

Dean Henzlik Takes Trip To Convention

Frank E. Henzlik, Dean of Teacher's college, is attending a meeting of the National Association of College Departments of Education on February 19 and 20 at Kansas City, Kansas. Also convening there on the 20 and 21 of this month is the American Association of School Administration at which Dr. Henzlik will be present, accompanied by several of his colleagues, Dr. W. K. Beggs, Dr. W. H. S. Morton, Dr. J. M. Matzen and Dr. L. L. Chisholm.

Dean Henzlik will address the groups on two subjects, one concerning the practices and methods for recruiting students for teacher preparation and the other topic will be a discussion upon the proper procedure in selecting teachers.

Leaves for K. C.

Dean Henzlik left the university Tuesday for Kansas City to be present at the first convention and will be joined later by Drs. Matzen, Morton, Beggs and Chisholm.

On March 22 and 23 Dr. C. O. Wilson and Dr. J. G. Saylor of Teacher's college will visit an assemblage in St. Louis, Mo., for the Association for Supervision for Curriculum Developments. Also occurring in St. Louis on March 27 is a convocation for the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which Dr. R. C. Bedell, associate professor of educational psychology and measurements, will attend.

Halifax . . .

Pearl Harbor, he undertook the difficult task of keeping Britain and the U. S. completely unified in the war on the axis. This job he accomplished with equal success.

Halifax was not always so unpopular with the isolationists and appeasers. In 1938, after being Viceroy to India for five years, president of the Board of Education, secretary of war in Baldwin's cabinet (in World war I he was a colonel of the Yorkshire Dragoons), he was named Foreign Secretary to succeed Anthony Eden, who had resigned in protest over the Chamberlain appeasement policy. In this job he supported the ill-fated appeasement policy, which reached its peak with the Munich pact in 1938. However, there were indications that he did not so heartily subscribe to these policies, but instead suffered grave misgivings.

Speaks to People.

When war came, Lord Halifax tossed overboard all thoughts of appeasement or half-hearted victory. In a radio address to the British people in July, 1940, after Hitler called upon England to surrender, he said:

"We shall not stop fighting till freedom, for ourselves and others, is secure. We shall go forward, seeing clearly both the splendor and the perils of the task, but strengthened by the faith, thru which by God's help, we shall

These are noble words. Because he helped to carry them into action, they describe well what kind of a man Lord Halifax is.

The second semester mass meeting of the Student Foundation will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 in room 315 of the Union. Dean John Clark and Dean Sko-kan will speak. Margaret Neumann will explain the purpose of Student Foundation work.

The Foundation needs more workers, especially men, according to Miss Neumann and urges all students interested in publicizing the university to attend the meeting.

The work of the Student Foundation was begun in the spring of 1942 by John Douglas, Ronnie Metz, David Walcott and Preston Hayes.
