

Cyclones Conquer Big Six Track Conference

Iowa State's Cyclones, exhibiting well balanced team strength in all but one event, piled up 44 points and won their third straight Big Six Conference indoor track and field championship at Kansas City Saturday night.

Cyclones scored doubles in four of the first eight events, two of them firsts and seconds in the broad jump and 440 yard dash. The Iowans came in for points in all races, except the shot put contest.

Second Win.

Oklahoma clung to second place with 29 points and Nebraska came in third, totalling 23 1/2 tallies. Dean Kratz of Nebraska, seeking his third straight 880 yard run win and permanent possession of the Bill Lyda Memorial trophy, failed in his contest against Bob Jones, Iowa State, 2:02.2.

A record crowd of about 8,000 viewed the Cyclones win. Red-headed Bill Arlen of Iowa State copped his third straight Glenn Cunningham mile and war awarded permanent possession of the Cunningham trophy for the event named in honor of the famous Kansas miler of 13 years ago.

Early Hopes.

A one-two victory in the broad jump gave the Iowans a big push in overtaking Oklahoma's Sooners, leaders in the early events. Norm Pederson's record leap of 24 feet 1/8 inch won the event and his teammate, Ray Clar, grabbed second at 22 feet 3/8 inches.

Nebraska athletes placed in the following fashion: Norval Barker, defending king in both hurdles, finished fourth in the highs and third in the lows. Bobby Ginn, national collegiate mile champion in 1942, ended third in the two mile grind. Fritz Ware placed fourth in the broad jump with a leap of 21 feet 10 1/2 inches. Harvey Stroud tied Dick Spea of Kansas for fourth honors in the 440 yard dash.

Upsets.

Upset performances were the event of the evening. The only double winner was Oklahoma's Jon Sharp in the hurdles. The Sooners raked in four firsts. Kansas and Missouri who no individual championships. Cyclone winner, Dwayne Feekin set a new indoor record in the high jump—6 feet, 4 inches.

Teammate Whitey Pedersen also chalked up a new indoor record with his broad jump of 24 feet, 1/8 inches in the afternoon preliminaries. Another event winner for the Cyclones was the mile relay—Bill Arlen, Bill Rowland, Bob Jones and Jim Alexander.

Bulletin

The Rev. Thomas Payne, new Baptist student pastor, will meet with the Roger Williams Fellowship for the first time Sunday evening at 8 at the First Baptist church.

Creighton Med Students Leave Army Program

Army demobilization of medical students will take 96 men from Omaha's Creighton school of medicine in March, Dr. Charles M. Wilhelmj, dean of the school of medicine, announced Feb. 20.

The students, who are now in training while in uniform on an active status, were studying under the army specialized training program.

Underclassmen in the school will be transferred to the enlisted reserve corps and released from active military duty so they may complete their medical training as civilians in the reserve corps.

Go to Leavenworth.

The men will be sent to Fort Leavenworth, Kas., for discharge in March. Those who do not continue their studies will be transferred to other military duties and will then continue on active duty until they are discharged on the point system.

The seniors who receive their degrees by July 1, will be called to active duty as commissioned officers upon the completion of internships, the war department announced in Washington this week.

Farm Corporation Contributes Fund For Chemurgy

The Farm Crops Processing corporation of Omaha has contributed $6,400 for research work at the university, Perry Branch, University Foundation director announced yesterday.

The funds will be used in research on nutrition, molds and chicory, according to Branch.

Out of the sum $2,400 will be used by the department of agricultural chemistry, $2,000 by the department of bacteriology and $2,000 by the department of chemurgy. The money will be used primarily for graduate assistants and other assistance for research.

I saw the "Living Pictures" Saturday afternoon when university students were admitted to the rehearsal. The Sunday presentation is open to Nebraska Art association members only. For anyone who wants to see it then the membership to the association is five dollars. As for me I found the rehearsal quite the thing in that I was able to see the construction process in action, making up, lighting mechanics and all that goes into getting the final show ready.

UN Baseball Team To Play Twelve Game

Athletic Director Ad Lewandowski has announced that the Nebraska basketball squad will play a twelve game schedule this spring, with the first contest scheduled against the University of Colorado on April 5 in Lincoln.

