

AS I SEE IT

By

One of the modern legends of the University is dead. Captain Walter "Butch" Luther, running back of the Nebraska Rose Bowl team, was killed in action with the American forces in Italy.

"Butch" Luther was the stand-out of Lt. Col. Biff Jones' 1940 team which lost only to Minnesota in the regular season and defeated Pitt in the game that brought the Rose Bowl bid.

"The Butcher" supplied the cunning to go in stride with Harry Hopp's powerful off-tackle slants. Many is the time that I remember seeing opposing teams massing to stop Hopp at tackle only to find Luther around the other end for a touchdown. The most heart-breaking experience in his career was his 63-yard touchdown run against Minnesota that was called back because both teams were off-side.

Perhaps Luther's greatest game was the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena. Luther's job was to draw the Stanfords' attention while Hopp and Francis worked at the center of the line. It was Luther's advances around end, and Francis's blasts at the Indian line that ended with Vike going over the middle for the first score on the seventh play of the game.

It is my suggestion that the greatest tribute that the university can render one of its most famous athletes, who died a hero's death in "Sunny Italy" is to retire his number, 27, from use.

The state baseball tourney will be held in the University Coliseum starting Thursday afternoon at 12:30. The admission price will be 65 cents for all sessions except the final one, for which the price will be 85 cents. Service men and women will be admitted for 25 cents.

regard of "overseas" commands for the WAC has grown out of an appreciation for their efficiency, adaptability, self-sufficiency and soldierly conduct under continual changing working and living conditions and under enemy fire."

At Eisenhower's Headquarters.

WAC in the European theaters are working in General Eisenhower's headquarters, air, ground and service forces, bombardment wings, depots and stations. They are also working in the office of strategic services under the European Advisory Commission.

The WAC are non-combat units, but two detachments are serving near the front lines—one in northern Italy and one in southern France. The WAC have lots of fun teaching the French girls how to play the game of basketball. Lieutenant Colonel Wilson went on to state that only a few days before she left her headquarters in Paris, the news came that a certain unit had been bombed out twice. "We have been lucky that not one single WAC in the European theater has been killed as a result of enemy action."

and plays and named Wells as a man of tremendous ability. In his list of favorite stage stars, Mr. Kennedy includes Tallulah Bankhead, Katherine Cornell and Julith Anderson.

A chain smoker, Mr. Kennedy lighted one cigarette after another as he discussed the policy of writing revolutionary plays. This technique is permissible only if it is justified, according to Mr. Kennedy. In his opinion, "Our Town," is the best play ever written in America.

Mr. Kennedy has appeared in many eastern productions and during college toured the country with his original one act play. Commenting on the new play, "Room Service," which the UN Theatre players are soon to present, Kennedy says the play is one of the most amusing comedies ever written.

Follies . . .

Rehearsals for the Follies are scheduled for tonight in the Temple building, beginning at 6:45. All participants are requested to have their properties in Temple by 5 p. m. Everyone is to be in dressing rooms 15 minutes before appearance and is to leave immediately following performance, as soon as properties are removed from the stage.

Each skit and curtain act is to have an itemized cost account handed in by tonight at rehearsal time.

Following the skits and curtain acts, a style show has been planned. Peggy Larson will present 25 university coeds in styles appropriate to Nebraska's campus. The climax to the show will be presentation of the Typical Nebraska Coed and the skit and curtain act cups.

A. Lewandowski Announces Plans For Intramurals

Athletic Director A. J. Lewandowski today announced plans for an intramural baseball league consisting of four teams selected from the fraternities and the Co-ops of the whole campus. The four teams will be split up among certain houses, two, three, four or more if necessary, in order that each of the teams be fairly balanced. Lew stated that the boys participating would have use of the field house for dressing and showering. The university will also supply catcher's equipment, balls, bats, and sweat socks.

Since this sport will replace softball in the intramural schedule, the winning points for the Jack Best trophy will be divided among the houses playing on each team. All those interested contact either Lewandowski at the coliseum, or Gordie Ehlers at the ATO house.

Virginia College Auctions Bonds

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (ACP). Items such as serenades beneath your window, free horse-back rides, a shark's eye and a trip to the movies with the Dean brought high prices in a recent War Bond auction at Mary Washington College. More than $13,600 in War Bonds and Stamps was sold. Faculty members offered their services as waiters, serenaders, escorts, and carriers of books to the highest bidders. They also donated a plate of fudge, crayon sketches, an oil painting, and the shark's eye, possession of which, according to a South Pacific legend guarantees a handsome husband.

Mary Washington initiated the first college War Bond and Stamp program in the country, in effect one day before Pearl Harbor. The auction was part of the continuous War Savings Program carried on at the college.

Intramurals

BY DON J. BAKER.

Don Barry's expert rebounding and stellar defensive work, coupled with Tom Dworak's eagle eye, spelled a 28 to 17 Beta defeat Tuesday night, giving the A.T.O.'s sole claim to the Inter-mural Basketball Championship.

Dworak opened the scoring as he wished his first long archer through, and repeated a moment later with a one handed corner shot. Barry then proceeded to dunk 12 points, helping considerably to create the 18-9 half-time score.

The final period got off to a slow start, and seven minutes had elapsed before Roth's fielder broke the ice. For the remainder of the game the two teams scored on an equal basis, with Miller of the Betas, and Dworak and Barry of the Taus carrying the burden of the scoring.

The Betas swept into the finals of the Intramural basketball tournament by beating the Zips by the score of 25-21. They met the ATO quintet who knocked off the Phi Gams by the count of 35-19.

The Betas led by Harlin Helgeron out played a fighting Xi Psi Phi team all the way to earn themselves a crack at the crown. The Zips, with Bob Tangeman and George Bosma in the fore, threatened all the way but never managed to pull up long enough to hold the lead permanently.

The box score:

The ATO's last period spurt left the Phi Gams in the lurch, with a 35-19 result. The game seasawed back and forth until Harold Andersen, Phi Gam center, fouled out after four minutes of the second half were played. Then the Fiji defense fell apart and the ATO's went rampant. The half time score was 12-11.

Dworok led the scoring parade with 17 points for the Taus while Jensen racked up 6 for the Phi Gams.
