Editors Chosen by Pub Board

TEAGARDEN.

Innocents Plan 'Round Up' Banquet

The university's alumni Innocents association has scheduled its traditional Alumni Round Up banquet for Saturday, May 25, in the Union.

Speakers at the banquet, the first since 1942, are Judge Adolph E. Wenke of the Nebraska supreme court and Harry B. Coffee, former Nebraska congressman and now president of the Omaha Union Stock Yards. Ellsworth Du-Teau, former alumni secretary and general chairman of the Round Up committee, will preside.

Alumni.

Alumni Innocents throughout the country have received announcements and invitations and reservations are coming in rapidly, according to Robert McNutt, class of 1943, chairman of the alumni Innocents reunion ban-

One of the events of the 1946 Alumni Round Up, the alumni Innocents banquet, is expected to have a large attendance, McNutt announced. The Alumni Round Up begins with the reunion luncheon at the Union, Saturday noon,

Ag Products Use In Industry Topic Of Chem Review

The Nebraska Section of the American Chemical society met on the campus Friday night to review the widely expanded use of agricultural products as a source of industrial chemicals in the postwar era.

Dr. Albert Elder, research director for the Corn Products Refining company, speaking before the group, said: "Although the principal use of agricultura products is, and no doubt will remain to be, for food purposes, the utilization of farm crops as raw materials for the manufacture of chemicals has increased considerably in the past 25 years. Wartime research has resulted in the development of new chemicals from farm crops which should greatly stimulate farm chemurgy in the postwar years."

Included in the speech was praise for the fundamental research work being done at state universities and colleges, particularly in plant breeding experiments to improve the quality and yield, "such as the fine work being done at the University of Nebraska on sorghums,"

Students Exhibit Year's Works At Morrill Show

Work accomplished during the current year will be displayed by university art students at an exhibition opening at 8 p. m. Tues-day evening, Dwight Kirsch, chairman of the art department, said Saturday.

Timed to coincide with the an-nual open house of the Lincoln Artists Guild and the demonstra-tion program "Art in Action," the exhibit will include: Block printing (wood and linoleum) by Alice Edminston, Nathan Mohler and Leonard Thiessen; mounting maps by Mina Jorgensen and Truby Kirsch and Josephson and Truby
Kirsch; modeling and sculpture by Lynn Wolfe and students; silk screen printing by Lynn Frank and students; silk screen printing by Lynn Frank and students;
matting and framing by Dwight
Kirsch and Jose Ishikawa; chalk Kirsch and Joe Ishikawa; chalk stenciling by Hedy Schultz and Ruth Rosekrans; quick sketching with pencil, pen and stick and ink Lowe and John Kirsch; water color by Giadys Lux and J. Rich-ard Sorby; and grafts participants ard Sorby; and crafts, participants for which will be announced later.

Alums Sponsor Banquet, Group

Initial meeting of the university's advancement committee will be held at a luncheon Friday, May 24, with dinner that evening sponsored by the alumni association, according to Clarence Swanson, president of the association.

support for the university.

Law College Graduates 3 War Veterans

The university's Law College this week graduated its first senior class since 1943.

Composed of three World war II veterans who entered the service while enrolled in the law college, the class graduates are Harold M. Nelson, Engineers Harold M. Nelson, Engineers Corps captain for 47 months in Europe; John W. Stewart, lieutenant with the 26th infantry division and a prisoner of the Germans for seven months; and Courtney L. Valentine, a Sixth corp staff major in Europe for two and one-half years.

The graduates re-entered college lacking only a few credits and under the new accelerated law curriculum the normal semester's schooling was compressed into four months.

Army Schedules ROTC Inspection Here Next Friday

university, announced Friday.

Composed of 20 prominent Ne-braska citizens who are chairmen Inspecting officers from Second Army are Col. Joseph P. Dono-van, Lt. Col. J. N. Green and and Maj. Carl Anderson.

Teagarden, Shutt, Shestak Named

Phyllis Teagarden, Merrill Shutt and George Shestak were elected editors of The Nebraskan, Cornhusker and Awgwan respectively, at a publications board meeting held in the Union yesterday.

Succeeding Betty Lou Huston as editor of The Ne-braskan, Miss Teagarden is secretary of the YWCA, president of Chi Omega, Theta Sigma Phi member, and Mortar

Merrill Shutt, taking over the duties of former Cornhusker editor Joyce Crosbie, was managing editor of the yearbook and is treasurer of Tas-sels. She is also a Mortar Board.

