

Five Classes Recognized By Alumni

University Alumni association will honor five classes at its annual Round Up May 25, 26 and 27, Round Up Chairman Elsworth Du Teau announced Thursday.

Classes to be honored, those of 1896, 1906, 1916, 1926 and 1936, will be given special recognition at the Round Up luncheon May 25. The classes of 1897, 1898, 1899 and 1910 have also planned special reunions.

Reunion Breakfast

1896 alumni will hold a reunion breakfast at the home of Mrs. E. C. Folsom, Lincoln, May 25 and the class of 1906 will hold a reception the evening of May 24 and a breakfast May 25.

A reunion tea at the home of Mrs. Frances Duncombe has been planned by 1897 alumni; a breakfast at the Union by the 1898; a breakfast at the Cornhusker by the class of 1899; and the class of 1910 will have a supper at the Union.

Alpha Phi Omega Plans Meeting To Re-organize

Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary service fraternity, will hold a meeting of all active members on the campus on Saturday at 1 p. m. in room 315 of the Union.

The meeting is being called by Chick Grimes, Dick Reed, Morris Galter and Stan Lowe for the purpose of assisting in re-organization.

A.P.O., founded at Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania in 1925, is the only national service organization on college campuses. Its members consist of men who were formerly members of the Boy Scouts of America and who are willing to be of service to their University and their fellow-students.

Chapters

The number of its chapters ranks second only to Phi Beta Kappa in America, according to collegiate guides. There are 102 chapters in the United States and two abroad.

All men who are members, regardless of the chapter to which they might belong, are urged to attend this meeting, according to Grimes. Pledge members may attend the smoker which will be held in the Union on Thursday afternoon at 5, in room 315.

Students Appear on KFAB Air Forum Saturday

Four university students will discuss "What Can 1946 Graduates Expect?" on the KFAB forum of the air broadcast at 5 p. m. Saturday.

Gerry McKinsey will be the moderator for the group. Mary Ann Mattoon will represent the college of arts and science, Lowell Anderson, engineering, and Joe Kirshenbaum, business administration.

Other Nebraska stations carrying the broadcast during the week of May 11 are KORN, WJAG, KMMJ, KODY, and KGKY. The forum may be heard on station KOIL at 10 a. m. Saturday.

Bridle Club Sponsors Annual Judging Contest

The annual Animal Husbandry judging contest, sponsored by the Block and Bridle Club, will begin at the Horse Barn at 8:00 a. m., Friday, May 18, under the supervision of the animal husbandry department.

The judging contest is open to all undergraduates in the university.

Oral reasons for the placings will be given on the four classes of livestock, which are horses, cattle, hogs, and sheep.

BABW Tea

All unaffiliated women are invited to the tea which will be held today at Ellen Smith hall from 4:30 to 5:30, according to Helen Wolf, BABW president. Activity pins will be presented to outstanding women.

Navy Unit Holds Open House Fete

As a part of a nation wide celebration by all navy shore stations of the first anniversary of V-E day, the university N.R.O.T.C. unit held an open house and general demonstration of naval equipment at Navy Hall Tuesday. Armament, navigational gear and rescue devices were on display in connection with an inspection of trainee living quarters.

Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, university registrar, member of the advisory committee to the Armed Forces Institute and other educational groups spoke to a navy convocation in the law building as an additional feature of the Victory celebration. Dr. Rosenlof congratulated the unit on its excellent record during the past year and voiced the hope that many of the men now enrolled at the university will return as civilians to continue their training as naval reserve officers.

Further Education

Emphasizing the necessity of educating the citizens of a democracy before that democracy can become a success, Dr. Rosenlof urged the trainees to carry on with their college careers whether or not they return to Nebraska. He concluded his talk with a brief summary of the new scale of admissions at the university and the general educational aspects of colleges in the United States today.

Captain M. D. Mathews, unit commanding officer, and Comdr. W. W. Fitts, executive officer, also spoke to the trainees on the navy's part in the European campaigns. Captain Mathews, former commander of fleet units in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic, pointed out that the invasion and occupation of Europe would not have been possible without the combined cooperation of the army and navy and underscored his point by citing the navy's participation in the crossing of the Rhine river and entrance into Germany.

Established in September of 1945, the N.R.O.T.C. unit on the campus will be terminated at the end of May when trainees are returned to their former stations for separation from the service.
