

Big Six Elevens Suffer Defeats

GAMES THIS WEEK.
 Friday.
 Kansas at Denver (nite).
 Kansas State at Hardin-Simmons (nite).
 Saturday.
 Iowa State at Northwestern.
 Missouri at Ohio State.
 Oklahoma at Army.

LAST WEEK'S RESULTS.
 Texas 42, Missouri 0.
 Kansas 6, Texas Christian 0.
 Colorado 13, Iowa State 7.
 Big Six stock took a beating over the weekend, as conference football teams made their first starts. Chief reason for the drop in conference overall caliber was the thumping that Dana Bible's Texas University team handed Missouri.

Don Faurot's charges, rated by one and all as the team to beat in the Big Six, took a 42-0 pasting. The margin of victory was the surprising feature of the game which produced a statistical oddity in that Missouri racked up 16 first downs compared to 14 for the Longhorns. However, first downs do not pay off in the scoring column.

With Iowa State losing 13-7 to the University of Colorado, the Kansas Jayhawks were the only Big Six team to keep out of the losing column. George Sauer's eleven played to a scoreless stalemate against Texas Christian Saturday night in Kansas City.

Prospects for an improvement in conference prestige this week are not too rosy.

Poor Sooners.
 Oklahoma walks right into a buzz-saw as they open their 1946 campaign against Army, probably the nation's top team. No one expects a Sooner victory—a decently close score would be a moral triumph for Coach Jim Tatum's boys.

Nebraska will make its first start Saturday at Minneapolis against Bernie Bierman's Golden Gophers in a game which will decide a lot of questions concerning strength in both the Big Ten and Big Six.

Missouri will attempt to recoup a bit of its damaged reputation against Ohio State at Columbus, and Iowa State will also invade Western Conference circles for a game with Northwestern at Evanston.

The two Kansas teams will see action Friday night. KU goes to Denver to meet the Pioneers and Hobbs Adams' Kansas State team plays Hardin Simmons at Abilene.

Pop Klein Drills 108 Freshman Pigskin Prospects

One hundred and eight freshmen football candidates have recently reported to Coach Pop Klein, who has relinquished his "B" team coaching duties to devote full time to the first year men. Assisting Coach Klein with the task of molding a formidable team are three former Cornhusker varsity footballers, Bob Mehring, Bob McNutt, and Harold Hungerford.

No games against other frosh elevens are scheduled, but Klein has given his assurance that the team will acquire plenty of "game-savvy" from scrimmage with the Nubbins. Although a shortage of suits is a present handicap, this situation will soon be remedied by the arrival of new equipment.

Individual Tickets To Be Sent Soon

Those persons who have ordered tickets to individual University of Nebraska football games will receive them 10 to 14 days ahead of the contest, Athletic Director A. J. Lewandowski announced.

Track Preview
 Tonight on the stadium oval Coach Weir's cross-country track aspirants will show their wares in a mile and one-half exhibition race. All the cinder-men are trying hard for a place on the traveling squad to Minneapolis.

UN Two Miler To Try Gopher Team Saturday

As a sidelight to the Cornhusker-Gopher clash in Minneapolis on Sept. 28, track coach Ed Weirs' cross country team will race against the Minnesota tracksters over the two mile cinder track in a low score contest.

Among the many trying for berths on the four man team are miler Bob Ginn, Max Peterson half-mile letterman, Jim Martin high school half-mile star, Blaine

TOM CATES—Minnesota halfback who led the Big Ten in average yards gained by rushing last year. Cates is a probable starter in the Gopher backfield this season and should see plenty of action against Nebraska, Saturday.

Game Captains
 Coach Bernie Masterson announced Monday that End Jack Hazen and Guard Eddie Schwartzkopf would act as game captains for the Nebraska-Minnesota tilt Saturday.

Young, Phil Myers, and Don Theil.
 The team will be increased to five as the Scarlet cinder-men continue as added attractions against Kansas at Lawrence on Oct. 19, Missouri at Lincoln Nov. 2, Iowa State at Lincoln Nov. 16, and possibly Kansas State. The Big Six championship will be decided at Norman, Okla., on Nov. 23 in the conference meet.

Last year, with all-around distance man Dean Kratz the main standby, Nebraska won all contests. The other three members of the team were Don Yokum now in the navy, Stan Martin who is teaching this year, and Wayne Rhoades who will report when his studies in the engineering college permit.

HUSKER HIGHLIGHTS

By George Miller

In the wake of Saturday's games: Altho Nebraska was not in action last week, several former Husker footballers had an afternoon of gridiron activity competing for other schools.

Henry Rohn, one of the fullbacks on Nebraska's Rose Bowl squad fullbacked the University of Wyoming team to a 7-0 win over Colorado State, assisted by Bobby Cooper, former Husker back who hails from Omaha North. Cooper tossed his left-handed passes for the Scarlet during the 1942 season.

Bill Perdew, Hastings, and Bill Hill, Arapahoe, of the '44 team are playing for state colleges this season. Perdew is now a member of Coach Larty Owens' squad at Hastings college, while Hill is running in the backfield for McCook junior college.

The news that Derald Lebow, star Oklahoma halfback, will be out for the season calls to mind some of Lebow's doing during the 1944 pigskin campaign.

It was in the Missouri game that Lebow, who had been benched on doctor's orders because of a heavy cold, got into two plays and scored a touchdown on each attempt.

Coach "Snorter" Luster waited each time until the Sooners were in scoring position and then sent in Lebow to carry the ball across the goal. The game ended in a 21-21 tie.

Don't let worries about white shirts get you down. Think of the predicament of Mike Dibiase, tackle on the Nebraska football team.

Mike, national A.A.U. heavy-weight wrestling champion, has been having more than his share of trouble.

After he was separated from the navy he began trying to restock his civilian wardrobe, but he has not been able to get any shirts.

The difficulty: Mike wears a shirt with a 20-inch collar.

Iowa State and Northwestern have a football series which began in 1895, but this week's game will be only the fourth meeting between the two schools.

After the Cyclones' 36-0 win in the gay 90's the series lapsed until 1937 when the Wildcats won 33-0. Last season Northwestern was again victorious, this time by an 18 to 6 count.

IM Meeting Held To Plan Year's Card

Intramural athletics came into focus last night as the representatives of campus organizations held their first meeting of the year under the direction of Louis Means at the Coliseum.

Stressing the return to normalcy of intramural competition at the university, Mr. Means declared that the aim of the program was for a wide range of activity in which every student would find many events to challenge his interest. All events are organized competitively and none will be compulsory.

Permanent Trophies.
 Permanent trophies will be given for each of the first three places in each sport with awards also to be given to the winners in the individual tourneys. A trophy will also be given to the organization which displays the best interest and persistency in the activities regardless of their positions in the standings. An award also will be made to the outstanding manager.

Topics brought up for discussion at the meeting stressed that each organization be familiar with all rules and regulations and that in the event of a post-poned contest, notice be turned in at least a day ahead of time or earlier.

Two motions were unanimously passed by the council as the Cops were passed into the league provided they adhere to the same regulations concerning membership as the fraternities and a fifteen dollar fee was made on each organization to defray expenses for referees at the football and basketball contests.

Each organization will have the privilege of obtaining any equipment they will need for practice from the university.
