

Parties, Activities Highlight University Church Night

Rally Shows Pre-War Spirit As Coach Asserts 'We'll Win!'

By Dede Meyer

"We have only one thing in mind on our trip to Minnesota," affirmed Husker Coach Bernie Masterson, "and that is to win!"

Thursday evening's pep rally occasioned this fighting statement as the train embarked from Burlington depot carrying the varsity Cornhusker squad to "Go For The Gophers!" The gathering last night marked the first spirited pep rally since pre-war days.

Round the Town

Meeting at the Union, the rooters pushed their way to Vine street, down Sorority and Fraternity Row, crowded into R street and headed for the Burlington depot. The team was handed a rousing send-off with the cheerleaders, Tassels and Corncobs leading the crowd.

Followed by over a thousand students, pep-filled and shouting their lungs out, the University Band played such winners as "We Will Beat the Gophers" and "There Is No Place Like Nebraska." Yells for the pigskin season were given a good going over as the new cheerleaders proved the power of their lungs and pep over the cheers of the crowd.

Bright Future

Massed at the depot, the students listened to Coach Masterson, A. J. Lewandowski, athletic director, and Saturday Game Captain Eddie Schwartzkopf commend them on their backing of the team and promise "great things to come from the Huskers!"

Freshmen, this rally was the real stuff! Juniors and seniors, aged after several years of half-hearted rallies, can back us up!! Spirit was shown last night that brought a gleam to old eyes and a reminiscent "remember when . . ." tone to upperclassmen's talk. The Husker 43 pulled out of the station enthused and ready to win—how can they lose with Nebraska behind them 100%!

Civil Engineer Leaders Named At Fall Dinner

Named as officers by the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineering at a banquet meeting Wednesday night were president, James Jensen; secretary-treasurer, Charles Curienne; membership chairman, Daniel Beezley; and program chairman, Sam Seifert.

Two Student Council Posts Vacant; Filing Ends Tuesday

Bob Coonley, Student Council president announced that there are two council vacancies in law college and graduate school representation on the council. The law school post must be filled by a junior man in law college while the vacancy in the graduate school must be filled by a woman enrolled in any capacity in that division, according to Coonley.

Applications Due Tuesday.

Students qualifying for these positions should file application at the Student Activities office in the coliseum before 5 p. m. Tuesday. The procedure of selection is set by the constitution of the council and provides for careful consideration of all applicants by the registrar's office. Following this step, the council will then select the two individuals best suited to fill the positions.

Coonley pointed out that the student council represents an important function of school life and offers excellent opportunities in student relations and activities.

Council Decides Election Date For Class Presidents

With the election date set as Oct. 8 for junior and senior class presidents, the student council announced that filings for the offices will open Monday, Sept. 31 and will close Friday, Oct. 4.

Any junior or senior carrying 12 hours in good standing, and whose record will comply with the scholastic standards of the Student Activities office is eligible to file his name with the Student Activities office in the Coliseum. Participants in the election must be either a junior or senior.

All filings will be independent unless party caucuses organize and establish a platform which must be approved by the Student Council. When the approval has been given, candidates may be entered.

Because the Constitution of the Student Council provides for the election to take place on the third Tuesday of the first semester, it is expected that all filings will be independent as they were last year, according to Helen Laird, election chairman.
