahl is also an ex-member of the YWCA cabinet and is chairman of the university peace conference. Hazel Stearn, teachers college, president of International House, Alpha Lambda Delta, Pi Lambda Theta, YWCA cabinet, president of BABW and AWS board.

Charlotte Hill, arts and science, Sigma Delta Tau, Vestles of the Lamp, 1945 Cornhusker business manager, Nebraskan business manager, Tassels and YWCA board. Jean Kinnie, teachers college, Towne club, Delta Sigma Rho and varsity debate. Margaret Beede, arts and science, Pi Beta Phi past president, War Council secretary, AUF president and Nebraskans for Servicemen editor.

Red Cross Drive Limp Thru First Days With $542

The campus A.U.F. Red Cross drive, off to a slow start with only $42 contributed by individuals, was bolstered by large contributions from two organizations, making the present total $542.

Tassels started the ball rolling with $300 and war council contributed $200. The small amount given by individual contributors is due in part to the fact that no house meetings were held this Monday night because of the experimental peace conference, according to Margaret Beede, A.U.F. director.

Solicitors are urged to contact every member of their respective group in an effort to complete the drive before the end of the week, Miss Beede stated.

Bizad Society Selects Eight New Members

Beta Gamma Sigma elected seven seniors and one graduate student in bizad college to membership, it was announced Tuesday by Carl L. Nelson, secretary-treasurer.

The national honorary scholastic fraternity of collegiate schools of business selects its members from the upper 10 per cent of the senior class.

Seniors are Stephen Daniel Briggs, Nelson Gene Friesenborg, Marion Louise Holtz, Ernest Harry Larson, Dorothea Marguerite Lemon, Nelda Ethel Oltman, and Mary Ellen Stuart, Lincoln.

The graduate student is Mary Helen Thoms, Wausa, who received her degree in January, 1945.

Nu Med Society Gives Honorary Key to Freshman

The Nu Med Key will be awarded to the outstanding freshman pre-medical student of last year at the Nu Med meeting in room XY of the Union Wednesday night.

There will be a dinner starting at 6:15. Those planning to attend must sign on the bulletin board in room 308 Bessey Hall before noon on Wednesday, according to Grace Heins.

Dr. F. A. Alcon, superintendent of the orthopedic hospital, will show colored slides on bone and joint surgery in children at the close of the meeting.

University Faculty Group Discusses Financial Condition With Governor Griswold, Legislature

Serious financial conditions at Nebraska which are affecting the reputation of the university as well as the positions of faculty members, were called to the attention of the legislature and Governor Griswold Tuesday by a committee representing the university faculty.

The situation had been formerly presented to the Board of Regents and Chancellor C. S. Boucher. At the request of the Board of Regents a letter was sent to all legislators by Chancellor Boucher and John K. Selleck, secretary of the board. The letter quoted particularly significant parts of the statement of the staff members in detail.

First Peace Conference Session Ends in Deadlock

A scene resembling mild chaos ended the first plenary session of the experimental peace conference Monday night at the coliseum.

Beginning with the first amendment offered, debate from the floor did not stop until Moderator C. Petrus Peterson banged his gavel for adjournment. Students abandoned the rules of procedure laid down by the planning committee when the Netherlands offered an amendment to the original amendment. As originally planned, all amendments had to be approved by the planning committee, but since the committee realized the importance of the point of debate, the amendment was allowed.

Rohde States Plan of Axis Re-education

"The proud nations of the world have chosen this spot at the center of the United States for the most significant meeting in history," stated Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, university alumna and former minister to Denmark, at the first plenary session of the experimental peace conference Monday night in the coliseum.

After introduction by Gerry McKinsey, vice-chairman of the planning committee who presided over the first part of the program, Mrs. Rohde spoke on "Re-education of the Axis Countries."

Turning to her main subject, she stated that unless the nations of the world ratify the Dumbarton Oaks plan, there will be no hope for the world. There must be a stable world, she said, in order to be able to prevent future wars.

Criminals Punished.

"We must see to it that the war criminals are punished in such a fashion that the people of Germany understand the crime and why they are being punished," Mrs. Rohde went on. She advocated using German teachers and educators who have fled or been exiled from Germany to re-educate their people. Eventually, she said, groups of teachers from the United States would form centers in Germany where those who wish may learn.

