

Dr. L. Lyon Addresses Graduates

Dr. Leverett S. Lyon, noted Chicago economist, will deliver the commencement address at the University of Nebraska on Monday, May 21, it was announced today.

Widely known throughout the country, Dr. Lyon is chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce. He formerly was connected with the University of Chicago and with Washington University. Later, he was executive vice president of the Brookings Institute.

Widely travelled, the Chicago man was a member of the United States delegation to the International Congress on Business Education at Amsterdam in 1929. He is also widely known for his writings on economic affairs.

Theatre's Final Play Blusters In on April 26

BY WALLY BECKER.

Swirling in on a shrill gale from the moors of Yorkshire and blustering in fierce gusts about the eaves of Temple comes the final play of the University Players' season, MOOR BORN, April 26.

MOOR BORN is high drama; always intense, at times tragic. It is a portrait of the Bronte sisters, those brilliant and strange English novelists who poured out their hearts in "Jane Eyre," "Wuthering Heights" and "Villette." In 1845 in the poverty-stricken parsonage of Haworth, England, Charlotte, Emily and Anne Bronte stopped their ears to the fiery incantations of their father, shut their eyes to the debaucheries of their brother, Branwell, and ran, arm-in-arm, across the moors, their solace and their inspiration.

Spineless Branwell.

Gene Housy plays the gifted and spineless Branwell Bronte, who slowly dissipates his literary genius thru drink, to rob the world of what might well have been the chief of all English novelists. Housy's sisters are Lucy Ann Hapeman, who panicked 'em as the gossip neighbor in "Papa Is All," Gloria Beaumont, outstanding as Oparre in "The Wingless Victory"; and Margaret Hunter as Anne Bronte.

Blanche Duckworth ("I'm typed") portrays the Yorkshire maid; Miss Duckworth was the wardrobe maid in "The Skin of Our Teeth." Tabby, ailing and

(THEATRE, see page 3)

Lt. W. Dahlstedt, Former Student, Dies in Germany

Lt. Wayne W. Dahlstedt, former student, was killed in action in Germany on March 31, his parents and wife have been notified.

Lieutenant Dahlstedt, a graduate of York college, received his master's degree at the University of Nebraska in 1941. During this time he worked as a reporter on The Journal. Later he became an assistant professor at the University of Illinois, where he was working toward a Ph.D. degree.

Dahlstedt entered the army two years ago, and was with an infantry unit of the Seventh army.

Honors Convo Programs
Honors Convocation programs are available to all students in the Student Affairs office, Administration building, according to Dean Thompson.

Awgwan Issue Emerges From Hiding Place

Second and best issue of the Awgwan will burst into circulation during the first of next week, according to several rumors received from sources close to semi-official spokesmen for the editorial staff.

Announcing for the first time his monumental discovery of the real purpose of the watch tower on top of Love Library, Curtis Elliott will make his maiden contribution to the campus humor (?) magazine.

Dewey Ganzel presents an expose of the AWS activity points system in "Case 0576A." The Awgwan staff itself, however, apologizes for it saying, "We are still trying to find out just exactly what it's about."

In the same issue, Bill Miller makes an erudite effort to explain and amplify recent complicated Student Council rulings for the benefit of confused subscribers.

Tassels Initiate 24 New Pledges Friday Evening

Twenty-four pledges will be initiated into Tassels following their annual banquet Friday night at 8:15 in the Cornhusker hotel. Mary Russel, past president, will perform the initiation ceremony.

In the absence of newly-elected president, Gerry McKinsey, Suzanne Pope will act as toastmistress. An award will be given to the member having earned the most activity merits during the past year and all members who have completed a year's service will be presented with chevrons.

Pledges earned their merits by working on rally committees, selling War Stamps, Cornhuskers, and tickets.

Those to be initiated are: Marie Abraham, Marilyn Behm, Mary Cox, Roberta Collins, Julia Crom, Virginia Demel, Donna Eihlers, Barbara Emerson, Joy Hill, Midge Holtzschler, Betty Lou Horton, Mimi Ann Johnson, Colleen Kahoa, Elizabeth Kentopp, Claire Kepler, Gerry McKinsey, Leslie Metheny, Ethelyn Leshinsky, Alice Rife, Jackie Scott, Kathleen Schaecher, Merrill Shutt, Caroline Wright, and Lois Oppen.

