

Nebraska Drubs Coyotes 52-29

Don Barry and Mulvaney Pace UN Scoring Spree

By George Miller.

With rangy Don Barry and stringbean Chuck Mulvaney leading the way, Nebraska chalked up a 52 to 29 victory over the University of South Dakota Tuesday night on the coliseum court as the Huskers showed their wares for the first time before a home crowd.

The contest was a ragged exhibition by both sides, for bad passes and numerous fouls marred the play.

After starting slowly, the Huskers found their basket eyes in the second half and pulled away from the smaller Coyotes, who were badly outplayed around both baskets.

Barry marked up a total of 16 points, and Mulvaney called it quits after potting ten markers for the Huskers. Joe Brown, N.R.O.T.C. member from Akron, O., was close behind with nine counters.

Game Capt. Fred Hecox started the scoring by sinking a pair of free throws, but from then on the score was knotted until the Huskers opened a narrow lead with two minutes left in the first half. At the end of the half the score stood 21 to 15 in favor of Nebraska.

Same Five Starts.

Coach Pop Klein opened the second half with the same combination that ended the first canto, and Barry, Cook, Story, Robinson and Mulvaney performed in firewagon style for a few minutes and put the Scarlet out in front to stay.

Thruout the second half the Sodaks' attack was completely stifled, and they managed to score only 14 points. Eight of these tallies came on free throws, as Husker second and third stringers took the floor.

Bob Korte, former Fairbury ace, showed to good advantage when he entered the game midway in the second half, while Jim Sandstedt steadied the Nebraska defense when the Coyotes threatened.

Tom Luby sparked what there was of the South Dakota attack with eight points and McRoden counted six times before he was banished via the five-foul route.

Benches Cleared.

Scorekeepers had a headache, for both coaches gave a lot of men a chance to perform. Fourteen Huskers participated in the fun, and Sodak Coach Rube Hoy sent a like number into the fray.

Next action for the Nebraska squad will come this week end at the four-team tournament in Kansas City. The Huskers will meet Missouri Friday night as a co-feature with the Kansas U.-Kansas State battle. Winners will play Saturday to decide the champion, while losers will meet in a consolation encounter. From Kansas City, the Scarlet will keep right on traveling, going to Iowa City Monday night to meet the highly-rated Iowa Hawkeyes.

IM Wrestlers Weigh In This Week for Bouts

The deadline is Thursday, December 13, at 5 o'clock.

All entries for the intramural all-university wrestling tourney must be turned in to Director Lou Means' office by that time. Contestants must weigh in from 4:00 to 6:00 on either Thursday or Friday, with a minimum of three pounds allowed over the weight limit. Pairings will be posted on the coliseum board Saturday morning and competition will get underway Monday, December 17.

Early entries for the event indicate that several football players will vie for honors in the heavier weight divisions, as well as a large group of naval trainees. Competition should be keen, particularly in the lighter divisions where there are few experienced wrestlers. Varsity lettermen are not eligible to compete.
