

HUSKER HIGHLIGHTS

By George Miller

Turning once more to the football wars of the week, we find that the Big Six championship will be decided Saturday at Columbia when Oklahoma and Missouri collide, matching unspotted conference records for the top spot.

The Sooners, with a conference record of four wins and no losses, concludes their Big Six play against Missouri, while the Tigers have two games left to play. After Saturday's game Missouri meets the Kansas Jayhawks in a Thanksgiving Day clash at Kansas City.

Oklahoma has been facing rugged opposition this year and should tame the Tigers to rack up their third consecutive Big Six crown. The loss of starting fullback Jack O'Connell did not help Missouri hopes.

Nebraska scorers get a chance to add to their totals Saturday against the University of South Dakota. The Coyotes have yet to win a game this year, and will be easy pickings for the Huskers who have been running up against strong foes all year.

Kansas and Kansas State battle for the cellar position at Lawrence, and the Jayhawks look to be stronger than the unpredictable Wildcats.

The other Big Six team, Iowa State, also faces a home state opponent, for the Cyclones battle

Drake University in the season's finale for the Ames eleven.

Michigan and Purdue meet in a Big Ten feature, and we like the Boilermakers. This will be a definite upset if the win materializes, but the Wolverines took a bad beating from Navy and may not be back in peak form.

Indiana finds an easy win against Pittsburgh, Illinois and Ohio State will be close all the way, but the Buckeyes should retain their spot near the top of the standings. Notre Dame has enough strength left to edge Northwestern, Wisconsin to fall before Navy and Minnesota ought to get back on the winning side against Iowa University.

Space is at a premium, so in condensed form: Brown over Harvard, Army over Penn, Cornell over Dartmouth, Holy Cross over Temple, and Virginia over Maryland.

In the South, Tulane over Clemson, Wake Forest over North Carolina, Georgia Tech over Louisiana State, Texas over T. C. U. and Texas A. & M. over Rice.

St. Mary's over UCLA, California over Oregon, Great Lakes over Fort Warren, Tulsa over Baylor and Marquette over Kentucky.

Miller Beats Barrett For Net Honors

Dick Miller of Pioneer Co-Op ran away with the 1945 intramural crown with a straight set victory over Beta Bill Barrett in the final match Tuesday, the scores being 6-2, 6-1.

Miller's outstanding play at the net proved the deciding factor as he won the closely-fought contest. Barrett, state prep doubles champ last year, repeatedly worked the game to deuce but couldn't top Miller's brilliant play.

Beta Theta Pi edged Pioneer by one point to win the team championship. Betas Cressman, Busch and Barrett, victims of Miller's fine play in the final three rounds, earned the points necessary to bring the trophy to their house.

Alpha Tau Omega finished third, Phi-Delta Theta fourth, and Kappa Sigma and Delta Tau Delta fifth. A navy group was sixth.

Phi Delt Tie Betas For 2nd In Football

Phi Delta Theta earned a post-season second place tie in intramural football standings when a recheck of the completed schedule resulted in the discovery that Beta Theta Pi had played two games with Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Rules prohibit this occurrence and forced cancellation of the second contest between the two squads which Beta won on the last day of the season.

The "no game decision" gave the Beta outfit a 7 to 1 record and dropped them from their undisputed second place spot behind the all-victorious Phi Gams into a tie for runnerup honors with the Phi Delt. Two squads will split second and third place supremacy points in the Jack Best trophy race.