Union Weekend Activities Include Juke Box Dances

Two juke box dances today appear as the first activity of this week end's activities. The first will be from 4-6 and the other from 9-11:30.

Since the faculty are having their dance Saturday night there is nothing planned for student entertainment.

Old time silent pictures featuring Laurel and Hardy, Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd will be shown Sunday afternoon at 3 in the ballroom with popcorn and peanuts providing the atmosphere. Peg Shelly's piano playing will pass the time between reels.

Boucher Leaves On Week's Trip To Washington

Chancellor C. S. Boucher of the University of Nebraska left Lincoln for Washington, D. C., Tuesday evening and will return next Tuesday.

He has appointments on matters of business in Washington that concern both the university and the Association of Lang-Grant Colleges and Universities, of which he is president.

Ag Day Reveals New Goddess

UN Celebrates Annual Ivy Day In Coliseum

The annual Ivy Day program, to be presented May 5, will be held in the university coliseum, according to an announcement made today by Anne Wellensiek, chairman of proceedings.

The affair is being held inside by necessity, according to the planning committee. Due to the manpower shortage, the university is unable to obtain enough men to set up the throne and bleachers for the presentation. "Every effort will be made to present a lovely ceremony, despite the fact that it must be held indoors," stated Miss Wellensiek.

Ivy Day Poet.

Coeds are urged to enter the Ivy Day poet contest, being sponsored by the Mortar Boards in connection with the tradition, which has not been a part of the ceremony since 1942.

All those who compete must turn in three unsigned copies of their manuscript accompanied by a sealed envelope containing their name. The poem must be relevant to Ivy Day proceedings and traditions and is to be taken to Pat Lahr at the Union office before Tuesday noon, April 24.

Coed Counselors Initiate 85 New Members Sunday

Eighty-five university coeds will be initiated as new Coed Counselors Sunday afternoon at 3:00 in a ceremony to be held at Ellen Smith hall, the Coed Counselor board announced today.

Of the 150 coed's who submitted applications, 85 were chosen on the basis of personality, scholastic average, interest and attitude toward the work of the counselors.

Those who will be initiated are asked to wear pastel clothes. Annual dues for the organization are 50 cents, payable at the time of initiation

New Coed Counselors are listed as follows:

Barbara Pyles, Lillian Soderberg, Marjorie Reynolds, Doris Ann Chamberlain, Neta Bellinger, Gloria Eberhardt, Marilyn Swanson, Lee Drohn, Colleen Kahoa, Bernice Zajcek, Helen Wulf, Margaret Dressler, Adele Baum, Bonnie Voss, Marcella Holcomb, Betty Jean Holcomb, Ruth Peters, Ruth Anne Medaris.

Becky Allen, Virginia Buckingham, Faye Shimerda, Mary Cox, Olive Pope, Geraldine Gowen, Beverly Swartwood, Sally Yoder, Ava Bromwich, Jackie Eagleton, Be Heckelively, Gladys Grothe, Maurine Evnen, Lois Fritze, Sally O'Shea, Doris Hoffer, Dorothy Hoffer, Jane Mudge, Marcia Lee Civin, Shirley Stuben, Betsey Bakensky, Arlis Swanson.

Marilyn Markussen, Margaret Ann Arndt, Wilma Fraser, Lois Bareiman, Jane Clark, Nancy Garey, Shirley Schmitt, Jean Bogan, Elizabeth Curley, Mary Lou Van Burg, Doris Easterbrook, Virginia Hall, Dorothea Duxbury, Harriett Quinn, Margaret Stoddard, Jo Ann Moyer, Marilyn Stevens, Grace Heins, Mary Dye, Joan Fankhauser, Mary Jo Tripp, Marjorie Ericson.

Jackie Tobin, Marjorie Thompson, Elaine Amussen, Martha Clark, Jackie Andrews, Natalie Newcomer, Donna Wagner, Joyce Geddes, Jackie Gordon, Marjorie Barney, Pat Neely, Janice Chappel, Shirley Compton, Janice Fairchild, Phyllis Synder, Lorraine Zahn, Margaret Huff, Barbara Jo Jenkins, Beverly Jackson, Sylvia Lasher, Ardith Smith, Irma Martin, Marcia Mockett, Imogene Kehn, Geraldine Olinger, Shirley Premer, Lucille Manning.