Convention Will Discuss Vet Housing

Veterans housing problems and increased costs of operation will be principal discussions at the annual convention of the National Association of Superintendents of Buildings and Grounds of Universities and Colleges held on the university campus May 13 and 14.

Over 60 colleges and universities will be represented at the association's 32nd annual meeting.

Program.

Monday's program is devoted to discussions of building costs, led Ellery Davis, Lincoln architect; veterans housing, led by

(See CONVENTION, page 4.)

BABW Presents Activity Awards To Fifteen Coeds

Formal presentation of Barb activity pins was made yesterday to 15 women, at the annual Barb recognition tea, according to Helen Wulf, president of B.A.B.W.

Those awarded pins were: Jean Allaway, Fern Bohlken, Mary Ann Campbell, Mary Ann Graff, Lois Annual federal inspection of the university army ROTC by Seventh Service Command and Sector Lyon, Marian McElhaney, Pat theater. ond Army headquarters officers Neely, Phyllis Nordin, Alice Rife, will take place May 17, Lt. Col. Helen Wulf, and Betty Hutten-Merle J. Senn, acting director of maier. To be eligible for a pin, military training activities at the each coed earned 100 points by participating in various campus activities.

Sponsored by the Barb Activities Board for Women, the tea of districts, the committee's purpose is to promote interest in and Service command, Col. L. D. Zack and climaxed the Barb activities

Ruth Korb's position as Awgwan editor was filled by George Shestak, former feature writer for the magazine.

Jim Van Landingham, circulation manager for the Nebraskan in '42 and recently discharged from the Marine Corps, was appointed business manager of the paper replacing Lorraine Abrahamson. Assistant business managers are Dorothy Lasher and Byron Raznick.

Dean Skokan, Corn Cob and assistant to the former business manager, Marilyn Adler, was named new business manager for the Cornhusker. Assistant business managers are Priscilla Flagg and Delphene Ayers.

Dean Neitl resumes his last semester's duties as business manager for the Awgwan with Virginia Buckingham as assistant business manager.

Managing Editors.

Mary Alice Cawood was elected (See TEAGARDEN, page 2.)

Music Students' Original Pieces Feature Recital

Original compositions for piano, voice, marimba and woodwinds, written by music theory students at the school of music will be given premiere performances Wednesday at 4 p. m. in Temple

On the program announced by Dean Arthur E. Westbrook, are two piano solos by Mary Alice Peterson, and Don Hartman, to be performed by Ernest Ulmer; a voice solo by Brennie Breck, sung by Arleen Heinz, soprano; a flute solo by Margaret Modlin, played by Marion Peck; a voice composition, to be sung by its composer, Jacquelyn Rasmussen.

A piano composition by Vesta

(See MUSIC, page 2.)

Notice to Veterans COMPLETION OF SUMMER REGISTRATION.

All veterans who have registored for the summer session must report to the Coliseum on Friday, May 31, or Saturday forenoon, June 1, or on Monday, June 3, in order to have their registrations validated by University Comptroller. Each veteran will call for his envelope and take it personally to the Comptrollers cage after the fees have been computed. No registration is completed until this is done.

REQUISITIONS,

No requisitions for the current second semester now ending will be issued or honored after May 15. All yellow copies of requisitions which are now outstanding and still in the hands of individual veterans must be turned in to the Regents Bookstore in the Temple by May 21.

Sinfonia Annual Spring Concert Begins At 3 p. m. Today; Features Glee Club

Three of the soloists in Sinfonia's concert today are, left to right: Don Wenslaff, Norman Todenhaft and Bill Kelly.

"Hail Sinfonia!" will greet concert-goers' ears today when Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia opens its annual spring concert at 3 p. m. in the temple.

Soloists and a 40-voice glee club will be featured. In addition to this opening number, the voices of the Sinfonia glee club will be heard in three other songs of the national music fraternity, and will close the program with a suite of old English sea ballads.

Glenn Clark and Leonard Blinde are baritone soloists in the "Sea Chanty Suite." Solo voices with the glee club in the fraternity songs will be tenor Richard Koupal and baritone Cleve Genzlinger. The choral numbers are under the direction of Alfred

Coming midway in the program

(See SINFONIA, page 4.)