

Ragged Edges

BY BILL BARRETT AND BOB M'CONAUGHEY.

Here's the "noose" for all you faithful "readers who are still "hanging" around. Don't get "roped" in as some of the other lads have.

Betas went all out for pinnings as Dale Novotny followed Brother Jack Cressman over to the DG house Saturday, and Bill Swanson tread in Brother Bob Coonley's footsteps over to the Pi Phi parlor Sunday night. Lucky recipient of Dale's diamond was Phyllis McLaren, while Gene Mitchell is proudly wearing Bill's pin. Congratulations to everyone concerned.

Seen walking down the aisle (church, that is) Sunday morning were Betty Burns and "Squat" Meyers, while Sister Bobbie Busch spent Sunday evening with Bill Lear. Over Alpha Phi way went Bob Fox to see Pat Warren; seems as though Gene Weiler has given up dating for Lent!

Out "shuffling shoes" Saturday night at Lincoln's big night-spot, the Pike to you that were in the "groove," were Georgia Wythers and Chick Story, Peg Lawrie and NRO Norrie Cross, and Midge Holtzcherer with Finn Hallber.

There was much activity in Omaha over the weekend for couples attending the Phi Rho party. Jim Protzman escorted Lindenwood's Jo Patton, and Virginia Purdham was with Phi Rho Louis Hanisch. Understand the Phi Psi "hunters" turned out en masse.

Some Navy boys home last weekend were Jim Swanson with Joan Farrar, Dick Capek with Peg Ellis, Johnnie Boman with old flame Jeanne Branch, Gene Deeter escorting Dorothy Bennisson, and Dan Hergert with Nancy Lawlor.

Thought for the day: Seen together a lot of late are Sally O'Shea and Phi Psi pledge Dick Kruse.

Dale Hatch(ed) on to a date with Ellie Lykke Sunday night and followed it up by "coking" in the Union Monday. It looks like a good deal!

Newman Society Plans St. Patrick Dance Friday Nite

At a special meeting Sunday afternoon, members of the Newman Club made plans for a "Wearing of the Green" dance to be held Friday, March 15th, in the CYO hall, 18th and J Sts.

The dance will feature a contest for the men, with five dollars as a prize. Tickets, to be sold at the door, will be 15 cents and refreshments will be served. All Newman Club members and their friends are invited.

standing senior women. They were chosen on the basis of superior scholarship and service to their organizations and the university.

All university women who received a weighted scholastic average of 85 or above for the year 1944-45 were guests of the Mortar Boards at the tea.

Members of Alpha Lambda Delta helped the Mortar Boards in serving as hostesses. Dean Verna Boyles, dean of women; Barbara Griswold, president of the Mortar Boards; Miss Elsie Piper, assistant dean of women, and Miss Marjorie Johnston, assistant to the dean, were in the receiving line.

Dr. Elda Walker, Mrs. J. R. Thompson, Mrs. A. E. Westbrook, Miss Johnston, Miss Piper, Miss Kate Field, Miss Margaret Fedde and Miss Mable Lee poured.

essary to furnish the 200 apartments. FHA agreed to finance the reconversion work in lieu of 200 fabricated units which had been allotted the university in December and are unavailable.

Apartments as laid out in the university-FHA plans will include two bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bath. Each will have a separate entrance.

Final details of the contract for reconverting the hospital site are now being worked out between the FHA, the war department and the university, Devoe said.

Lincoln Symphony Concert Tonight Features Graudan Piano-Cello Duo at St. Paul Church

BY SAM WARREN.

Nikolai and Joanna Graudan, who will solo tonight with the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra at 8:30 p. m. in St. Paul church, comprise a unique concert duo. Having first established reputations as soloists, Joanna as pianist and Nikolai as 'cellist, these artists have combined their talents with complete success.

In 1938, they came to America, and toured the Dutch East Indies as well. Upon their return to this country, Dimitri Metropoulos engaged Mr. Graudan as first 'cellist with the Minneapolis Symphony and Mrs. Graudan as soloist with that orchestra. She will perform Mendelssohn's "Capriccio Brillante," recorded under Metropoulos' baton by Columbia, tonight with the Lincoln Symphony. The Graudans continued together as a 'cello-piano team and in New York in 1944 they gave two Town Hall recitals in a single season.

The orchestral and solo numbers, as listed by conductor Leo Kopp, comprise the following program for tonight:

- I. Carnival Overture Dvorak
- II. Concerto in A minor for 'Cello Saint-Saens
- III. Slavonic Dance in A flat Dvorak
- IV. Capriccio Brillante Mendelssohn
- JOANNA GRAUDAN with Orchestra
- V. Mother Goose Suite Ravel
- a. Pavane of the Sleeping Beauty
- b. Hop-e' my Thumb
- c. Laidronnette, Empress of the Pasoda
- d. The Fairy Garden
- Adagio and Allegro Rachmaninoff
- VI. Pomp and Circumstance Elgar

Mikolai and Joanna Graudan, who will solo here tonight with the Lincoln Symphony at 8:30 in St. Paul church, form an unusual musical duo with their combination of 'cello and piano, respectively. Their varied concert programs display both the Graudan's solo virtuosity and ensemble excellence.

