

Jayhawk Ace Hurt; Husker Hopes Mount

Husker hopes for a victory over Kansas received a decided boost when it was learned that Leroy Robison, potent Jayhawk tailback, suffered a broken collarbone in the Wichita encounter last Saturday and will play no more football this season.

In addition to the loss of Robison, the Lawrence eleven is faced with the possible loss of regular center Wayne Hird, who came out of the Wheat socker game with a twisted knee. With these two stalwarts, the Kansas attack will be hampered.

In the Nebraska camp work went on to increase the speed of the Husker backfield. Too often the line has opened up gaping holes in the opposing defenses, only to find that Nebraska backs have lacked the speed needed to break into the secondary before the holes have closed.

Fischer to Backfield.
With this in mind, Patsy Clark has shuffled his backfield combination and will probably open against Kansas with Cletus Fischer in the tailback spot. Fischer has recovered from a knee injury and will return to the backfield after a time at the center position. Other backfield starters will probably be Gerry Moore, Dick Skog and Chick Story.

The line is apparently set, after showing well in the Missouri game, with Kipper and Sailors at ends, Tegt and Sedlacek at tackles Lorenz and Hoy at the guards, and Bob Costello, converted backfield man, at the center post.

Table Tennis Team Matches Take Up Nov. 8

Taking over the intramural spotlight temporarily, table tennis competition begins Thursday, November 8, with each organization represented by five contestants.

Match winners in the single elimination tourney will be determined by the best two out of three games. The first six teams will be determined in final standings for supremacy points.

The deadline for entries to be turned in to Intramural Director Lou Means is Friday, November 2. Matches will be held in the basement of the coliseum.

Cold Intramural Contest Begins

The first intramural Nebraska ball tournament of the year starts today with 14 teams scheduled to play today and Thursday. The games are being played at Grant Memorial and are open to spectators.

This week's schedule is:
Wednesday:
Chi O vs Rosa Bouton
D. G.(2) vs Alpha Chi(1)
Kappa(2) vs Theta(1)
Thursday:
Gamma Phi(3) vs Dorm(2)
Pi Phi(2) vs Tri Delt(1)
Gamma Phi(3) vs Kappa(1)
Pi Phi(3) vs Howard Hall

HUSKER HIGHLIGHTS

By George Miller

After their third straight conference defeat, the Huskers are working this week for more backfield speed. Speed—speed and more speed is the greatest need of the Nebraska grid machine and Coach Patsy Clark is concentrating on this essential factor as he readys the squad for the Kansas Jayhawks this Saturday.

It's been 29 years since the Kansans have defeated a Nebraska team in Lincoln, and with a Homecoming crowd to cheer them on, the Huskers will be out for the Jayhawks' pinfeathers.

The frequency of upsets has made football forecasting a hazardous occupation, what with Minnesota, Purdue, USC and Texas meeting defeat for the first time last Saturday. Ranks of undefeated will be further depleted on November 3, with Note Dame meeting Navy in the national feature tilt.

John Kekeris, giant Missouri tackle, seems a bit bewildered over the way he is being treated by conference referees. Last Saturday's ejection marked the third straight week in which Kekeris' activity has been curtailed by official action. Jumbo John pleads innocence on all counts, saying that he was merely doing his duty when Johnny Sedlacek, Husker tackle, walked up and slugged him.

Even though 285 pounds is a lot for any player to tote, John seems to go at his chores a little too viciously, for three ejections are too many to be termed a coincidence.

Big Six honors will probably be decided on November 17, when Oklahoma and Missouri clash at Columbia. On the preceding Saturday the Sooners face the Iowa State Cyclones.

IM Football Crown Goes To Phi Gams

Phi Gamma Delta won the 1945 intramural football championship Monday when they scored on a sleeper on the second play of the game to eke out a 6-0 triumph over Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Jim Myers, former York high school star who has paced the undefeated Phi Gams thru their eight-game schedule, tossed the pass to Hughes in the end zone. The Sig Alphas, in losing their first game, twice moved to the Gam seven-yard line but couldn't score.

Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta moved into a second-place tie as a result of Monday night's