Coeds Wrap Nebraskans For Servicemen April 24
Nebraskans for Service Men will be wrapped Tuesday night, April 24, at the Nebraska office from 7 to 9 p. m. Everyone who signed up to wrap the service men's issues are requested to come for the two remaining issues.

Royalty Reigns on Ag Campus Tomorrow Afternoon at 4:00

Annual presentation of the Goddess of Agriculture and her six senior attendants will climax the Ag Day program being held tomorrow on ag campus. The presentation will take place at 4:00 p. m. on the natural stage, east campus, followed by a picnic for ag students.

The program has been planned to take place of the annual Farmer's Fair, held by a retired agriculture college.

The Fair of former years was accompanied by tradition and fanfare, including open house, singing, games, exhibits, a parade and a dance in the evening.

The goddess and her senior attendants, elected by home economics coeds, will be revealed in a ceremony which will be kept secret until the presentation. The program includes a history of ag college thru the various stages of development, special music and folk dancing.

Committees.

Laurel Adams and Eleanor Johnson are co-chairman in charge of the presentation of the goddess. Other committees include:

(ROYALTY, see page 4)

Cornhuskers Dance at 'Final Fling' April 27

With Bobby Sherwood's name band providing the music, the Cornhusker's Final Fling, sponsored by the Fraternity Advisory Board, will be held Friday night, April 27, in the coliseum. The ball is open to the public, with students, Lincoln residents, and men stationed at the Lincoln Army Air Field invited.

Bobby Sherwood's band, which has just made several new records not released yet, recently returned from a West Coast tour, and ranks along with Les Brown and Harry James, according to Boyd Hecht, member of campus committee, planning the dance.

Tickets for the dance will be sold at $2.40.

Dorm Celebrates First Open House At 7:30 Tonight

Tonight the dorm will open its doors to all civilian men students. The time of the affair has been changed to 7:30 instead of 7 and will last until 9:30.

Hostesses will be on hand to show the men around the various rooms. Coeds will also be downstairs in the ballroom where dancing will be going on all evening. Amber Hasty, social chairman of the residence halls, urges all men to come as it will be their only chance to have a thorough view of the dorm interior.

Bonnie Compton Receives Mu Phi Freshman Award

Bonnie Jeanne Compton, recently received the Mu Phi Epsilon $25 award for this year. Annually Mu Phi Epsilon music sorority gives this award to the outstanding freshman girl who has been high in scholastic and performing abilities in the school of music.

Miss Compton is a piano major at the university school of fine arts. At the music school scholarship concert, April 30, she will receive her award.

Dr. Paul Becker Speaks at Third Marriage Series

Third in the YW marriage series will be held Wednesday, April 25, at 5 p. m., in Ellen Smith hall with Dr. Paul Becker, pastor of Bethany Christian church, as guest speaker.

Dr. Becker will address students on the part that religion plays in marriage. The title of his address will appear in the next issue of the Nebraskan.

The regular time for the services has been changed from Tuesday evening to Wednesday afternoon, and the two remaining discussions in the series will be held at this time.

City Churches Vary Activities For Weekend

Featuring church activities for the week-end are a picnic at Antelope park, a discussion of the relation of science to religion, and a forum on the conflicting views of economic planners and advocates of unrestrained enterprise.

There is to be a cabinet meeting at 5 Sunday evening in the Presbyterian Student House.

Rev. Hage of York, will preside over the fireside forum at 5:30 talking on "Can We Have Democratic Planning?" and the book, "The Road to Serfdom." The Fellowship lunch will follow at 6:30.

Dr. Walter Miltzer, Assistant Professor of Chemistry at the university will speak at the Baptist services Sunday morning. His topic is entitled, "Does Science In Any Way Support Fundamental Religious Teaching?" The regular supper will be at 6:30 with Geraldine Sowden leading the Worship Service at 7.

The Evangelical church will hold its regular Sunday services. The topic of the sermon is "Peace

(CHURCHES, see page 4)

Tassel Vacancies Open to Eligible Ag, Barb Coeds

Barb and ag-at-large vacancies for Tassel are now open to coeds who have an 80 average, who have carried at least 12 hours this semester and will have completed 24 hours by the end of the semester.

Gerry McKinsey, Tassel president, says that coeds on this campus wishing to file should turn their names in at Ellen Smith Hall in the Dean of Women's office by Wednesday, April 2 at 5 p. m. Coeds on the Ag campus may file at Ag Hall in the Finance office.

24

More Days
'Til Finals