Student Sale Of Tickets Starts Today

Sale of student season activity tickets open today in the coliseum and will continue thru Tuesday morning, according to A. J. Lewandowski, director of intercollegiate athletics. Each ticket is a reserved seat to all home football games and assignment will be made under a new system.

Price of the student tickets is $6.60, including tax, and admits the holder to all home football and basketball games, track meets and other athletic contests.

Under the new system, organizations, including fraternities, sororities, Tassels, Corn Cobs, Innocents, Mortar Board, Veterans

Coeds Needed

Four co-eds are needed to work in the athletic director's office taking applications for student activities season tickets. Applicants should report to A. J. Lewandowski at the coliseum today. The days of work will be today, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday morning.

organization, and other groups of students desiring to obtain a block of seats together, send one member to the coliseum ticket office with the exact amount of money and the student identification card for each member of the group. The representative secures the tickets for the group and leaves the name of the group and the number of seats desired.

Individual students who do not wish to sit with the group can purchase tickets in the same manner at the coliseum.

Tuesday afternoon, drawing of blocks for groups and individual seats will be made. Each group will then have a block of seats in the stadium assigned to it for all the home football games and individuals will have reserved seats for each game. The Daily Nebraskan will publish the block assignment numbers.

Corn Cobs Will Hold Annual Stag Smoker

The annual smoker for prospective Corn Cob pledges will be held in the Union at 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday, according to Don Kline, Corn Cob president.

All students attending who are interested in Corn Cobs and are eligible for pledgeship will be interviewed, and from this group the pledges for the following year will be chosen.

Eligibility rules for Corn Cob pledgeship state that the candidate must be a sophomore, having satisfactorily completed 24 hours of university work in his past two semesters of enrollment, and that he be carrying at least 12 hours during the present term.

Selection of pledges is made by the active members, and from the group selected, approximately 500 will be chosen. See CORN COBS, Page 4.

Reporters!

Do your fingers itch to pound a typewriter? Are you eager to burst into print? Are you a journalism major? Are you slightly insane? Then come to The Daily Nebraskan office on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for the first meeting of the year for reporters. No, you don't have to be a journalism major (or minor), but the insanity—well, it helps!

Total Enrollment To Exceed 8,000

Due to the heavy increase in the number of students registering at the university, classes will not begin until Monday, allowing two extra days for students to complete registration, it was announced by Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, registrar.

In preparation for the Monday opening students may alter their class schedules on Friday and Saturday at the coliseum. On Monday, registration for all late students will be handled at Grant Memorial Hall. Setting a precedent for the university, officials have scheduled noon sessions in both English and mathematics because of the increased demand for more sections in these courses.

ROTC Adds M.P., Air Units To Program

Lt. Col. Merle J. Senn announced the addition of military police training and an air corps training unit to the curriculum of the university Army ROTC program, in a statement Monday. Both courses will be open to advanced students in the program, according to Senn, commanding officer of the unit.

Michigan Grad.

Howard graduated from Michigan State College in 1941 and entered the army in the same year. He was assistant provost marshal of the Antilles department in Puerto Rico for 27 months and also saw duty with the Second Armored division at Camp Hood, Texas, and Fort Snelling, Minnesota.

Sullivan graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1940 and entered the air forces in 1941 as a second lieutenant and pilot. He served with the ATC for three years and was then attached to the 20th Air Force in India. After duty flying the "hump" he returned to the United States and served with the military airlines until his present assignment.

Orchestra Dance Opens Full Year Union Activities

Jean Moyer's orchestra will play for dancing tonight in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12, to open this year's Union activities. Admission is 44 cents and each student must present an identification card.

Saturday night there will be a juke box dance in the ballroom from 9 to 11:30. There is no admission charge.

Sunday afternoon at 3:00 the variety show, presented in the ballroom, will feature Merle Oberon, George Sanders and Laird Cregar in "The Lodger."

Peggy Shelley will play organ music in the lounge during coffee hour from 5 to 6 p. m. Sunday. All students are cordially invited to attend the Union's weekend activities, according to Pat Lahr, union director.

Miss Lahr also announced that the main dining room on the first floor of the Union will be open from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. for restaurant service Monday through Friday, and will feature three plate luncheons each day, soup, sandwiches, salads and desserts.

Law Classes Friday

Classes in the law college will start on Friday as scheduled with the largest number of incoming law students admitted to the law course for many years, stated Dean Frederick Beutal.

Total enrollment at the university this year is expected to exceed 8,000 by a considerable figure, according to Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, registrar. By Tuesday evening more than 4,000 students had already completed registration with the men students in the majority at a five to three ratio.

Sixty-five percent of the union activities will be held at the coliseum. See REGISTRATION, Page 2.

YW, YM Plan Picnic Sunday At Ag College

University Theater Officially Opens Season With Ticket Drive

With Broadway hits featured as coming attractions the Nebraska University Theater officially opened its doors last Monday, beginning its sale of season tickets.

Billed for the 1946-47 season are such plays as "My Sister Eileen," by Fields and Chodorov, a comedy about two sisters who brave the terrors of New York City; "The Girl of the Golden West," by Belasco, a western melodrama; "Angel Street" by Hamilton, which appeared in movie form with Charles Boyer and Ingrid Bergman as "Gaslight"; "Macbeth," Shakespeare's great tragedy; and "Pygmalion," the drama by George Bernard Shaw which captured audiences on Broadway in 1945.

Choice at Plays.

This choice of plays for the coming season was made after careful consideration to diversifying entertainment and audience capacity here at the university according to Dallas S. Williams, director of the University theater. "We attempt to achieve professional perfection in our productions; the University theater does not expect inferior shows to be excused on the basis that the theater is a non-professional organization."
