

Ag Campus Party Features Mixers, Dancing Tonite

Folk dancing, mixers and refreshments will be the main attraction at the "All Ag Party" held tonight at 8:30 p. m. in the student activities building.

This party, planned by the faculty and students on the ag campus, is taking the place of two other annual parties, and will better acquaint students with future campus functions.

To insure the durability and efficiency of fluorescent lamps, they should be washed with soap and water at least once a month.

Council Sponsors Dance in Union Ballroom Tonight

The first affair scheduled for Union activities this week end will be a dance sponsored by the War Council held in the Union ballroom tonight at 9:00. Saturday night Ray Bauduc will play at the coliseum from 9 to 12.

"The Phantom Lady," with Ella Raines, Franchoe Tone and Alan Curtis, is the title of the movie that will be shown Sunday afternoon in the Union ballroom at 3:00 p. m.

Coffee hour will be held in the lounge from 5:00 to 6:00 and Peg Shelly will play during the hour.

Choral Groups Open Sections To All Men

Choral groups of the university are desperately in need of men, both bass and tenor, to make the organizations successful, according to Arthur E. Westbrook, director of the school of music.

"The majority of students have the wrong impression of the choral groups," said Dr. Westbrook. "They seem to think they are not qualified to enter such an organization. I'll wager that 75 percent of the students attending the university are capable of taking part in the chorus. They need not have previous experience at all."

Extra Credit

Dr. Westbrook urges anyone needing extra credit to participate in the group or those who do not care about credit and want the experience to sing in the choral groups.

All choral groups, including the one at ag college, will be combined for the annual Messiah concert to be held at the coliseum December 9.

Rehearsals and try-outs will be held at 7:15 p. m. on Thursdays and 5 p. m. on Thursdays.

Six basses are also badly needed in University Singers, according to Dr. Westbrook.

'Prairie Schooner' Autumn Issue Rolls Off Press

The "Prairie Schooner" university literary quarterly, came off the press early this week.

The new fall issue contains ten articles, one of which is by Dr. David Fellman, university professor who is on a leave of absence while serving in a government position in Italy. His article is entitled, "What Is Liberalism?" Loren C. Eiseley, alumnus of the university, has written a scientific article for the issue entitled, "There Were Giants."

There are also short stories and a number of poems which were selected from more than 600 manuscripts submitted to Editor Lowry Charles Wimberly, professor of English.

Four Sororities Win Cornhuskers

Four organized houses have won free Cornhuskers so far, for being the first to have the most pictures taken during the scheduled time, announced Jackie Scott, in charge of women's divisions of the book.

Fashion Stresses Individual Styles In Fall Wardrobe

BY PHEE MORTLOCK.

The day is dawning when manufacturers realize that Miss College of '46 may be petite, medium-sized, or downright tall, lean and lanky. Gone are the days of ONE dress for every gal. . . . the individualist is coming into her own! Today it is just as smart to be tiny and know how to dress your own diminutive form as it is to tower above the average man garbed in wierd, exotic fashions.

First on the date shift is the Saks Fifth Avenue sidedrape design, tops on the fashion list this year. Featured in whisper-soft wool, the dress may be had in amber, blue, black or ruby.

Here Comes the Navy.

Anyone with the slightest prejudice for the navy (who hasn't?) will love wearing the campus love, the Season Skipper . . . a year 'round coat which really turns in yoemen service. For versatility the Skipper can't be beat!

Crisply colored in autumn shades, and tailored straight from Hart, Shafener & Marx heaven, the new fall suit dress gladdens many an eye. Gracefully nipped in at the waist, the dress is accentuated by gay saddle stitching.

Humming "You Were Never Lovelier," her nothing but attentive swain admires today's coed in her free-flowing Nardis of Dallas frock. Belted snugly in, the mode flatters her slim figure and the different shades of rose, aqua, lime and navy, can't help but compliment her smilin' face.

Sigma Nu Pledges Twenty-two Men

Following is the complete Sigma Nu pledge list, which was incorrectly printed last week:

- SIGMA NU PLEDGE LIST

Alpha Omicron Pi and Alpha Xi Delta each won a free year-book last week and Gamma Phi Beta and Delta Gamma were the first ones with the most pictures taken this week. The Cornhusker studio is on the sixth floor of Millers.

Ragged Edges

By Bet King.

The throbbing rhythm of Ray Bauduc and his orchestra is already being felt on the campus. Sigma Nu and Innocent Paul Swaboda has captured the interest of key girl, June Korb with a date to hear the drummer-man Saturday night . . . as if he didn't have her undivided attention already. Dating each other most every night would seem to indicate some interest, don't you think? Theta Toby Gass will be twirling with ex-Lincoln high man Irv. Dana. Chances are that sister Theta, Sue Lancaster, will be seen with T-Bone Burton, furloughing Beta. What better way to spend a furlough! Alpha Chi Tibby Curley and SAE Harris Graves are planning on a lot of fun. Sister "Cac" Curley will be enjoying the whole deal with Lowell Anderson.

Worth Watching.

The Sig Eps have been complaining that since Irish O'Connor met pert Gamma Phi Marilyn Duffack they can't get him to come down to earth. From Gamma Phi reports, the feeling is mutual. Speaking of duos, has anyone ever seen Tri Delt Mary Cox without Rex Boyd, the All-Tired-Outer?

Chuck Gleason keeps his affections confined to the same house. Since Kappa Kathy Schaeer returned his diamond his dates have been with Kappa pledge, Virginia Walter.

Clock Watcher.

Finally we've discovered why DGee Lois Chantry is always so anxious for cheerleader practice to begin on time. It isn't because she just likes punctuality—Beta Dean Neill always meets her when practice is over. Still in the cheerleading section, Yell King Bernie Ulrich's pinmate came up to dance with him last Saturday night. A reward for his good leadership at the game?

Alpha Xi Doc Olson got the surprise of her life the other day when her lieutenant, Chuck Greenwood popped up in civilian clothes. That's proof of reconversion. Gamma Phi Mary Le Doyt's soldierman may not be able to surprise her by turning up in civvies, but he manages to keep himself on her mind. The method is a long distance phone call from Rome, Italy.

Some of these campus twosomes actually become permanent. 'Finstance, Chi O Kathleen Brickell and Harold Harshaw, Sig Ep, who are marrying in November. That's worth pondering on.

Dr. Poynter Talks To Med Students

Dean C. W. Poynter of the university medical school at Omaha pointed out the postwar problems and needs of the medical profession in a talk to pre-med students at the Nu-med banquet Wednesday night.

Declaring that more doctors will be needed in the postwar emergency, Dr. Poynter also emphasized that federal subsidies could assist local communities in promoting hospitalization.

Faculty members were introduced. Grace Heins, president of the organization, discussed membership in the society and announced later programs.

The trend toward democratic administration of education will be illustrated at the Pittsburg Teachers College, Pittsburg, Kansas, this fall. About 50 students will be appointed to various faculty committees in a reorganization of committees, Dr. Paul Murphy, dean of administration, said. The students will be chosen by and from members of the student council to sit on committees with faculty members.
