

Sonny Dunham UN Prom Band

Tickets on Sale Thursday--N Club

Sonny Dunham, America's foremost trumpet and trombone stylist, will play for the Junior-Senior Prom on April 5!

Announcement that Dunham will be here for the affair was made by the Prom committee Tuesday. The orchestra, rated among the top 15 swing bands in a national poll conducted by Downbeat magazine this spring, features Louise Douglas and Pete Hanley, soloists.

Maestro Dunham will bring a 15-piece orchestra to the coliseum in addition to the two soloists and himself. He will play for four hours, from 8 to 12 p. m. Dunham's most recent engagement was at the Flaglar Gardens in Miami, Fla.

Ticket Sale.

Tickets will go on sale Thursday, according to Gerald Kathol, president of the N Club which is sponsoring the affair. They may be obtained from any N Club member or in the activities office in the coliseum. The price per couple is $2.50 plus 50c tax.

Filings for Prom Girl may be made in the Student Activities office from March 14th to 19th. Only junior and senior women are eligible to compete for this honor. The Prom Girl will be chosen by the couples attending the dance. Their choice will be written on the back of the ticket on entrance to the event.

The Prom, a semi-formal affair, will be open to freshmen and sophomores as well as upperclassmen.

Rated Tops.

Dunham, once a star with the bands of Paul Tremaine and Glen Gray's Casa Loma, is now bracketed by the trade reviewers of Tin Pan Alley with the nation's top flight bands, on the basis of engagements at theatres, ballrooms and nite clubs, as well as radio.

Dunham's ability to play trombone and trumpet alternately have amazed physicians as well as musicians. The feat is most noteworthy because each instrument requires a special set of lip muscles whose shape goes by the fancy name of "embouchure." The embouchure for the trumpet is small; for the trombone, large.

In January, 1939, less ten years after he first played the trumpet, Metronome voted Dunham first among hot trumpeters. The following month he scored in the charmed circle of Downbeat's first five trumpeters. To further confuse matters, he returned to score high in another Metronome poll for trombone specialists.

Veterans Vote to Submit Constitution to Faculty Senate

BY BOB HOLLAND.

In their first general meeting since Student Council consideration of their organizational charter, one hundred and thirty-five veterans voted last night to submit their constitution, over Council disapproval, to the faculty senate for consideration.

Their decision was to present their constitution without incorporating in it any of the changes recommended by the student body. In discussion from the floor, these were labelled "petty" and "irrelevant," and the general expression of sentiment was that these changes would serve to keep the organization from performing its intended operations on the campus. Public Relations Secretary Richard Sinsel stated, "We intend to take this question right up the 'chain of command' until we get enough taxpayers' support behind us so that they'll have to let us in."

700 Membership Goal.

In line with the Council suggestion for a larger, more representative body, however, Chairman Mitchell announced that a survey of available vets during the past week had shown that many of them would favor some organization. Accordingly, he urged the whole body to make a concerted drive for membership, and set a goal of seven hundred men to be reached if possible.

Spring Vacation as Scheduled-Rosenlof

Spring vacation will begin Wednesday, March 27, and end Wednesday, April 3, as previously scheduled; according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, university registrar.

Dr. Rosenlof stated that the Calendar Committee met and are not disposed to make the change in dates at this late hour, as was requested by the Student Council. Council members recommended that vacations be from Saturday noon, March 23, to Monday, April 1.

"We found that there were just as many students and faculty opposed to the change as were in favor of it, continued Dr. Rosenlof. Many have already made definite plans and since the calendar is made up so far in advance, the reasons for change are insufficient."

To Students.

In a statement to the students Dr. Rosenlof said: "I hope the decision will not cause ill feeling or offend the students. Unfortunately this year's calendar was planned during wartime but I as-