Mrs. Rohde read General Eisenhower's orders to his troops when they penetrated German soil. Included in these orders was one stating "no discrimination in race" (See ROHDE, page 3.)

Qualified Women File Applications For May Queen

Filings for May Queen are open today to university women who are qualified, Jo Martz, member of Mortar Boards, announced today.

Women will file at the Student Activities Office at the Coliseum any time between now and March 13.

Qualifications for May Queen are: 80 average for entire record; no outstanding delinquencies; carrying 12 hours; and has attended the university for three years counting the present one.

Women's election, at which time the May Queen is chosen, will be held on March 21.

Interesting Art Exhibit Draws Record Crowd

BY DEAN WALL.

The opening of the 55th annual exhibition of contemporary art in Morrill hall art galleries Sunday was witnessed by 1,153 people, actual count. The exhibit, presented by the Nebraska Art association, has grown in size and scope until today it is the most outstanding of its kind between Chicago and the west coast, according to Prof. Dwight Kirsch, director of art.

The works this year are largely symbolic. Two of the canvases in particular have the right color contrast of abstract figures to produce a feeling of awe in the gallery visitor. They are "Three Towers of Paris" by Max Ernst and "Sound of Light" by Jimmy Ernst. Another featured canvas of a slightly different nature presents tangible forms in an abstract composition. The luminance of the picture aids in presenting a scene of warring Europe. It is called "Les Filles de Feu" and was done by Eugene Bermein.

Shows 'Family Group.'

Another conspicuous work is "Family Group" by Walter Haumere. The solidity and blending qualities of the figures express the security and unity of a family.

Other pictures that leave a deep impression upon the mind are "Willow Road" by Guy Maccoy, "The Magnificent Fish" by Karl Zerbe, and "Italian Landscape" by Ben Shahn.

The show this year contains a number of sculpture pieces and carvings. Notable examples are "Snake on Arch" by Alexander Calder, a metal organization of forms that wreathes back and forth in a truly snake-like manner; a bronze chrome plate head by Walter Haumere; and "Prayer" (See ART EXHIBIT, page 2.)

Student Teachers Group Meets Today

The Student Teachers Association of teachers college, a newly organized group for undergraduate students on the campus, will meet at 5 in the teachers college library to adopt a constitution and elect officers.

After the reading of committee reports, Russia moved that an amendment to the resolutions of committee one be adopted. The amendment substituted for Article IV, section 3, the words "In all cases involving punitive action (such as economic or military sanctions) against a nation which has been adjudged an aggressor, decisions shall be taken only with a two-thirds majority vote of the Council and the five permanent members voting affirmatively."

Canada Opposes.

Opposing the amendment, a delegate from Canada argued against the amendment as stated. In part, the delegate declared "if the United States aggresses in Mexico, does anyone think that the United States would vote to stop the United States? Of course not . . . The small nations" (See CONFERENCE, page 3.)

Science Group Names Meeting Dates May 4, 5

The 1945 meeting of the Nebraska Academy of Sciences is set for the Nebraska campus, May 4 and 5. It was announced today by Prof. C. E. George, president of the academy.

Since about two-thirds of the membership in the academy is located in Lincoln, and since so many national meetings have been called off because of ODT rulings, the executive committee decided to go ahead with the plans for the sessions. Membership in the organization is open to all who are interested in any or all phases of science and therefore the laymen as well as the scientists are encouraged to take up memberships.

Tentative guest speaker for the academy will be Dean R. E. Buchanan, dean of the graduate school and director of Iowa experimental station, Iowa State college, it was announced by Professor George.

Delbert Carlson, '47 Ag Student, Dies at Kearney

Delbert E. Carlson, ag college student in class of '47, died yesterday at the Kearney hospital after an illness of about two months.

Carlson, 19, had been a patient at Mayo Brothers Clinic in Rochester, Minn., before going to Kearney. He has a twin sister, Dorris, also an ag college student.

Affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, Carlson received the Carl R. Gray scholarship before entering the university.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at the First Methodist church in Kearney.

C. H. Patterson Gives Book Review Thursday

Dr. H. C. Patterson, head of the philosophy department, will review "The Predicament of Modern Man" by D. Elton Trueblood Thursday at 4 o'clock in parlor X of the Student Union. This is one of the series of religious book reviews sponsored by the Y.W.C.A.

(See FACULTY, page 3.)