Face Cyclones Four Times

The Huskers will play six games at home and six on the road, meeting Iowa State four times in home and home play. Other conference teams on the slate are Missouri and Oklahoma.

On April 12 and 13 the Nebraska team will be in Minneapolis to open the Gophers' season with a pair of clashes.

Coach Frank Smagacz has moved his squad to quarters in the fieldhouse, and is holding outdoor drills every afternoon in preparation for the full season of competition.

The schedule:

April 5 and 6, Colorado U. at Lincoln; April 12 and 13, Minnesota at Minneapolis; April 22 and 23, Oklahoma at Lincoln; April 26 and 27, Iowa State at Lincoln. May 3 and 4, Missouri at Columbia; May 10 and 11, Iowa State at Ames.

Means Outlines Squash Contest Due Next Week

A squash singles tourney to determine the All-University champion has been scheduled by the intra-mural office for next week. Candidates may enter their names in room 207 in the coliseum for pairings which will be made some time next week.

L. E. Means, director of student physical welfare, states that the tournament is planned as much to teach beginners the fine points of the game as to select a champion, and announces that all men on the campus are eligible.

The winner will be awarded a gold medal and his name will be placed on the plaque in the coliseum.

Contrary to public opinion, UN's first Ivy Day queen, 1879, was not Petunia Morton, but an obscure shoe clerk named Ginsberg.

Art Exhibit Sets Living Picture Date

BY MILDRED QUICK.

"Living Pictures," which have become a tradition for the opening of the annual Nebraska Art association exhibition each March, will be presented at 3 p.m. Sunday to open the 56th annual show, a bigger and better one than ever before.

Evidence of preceding a greater show will be given by the "Pictures" because they give a vast coverage of time, countries and methods of artistic effort in representing famous and not so famous masterpieces. Lincoln persons, who are members of the Nebraska Art association, are properly posed, costumed and scened to represent works of art, which number 12 this year.

The Egyptian Queen Nefrete, a work so old that the artist is not known, is posed by Martha Aitken, a Nebraska university student. The head of this queen, King Tuts mother-in-law, was found in Tuts tomb and has been reproduced in this work. It's presentation in the "Living Pictures" gives the audience a view of the far past and a beautiful one, too.

Modern.

Just as modern as Queen Nefrete was ancient, the showing will include "Two Harlequins," a gay colorful picture of a father and son. It is a work of Picasso, a French and Spanish painter, who is considered by many the world's greatest living one. Several of his recent works will be included in the Morrill hall exhibition.

In contrast to the father and son "Be Friends," a woman and young girl, will be modeled by Mrs. Arthur Whitworth and Dorothy Linderman of Lincoln. Created by Bougereau, a nineteenth century French artist, this picture has both subdued and bright colors.

"Mona Lisa," one of the world's most famous paintings by Leonardo da Vinci, a world famous painter, is shown it brought to my mind the artist's autobiography I studied in an art appreciation course. He said, "I set 'Mona Lisa' in a dream picture born of my imagination, of rocks, winding waters, and hazy green light. It took all my technical and scientific knowledge to penetrate her personality. . . . I tried to penetrate to the inner, mysterious life of the spirit." When I studied it it sounded like just a lot of words, but now after seeing the picture "Living" I believe it sort of explains why Da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" is a famous picture and a stirring one to see.

Largest.

Direct relation is brought to Morrill Hall exhibition with "The Old King" and it seems significant that it is included in the "pictures" because it is the exhibition's largest and most expensive piece. Other modern pictures portrayed are "Portrait of a Man," "Peter in San Patricio," and "Dance Hall Belles," which show the difference in modern artists' expression of persons.

The audience will be pleased to find an infant posing in Cassatt's "Mother and Child." Mrs. Thomas Woods, jr., will form the picture with her baby son.

Two pictures of women are shown in "Mrs. Davenport" by Romney, an English painter of the 18th century and "Mme. Yvette Guilbert" by the French painter Toulouse Lautreg. The latter is unusual because the whole figure
