Hubba—Hubba

Dear Editor:

Hubba,-Hubba, talk about Roomer. This university has got it all over any army camp I was ever at. Ever since I have went back to school, there is never nothing but roomers about what is happening or is going to happen all over the place.

Sometimes they is tru, to. I heard that Ellsworth Doo Tell of the alums office was going to resine, and durned if he didn't. Then i also heard that at the January meeting of the Bord of Rejents that Mr. Boucher was going to resine. May be I can apply for the job of chanselor becuz this place sur does need one that will reely bild up Nebraska.

Of course, I ain't in so solid with the commanding officurs of the place.

And my girl Slippy has been telling me some mor roomers that in't so to good. She (Slippy) says that the deen of woman is going to pass some mor rools for the cow-eds at Nebraska, as if they ain't got too many allready. She (Slippy) says that the deen of woman is going to make some rools that the girls on the kampus cant be in the lawns of the man's houses untill after five clock in the afternune and that the men cant be on the lawns of the girls house until after five o'clock in the afternune either. And she (Slippy) says besides that the deen is going to make a rool that no girls cant have appointments with no men on weak nights, and by gum, I have got to see her (Slippy) more offen than on strong nights which only cums at the end of ever weak.

The consitootion says that no one cant be depraved of life, liberty or the pursoot of happiness without do process of law, and I will be durned if I can see how the deen is do process of law. Me and her (Slippy) is just pursooing a little innosent happiness on weak nites and it ain't right for anywon to take it away from us. I been told that the WSA bord is the won that makes the rools for the women, but i gess they is only the top sarjunt and that they has a c. o. ever them to ishue the artikles of war.

I gess the cow-eds is going to haf to organize to stand up for her rites or else they is going go to haf to be in at five clock every day and that sur is going to be tuff on the pursoot of happiness, but i gess that cow-eds just isn't supposed to have any life, liberty or pursoot of happiness in linkon.

And then their is mor roomers, too, but i gess they is just latrine gossip.

Pfc. (Ex) Bradley Franklin

Awgwan Sets False Alarm Date Monday

BY ELLIE SWANSON.

False alarms are prevalent on this campus. For this reason one should never become unduly alarmed when panic-mongers spread malicious scandal which is more likely than not to be untrue.

However, there is always a chance that something will develop from this wicked chatter, so, rather than have a hideous doom descend upon the campus without any forewarning, The Nebraskan wishes to make the following statement. THE AWGWAN MAY COME OUT MONDAY.

Humor???

The Awgwan, for the benefit of those not already schooled in this tragedy, is a humor magazine? We presume that if "it" is pushed upon us Monday, it will undoubtedly contain droolery equal to last month's issue. The so-called staff frightens us with the ominous news that "Tripammer Peepash," "Samuel Pepsin," and George Tierney Shestak will continue their presumptuous observations of campus habiture.

This admonition, we hope, is enough. We have slight faith that it will appear Monday, but if it does, don't say you weren't warned.

SOIL CONVERSATION

By Don Grube

Collapse in a comfortable chair, friends, then light a cigarette and relax while I swing the doors of Navy Hall.

The atomic bomb has not yet assumed the importance for NRO students that the bulletin board has. We struggle to reach it between classes. We kick aside bodies, which have been trampled on in the rush, in order to cast our eyes on the most astounding news ever printed. People lose sleep composing some of the more "amazing" notices. We expect anything, and are seldom disappointed. The discussions of these groups that continually gather around are intelligent and cover a large range of subjects . . . everything from girls to sororities. . .

One of the boys found a bottle of "rare musty" wine in his locker a few nights ago, but he still contends that it wasn't his . . . I believe you Harold . . . and thanks. . .

She's red-headed and glamorous . . . her name is Joyce Smith and she has been seen recently with Leo Schneider . . . they are going on a hay rack ride Friday night . . . dress warm kids . . . Never has a song received as much publicity by the experimentation method as has "A Kiss Goodnight" . . . the lab hours donated to that number are absolutely astounding. . . If you are wondering why this apparently foreign article is appearing in the Navy column, ask Mr. Hering. . . "Sue" of Kappa fame has some of the Navy men in a dither . . . doesn't she "Mac" . . . she also had one in the Union music room one afternoon listening? ? ? to

LETTERIP

Miss Leslie Glotfelty
Nebraskan Office
Student Union

Dear Leslie:

This verbal bouquet is a trifle belated, but none the less sincere. I had intended writing you at the very beginning of the week to tell you what a grand job The Nebraskan, the Tassels, the cheerleaders and the student body did to make the 1945 Homecoming one of the most thrilling and one of the biggest in many years.

A rather heavy schedule of events delayed this writing, but I am now taking the opportunity to commend you and the student body for the inspiring demonstration of student spirit that prevailed over the campus last week. The rallies, the parades, the singing, the cheering, could not help inspiring the team to go out there and win a game for the students, for the university and for Nebraska. They did just that and to them, also, must go a "snappy" salute.

Cordially yours,
E. F. DuTeau
National Secretary
Director of Alumni Activities

Beethoven. . . Dick Preeby, featured trumpeter with the NRO band, is beginning to feel "that way" about Ann Frost. . . Bill Ledbetter broke up the lovely blonde Bonnie this week and claims that he loves her so much that he is afraid to date her anymore. . . That probably has happened before. . .

HEADS GOT TOGETHER

RESULT: MORE TRANSCONTINENTAL TELEPHONE CIRCUITS

With wire scarce and wartime calls increasing, telephone engineers made existing pairs of long distance wires carry nearly four times as many calls as before. This was done through installation of additional carrier equipment, requiring closer spacing of the wires on the line and transpositions at shorter intervals.

Three pairs on the Southern Transcontinental Route were rearranged, and in a 430-mile section this had to be done while keeping the urgently needed wires in service all the time. To do this, new tools and new methods had to be devised in the laboratories and on the job.

This is another among many examples of how Bell System teamwork and engineering skills maintained telephone service under wartime conditions.

Organized Group Representatives Attend MB Lunch

Presidents and representatives from organized campus groups will attend a leadership luncheon given by members of Mortar Board Monday noon in parlors XYZ of the Union.

Edith Pumphrey, chairman, asks that any organization which has not received an invitation contact her immediately. Invitations were sent to organized houses, university groups and religious organizations.

Leadership.

The president and any other member the organization wishes to send may attend the luncheon, which is being sponsored to coordinate campus activities and to promote leadership.

Blake Smith, appearing on the campus during Religious Emphasis week, will speak to the group.