Vacation Dates Still Uncertain Says Rosenlof

No action on the Student Council's suggestion that spring vacation be changed to March 22 to April 1 will be taken before Tuesday, March 19, it was announced Monday by Dr. George W. Rosenlof, secretary of the University Senate.

"We have not yet decided whether to take the matter before the Senate," Rosenlof said, "but no action will be taken before their meeting."

All members of the faculty who hold the rank of associate professor or above, make up the membership of the Senate, and Chancellor C. S. Boucher serves as president.

Building . . .

In a bad state of deterioration, the hall served as the only building of the university for many years, and was the focal point of the movie "Cheers for Miss Bishop."

$550,000.

The $550,000 allocated for this building is part of a fund of $1,058,000 appropriated for new buildings at the university by the last session of the unicameral. The $300,000 armory included in the fund is about one-third finished, and a $200,000 addition to Avery chemistry laboratory is still in the blueprint stage. The $8,000 remaining will be spent to build two new hay barns at the university's experiment station at North Platte.

The foods and nutrients building on Ag campus, finished just prior to the war, was the last previous building constructed on the campus through-tax funds since Andrews hall.

In addition to the new class building, the university will let contracts soon for the construction of the first three of a ten-unit dormitory system for men. The three buildings will cost about $325,000 and are to be financed through the University of Nebraska Dormitory corporation.

Contributions For Red Cross Below Quota

Lagging far behind the $2,500 goal for the Red Cross, contributions of approximately $1,000 have been collected as the drive moved into its second week, according to AUF Director Jan Engle.

Representatives in the organized houses are urged by Miss Engle to turn in their collections each evening between 5 and 5:30 at the booth in the Union lobby.

Campus Booths.

Booths in Sosh, the Union and in the activities building on ag campus are being operated to collect donations from unaffiliated students living in Lincoln and students on ag campus. Any student who has not been contacted by a representative may donate at any of these booths.

Contributions to the Red Cross will be used to keep up the Red Cross clubs and clubmobiles for occupation troops in Germany and Japan, recreation for men convalescing in United States hospitals, aid to veterans and civilian relief in times of national disaster.

Prof. R. H. Moore Speaks at Rho Chi Dinner Meeting

Prof. R. H. Moore of the college of agriculture addressed 17 members and guests of Rho Chi at a dinner meeting in the Union last week. His subject was "Derris and Rotenone."

Derris is probably the only plant which would be a commercial source of rotenone in that competitor plants could not meet derris' high standards, according to Professor Moore. He also showed slides of the cultivation of derris plants.

Clem Stone, pharmacy college senior, was initiated at the dinner. Rho Chi is an international pharmaceutical society composed of undergraduates, graduate and faculty members of the college of pharmacy, according to Prof. A. E. Swarting, president.

YW Delegates To Give Panel On Conference

Featured at the Ag campus YMCA and YWCA joint meeting tonight will be a panel discussion given by four representatives who attended the national convention of the YWCA at Atlantic City last week.

Members taking part in this panel will be Mary Ann Mattoon, ex-city campus YW president; Shirley Hinds, newly elected president; Carol Bridenbaugh, Ag YW president; and Mildred Taylor, executive secretary of the university YWCA.

Explain Resolutions.

The panel participants will present news from the conference and will deal especially with some of the resolutions concerning inter-racial policy and political action in society.

Francis Wagner will conduct the worship service for the meeting which is to be in the Home Ec parlors at 7:45.

The Count of Lavarre is credited with discovering the reflecting power of mirrors.

On January 18, 1924, eight plane crashes occurred in Montpelier, Colorado.

YM Will Send Miller, Jensen To Conference

Bill Miller, city campus YMCA president, and Dean Jensen, chairman of the Faithful Life commission group, will be delegates to the 45th international convention of the United States and Canadian YMCA's to be held in Atlantic City, N. J., next week end, according to Gordon Lippitt, "Y" secretary.

The three-day convention, which opens on Friday, is being staged to formulate a broad Christian program through which the YMCA's of North America can meet the challenge of world conditions.

One of the highlights of the convention, according to Lippitt, will be a "youth session" under the chairmanship of Edgar C. Reckard of Yale university. At one of these sessions, Bill Miller will lead the discussion as national student president of the student YMCA.

Mott Will Speak.

Climaxing the sessions, which are expected to be attended by 2,000 delegates, will be addresses by John R. Mott, world-famed "Y" leader, who recently received the Prince Carl medal from King Gustaf of Sweden for his humanitarian activities, and Eugene E. Barnett, general secretary of the International Committee of the YMCA's of the United States and Canada. Both men will arrive shortly before the convention gets underway.

The world challenge to the YMCA will be voiced by Dr. Mott at the final session, with Barnett accepting it in the name of the American and Canadian "Y's."

Although the convention is primarily concerned with the part of the North American "Y" in the world of today, reports of YMCA work in the far corners of the earth will be made by "Y" representatives from Europe and the Far East.

Early Treatment By Student Health Prevents Epidemic

Despite the fact that eight university students were affected by a contagious disease during the month of February, no epidemic developed, due to early diagnosis, treatment and isolation of those affected, according to the university student health service.

During the past month, 682 prescriptions were filled at the pharmacy dispensary. There were 1,209 daily clinic calls for diagnosis and treatment and 206 X-ray pictures taken. Twenty advanced ROTC students were examined for promotion to higher rank and study; while 21 new university employees were examined, four given examinations for internship in hospitals.
