

Watson, Sedlacek Score Knockouts

By Bob Holland.

Third round knockouts by Wayne Watson and John Sedlacek highlighted the hot and heavy action seen at the intramural boxing semi-finals in the Coliseum ring last night. Sixteen contestants traded leather in decisions, TKO's and knockouts, to get slots in the final bouts next week.

Sid Wells decisioned Bob Beck in a free swinging featherweight bout to open the evening. Then Del Roth, in the night's smoothest exhibition of boxing outclassed Jim Welsh in a straight round in the 135 pound division.

On the welterweight docket, Wayne Watson, probably the hardest hitting man for his size, in the tourney, swung for two rounds at taller Ed McElligott. Finally, in the third round, he caught the tall boy with a series of lefts and rights that brought a TKO. Closest event on the card was the other welter match between John Eining and Hal Haldeman. Both traded hard left jabs and in-punches for all six minutes, but Haldeman eked out a decision.

In the 160 pound division, hard hitting Gould Flagg pounded Neils Johnson for two rounds, to take a decision despite Johnson's last round barrage that had him groggy. Then Bob Lipps' jarring jabs and aggressive moving in earned him a unanimous decision over Bill Sloan.

John Sedlacek and Stan Daffer, heavy artillery boys, put on the slugfest of the evening. After exchanging haymakers with Daffer for half the bout, Sedlacek began to hurt his opponent, and he caught him coming off the ropes in the third with a right that ended the fight. In the second heavy-weight pairing, Mac Robinson won by decision over Bill Matteson. matches, and Charlie and Dick Miller judged the contestants.

The lighthweight matches were postponed because of lack of time, and will be held tonight or Tuesday.

The winners will meet in the finals next Tuesday at 8, and the awards will be presented to the champions after the bouts.

Husker Brown Named to Big 6 2nd Team Spot

The champion Kansas university cagers and the runner-up Oklahoma Sooners each placed two men on the Associated Press all-Big Six basketball team for the 1945-46 season.

Charlie Black and Otto Schnellbacher for the Jayhawks and Paul Courty and Jack Landon for Oklahoma teamed with Bob Petersen of Iowa State to compose the first five.

One Nebraska player, Joe

Brown, was named to a guard spot on the second team, while Don Barry, Bob Korte and Leo Schneider received honorable mention.

Landon Only Repeater.

The rugged Sooner defenseman, Landon, was the only repeater on the squad from last year's selections, while Black was an outstanding performer on the 1942, 1943 and 1946 quintets.

In addition to Brown on the second team, the AP listed Dave Weatherby and Jay Payton of Kansas State, Owen Peck of Kansas and Jim Stark of Iowa State.

Missouri was the only conference school which was not represented on the first and second teams.

Brown was a Nebraska standout all season, and he closed the campaign against Kansas State with a 20 point performance. A speedy ball-hawk and an alert defensive man, the Akron, Ohio, NROTC player was high scorer for the Scarlet this season and placed tenth in the Big Six scoring race with an average of 8.8 points per game.

Indicative of the KU domination of Big Six play was the fact that in addition to three men on the first two teams, three other Jayhawks were named in the honorable mention list. This gave "Phog" Allen's crew a total of six places on the roll of outstanding performers.

Catherine of Russia had a horse which she called, "Butch."
