

Ragged Edges

Weekends—you either catch up on all the sleep you've missed all week or you miss more.

Jo Ann Moyer, Theta, is one of those who is going to miss more sleep. Lt. Tom Cleveland arrived Saturday to spend two days of his furlough with her before going overseas.

The DG-Beta hour dance dance was a big success, at least as far as Jim Protzman and Phyl McLaren are concerned. They kept right on with the fun after the dance was over.

Friday night saw Alpha Xi Connie Larson and Rudy Srb, Phi Psi, hurrying up to the Dorm before the 12:30 deadline. Jo Ann Srb, AOPi, was having fun with Sig Ep Al Halmes. Jo Ann and Rudy are one brother and sister team that doesn't believe in double-dating.

Unusual Twosomes.

Some of the queerest twosomes turned up Friday night. ATO Bob Brown was with Pat Gilligan, Alpha Phi, while Pat's usual date ATO Bob Buxton, was with Kappa Mary Ann Lofink. ATO Chick Neal seems to have changed his mind and decided to date more than one girl. He was escorting Alpha Chi Lilla Latham. ATO John Sticknot was seen around with Theta Lucille Hosman. The deal between Theta Gretchen Smith and Beta Dean Neill still seems to be going strong. They were together again Friday night.

The Real Thing.

Tri Delt Janice Pauley is pinned, engaged, and all up in the air over Ensign Keith Atkinson, former Sigma Nu on the campus. Another Tri Delt, Ginny Eberle, who is not the excitable type, is more than casually interested in Lt. (j.g.) Mart Laurinett. Kappa Georgianne Dow now wears the Lamada Chi pin of Lt. Ed Vaughn from Nevada.

The Alpha Chi's, or to be more specific — Kay Trenchard — are anxiously awaiting the arrival of Kay's pinmate, Lt. 'Hap' Potter on Tuesday. Candy is in order now that 'Hap' has returned from almost a year overseas.

The dates between Leo Beck, Phi Delt, and Kappa Pat Raun are getting more numerous. They were together again Saturday night. Something real steady may come of this yet.

Speaking of Phi Delt—who was the girl at the Pi Phi house who screamed, "Help, there's a Phi Delt here!" You'd think she would be used to Phi Delt by now.

Cpl. P. R. Duncan Dies in Germany On February 28

Cpl. Pierce R. Duncan, former university student, was killed in action Feb. 28, while serving with an infantry division of the Ninth army in Germany. The war department informed his mother, Mrs. Pierce Duncan, that he was buried in Holland. He had previously been reported missing in action.

While in service he was awarded the combat infantryman badge and a presidential unit citation.

Corporal Duncan graduated from Lincoln high school in 1942, and attended the university before entering the service in April, 1943. He was sent overseas in September, 1944.

fied "expert judges of art," before being purchased. Twelve different advisors have been invited to serve since the funds for purchase became available. A system of rotation has been developed, so that one of the advisors each year will be familiar with the collections and procedures. Advisors have been or are museum directors or curators, art critics of periodicals, heads of other art departments, and in one case, a trustee and advisor for a similar trust fund. This year's advisors were Frederick M. Sweet, associate curator of painting and sculpture at the Art Institute of Chicago, who has returned for the third successive year, and Philip Adams, director of the Columbus, Ohio Gallery of Fine Arts.

Intensive Study.

Intensive study and preliminary selection precedes the visit of the two experts to Lincoln. First, the finest available selection of contemporary art is brought to Lincoln each year in the annual show of the Nebraska Art association, during March. The study of all works in this exhibition for at least two weeks is important to the preliminary voting on recommendations. Two authorized groups do this sifting; the faculty of the department of art and the trustees of the Nebraska Art association.

The policy of confining the purchase to American art and more especially to works of living artists has had gratifying results, for the Nebraska collection has been generally acclaimed as one of the best representations of contemporary American art. Other institutions are known to be following this Nebraska plan as a part of the general movement which has resulted in the deserved recognition and support of living American Artists.

Invaluable Collection.

The Hall collection, supplemented by the best works from other collections at the university, has become an invaluable study collection. It is in constant use for art classes to illustrate lectures such as the extension series on "Living Art" of the past season, and for comparative exhibitions. For example, the development of American art since the early 19th century can now be illustrated by originals; the different painting techniques, such as oil, tempera, encaustic, Casein, Gouache and water color; also the different drawing and print-making process. The sculpture collection, of slower growth, now includes modern examples in bronze, wood, stone and ceramics, and a range of styles from pure realism to decorative and abstract treatments.

Prof. L. B. Smith, chairman of the department of architecture, is in Scottsbluff advising with local people on problems in city planning of their parks system. He returns to Lincoln Sunday.
