Students Lack $1,040 in Red Cross Donation

With only two days remaining in the annual Red Cross drive, the student contributions are $1,040.25 short of the $2,500 goal set by the AUF board. The university faculty and employees had surpassed their $4,401 goal by $3 by Thursday noon and donations were still coming in, according to Dean W. C. Harper.

Student contributions were pushed over the half-way mark Wednesday with the highest day's contributions to date when individual donations mounted to $743.50 and two organizations pledged $500.

Individual student donations have been coming in rapidly, according to Margaret Beede, AUF director.

The majority of organizations have not, as yet, reported. The only two pledges from organizations are $300 from Tassels and $200 from War Council.

Solicitors will turn in the remainder of their collections from 5 to 6 p. m. today in either room 313 or 315 of the Union. Miss Beede expressed the hope of the AUF board that the students will continue their outstanding co-operation for the remainder of the drive.

Over one-half of the university students are dissatisfied with the present health facilities, according to the results of a survey conducted recently by the Student Council. Results of the student health investigation were released to The Nebraskan at Wednesday's council meeting.

Two weeks ago comprehensive reports had been submitted to Chancellor C. S. Boucher, Dr. Rufus A. Lyman and the members of the university health committee. With the next two weeks the faculty committee of the student health will meet with the Student Council committee to discuss the criticisms and suggestions made on the questionnaires by the students.

Committee Okays Punitive Measures Compromise

That punitive measures, for five years, may be invoked only by a vote of 7 of the members of the security council including the unanimous vote of the permanent members with the accused state being deprived at the time of the right to vote is the compromise which will be presented tonight at the last plenary session of the experimental peace conference by the reference committee.

After five hours of debate on the question of voting power in the Security Council, the reference committee reached a unanimous agreement on the compromise measure.

Two-Hour Discussion.

The reference committee, composed of two delegates each from United States, Russia, Great Britain, and one delegate from China, heard a two-hour discussion of an amendment offered by the small nations and one offered by the United States.

The proposal which will be submitted to the plenary session is:

"IV. Voting in the Security Council (Chap. VI, Sec. C)

"2. For a period of five years it shall be the rule that punitive measures may be invoked only by a two-thirds (7) vote of the security council, including the unanimous vote of the permanent members, with the accused state being deprived at the time of the right to vote.

"3. In no case shall military sanctions be invoked until economic sanctions have been tried and proved inadequate.

"4. After a period of 5 years a general conference shall be held and the question of renewing these rules shall be considered."

Amends Committee One.

This amendment to the report of committee one on the World Security Organization, Section IV, as originally stated, the report read:

Ag YW Launches Relief Campaign For Philippines

The Ag Campus Y.W.C.A. is launching a Lenten season drive for relief of suffering Americans in the Philippines, especially in Manila, according to Lois Opper, president.

The contributions will be sent to Mrs. Clara Palafox Carino, who has been a teacher in Manila since 1913. A graduate of the Home Economics department of the University of Nebraska, Mrs. Carino received her master's degree at Columbia university.

In a recent letter to the Ag campus, Mrs. Carino urges students to contribute to the fund.

Coin banks for the fund will be found on the first and second floors of the Home Economics building. Evelyn Mumma is chairman of the drive.

Kathleen Hays Receives Gold Nu-Med Award

The gold scholarship key of the Nu Med society was presented by Dr. Otis Wade Wednesday evening to Kathleen Cecilia Hays.

Awarded annually to the pre-medical freshman earning the highest marks, the prized key became the possession of Miss Hays for a freshman average of 91.1. Miss Hays is a member of Gamma Mu Theta, honorary women's medical sorority, and of Hesperia.

"All students who expect to apply for entrance to a medical school during 1945 or in the spring of 1946," declared Dr. Wade at the Wednesday Nu Med meeting, "are to apply immediately to take the Association of American Medical Colleges Aptitude test, to be given throughout the nation on Friday, April 13." Students should apply to O. Wade, pre-medical adviser, room 308 BH.

Test Is Requirement.

This test has been adopted by the association as one of the standard requirements for admission to a medical school. In many medical schools the test is an absolute requirement. The test measures one's ability to learn material similar to that which he will have in medical school. It measures also his general information and scientific background and his ability to draw accurate conclusions from a given set of data.

"This aptitude test," emphasized Wade, "is required of all students entering medical school, UN or any other school. Time of the test is Friday, April 13 at 2 p. m. in Bessey Hall Auditorium. This is the only time the test will be given this year. It is only for pre-meds, and not for pre-technicians or pre-nurses. Sign up for the test on the bulletin board outside my office, 308 Bessey Hall at once."

Peggy Shelley will take over on the ivories from 5 to 6 in the lounge, during the coffee hour.

Fifty-four percent of the 824 students polled in the questionnaires answered that they were not satisfied. A large majority believed that the university should maintain a student infirmary but also stipulated that they were in favor of an infirmary only if it were run satisfactorily.

Staff Criticized.

The main criticisms made of the program were that the staff is incompetent; too often the wrong diagnosis is made in an examination and the quarters of the Student Health office are dirty, crowded and generally uninviting.

Many students stated that they

Former ROTC Students Receive Officer Ratings

Col. J. P. Murphy, infantry commandant at the university announced today the battlefield promotion to first lieutenant of Thomas Morse, former advanced ROTC student at the university, and the appointment of Don B. Crandall of Lincoln as second lieutenant, infantry reserve.

Lt. Morse graduated from the college of business administration in 1943 and was stationed at Fort Sill, where he received his commission over a year ago. He is now with the Ninth army in Germany. Lt. Morse was affiliated with Phi Kappa Psi.

Lt. Crandall was a former advanced ROTC student at the university. He entered the university in 1940 and completed three and one-half years in the engineering college. Lt. Crandall was graduated from and commissioned at the infantry school, Fort Benning, Georgia.

had no faith in the staff and protested that there is no full-time doctor on duty and that the staff kept no regular office hours. It is also resented that the doctors will not leave the office on emergency calls and that students who are very ill must present their identification cards before receiving any care.

Office Unsatisfactory.

Students said they were repelled by the appearance of the Student Health office itself and complained about the small waiting room, unsterilized instruments, unsanitary conditions, and
