

Gophers Win! 33-6

Let's Meet That Train!

BY JACK HILL

The Huskers are coming back today! Their train will pull into the Burlington station at 10:00 this morning and this is the chance for every man and woman on campus to show them that the whole university still thinks they're a great team.

After the sendoff they got Thursday night, some of the boys may be a little worried as to their reception after a defeat. If every house on campus, every member of a club and every individual student could be down there waiting for Coach Masterson and his great team, there couldn't be any doubts about Nebraska being behind the Scarlet and Cream every inch of the way.

Leaders of the Tassels, and Corn Cobs got busy last night to welcome the footballers back. But it's going to take the appearance of every possible student and faculty member for that matter, to make this homecoming mean something.

New Midshipmen Enter University NROTC Unit

Twenty-one men were sworn in as midshipmen in the United States Naval Reserve in a convocation last week, bringing the total enrollment of the unit to 57 men including both advanced and freshmen midshipmen, according to Commander W. W. Fitts, USN, unit executive officer.

Staff Additions.

There have been three additions to the NROTC staff in a general enlargement of the curriculum to include late developments in electronics, loran, radar and damage control. Lieut. Commr. John Landreth, USN, former damage control officer of the USS Saratoga and a participant in the Bikini Able and Baker atomic bomb tests, will serve as an instructor in naval science and tactics.

Men desiring to gain commissions in the Marine Corps Reserve will be under the direction of Capt. Richard Buckley, USMC, and First Sergeant Strong, USMC. Sgt. Strong will also instruct all trainees in gunnery and drill and he will be in charge of the unit rifle team.

Under the command of Captain M. D. Mathews, USN, the NROTC unit at Nebraska is entering its second year of operation. Commr. Fitts serves as executive officer while Lieut. Commr. R. H. Steinkellner, USN, and Lieut. Commr. Landreth, USN, serve as instructors. The remainder of the staff is made up of Marine Capt. Buckley and the unit's ship's company.

Nebraska Rates High In Survey

Nebraska university has been named fourth highest in the nation in terms of over-all educational program in a recent study by two Iowa State college educators.

Nebraska is topped only by Utah, Kansas and Oregon, with Iowa State ranked fifth.

Ratings Determined.

The study, made by Raymond M. Hughes, president emeritus, and William H. Lancelot, professor of vocational education, placed nine out of the nation's ten best educational systems in states west of the Mississippi river. "Neither the older nor the wealthier states seem any longer to be at or near the head of the educational procession in America," stated the authors.

The ratings and how they were determined are published in a new book by Hughes and Lancelot entitled "Education: America's Magic."

Art Fraternity Elects Faulkner National Prexy

Miss Kady B. Faulkner, associate professor in the university's art department was elected national president of Delta Phi Delta, honorary art fraternity, at its convention held in Albuquerque, N. M., last June. The announcement was made at the first meeting of the Nebraska Psi chapter, held Thursday evening.

Convention Honors.

Glenna Berck and Elizabeth Lamb, who accompanied Miss Faulkner to Albuquerque, gave a report of the convention. At the convention, the Psi chapter won honorable mention for the chapter's history book, and recognition for being the best chapter of the fraternity. Elizabeth Lamb's entry of wooden sculpture also received an award.

New Officers.

At the dinner-meeting Thursday, the group elected Helen Busacher, president; Elizabeth Lamb, vice president; Glenna Berck, secretary; Lola Everingham, treasurer; Delores Ericson, historian; Dorothy Bimson, corresponding secretary; Kathleen Schacker, social chairman; Patsy Benson, alumni chairman; and Maryjean Corcoran, publicity chairman.

Gophers Slap Scarlet In Season Opener

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (Special to Daily Nebraskan)—The Nebraska Cornhuskers went out to face the Minnesota Gophers supplied with plenty of T plays, but the men of Bernie Bierman had more than a few such tricks themselves and carved out a 33 to 6 win over the Huskers here Saturday afternoon.

A crowd of over 50,000 fans sat in on the spectacle of the Gophers, usually strict advocates of straight hard football, switch to a lightning fast passing game which produced a decisive victory in the first game of the season for both elevens.

UN Scores.

Only once did Bernie Masterson's men get their T formation working. Nebraska's lone offensive splurge began on their own 33 early in the third quarter after Halfback Roy Long took Sandberg's punt.

Tom Novak and Long moved the ball past the midfield mark where Quarterback Sam Vacanti called on Bill Moomey for ball-toting chores. Moomey dashed 22 yards on a reverse which had the Gophers baffled, to put the ball within scoring distance.

Vacanti then tossed the only pass which the Huskers completed all day to put the ball on the 16-yard line. Novak charged to the 10 from where Moomey again broke loose and sailed across the goal for Nebraska's only score.

Jerry Moore's attempted conversion failed and that was all of the Husker point making for the afternoon.

Minnesota got off to an early lead when Leo Nomellini broke through the Nebraska line to block Long's attempted punt. The ball rolled out of the end zone for an automatic safety.

It was Ev Faunce, former Iowa State player, who sparked the Gopher offense. Faunce entered the contest early in the first quarter after starting halfback Tom Cates was removed because of injuries.

Faunce Stars.

For the remainder of the afternoon the Fergus Falls, Minn., flash was almost unstoppable. Time and again he pitched aerial bombshells into the Nebraska defenses. All told, Faunce completed 11 of 12 attempts for a gain of 129 yards.

Passes to Baumgartner and Sandberg put the ball in scoring position for the initial Minnesota touchdown early in the second quarter. The ball was on the three yard line when Right Halfback Chuck Avery skirted the Cornhusker line to score. Vern Gagne's placement was perfect and the Norsemen led 8 to 0 with six minutes gone.

The second Minnesota score came on another series of passes

Theatre Group Entertains 500 At Open House

Over 500 students attended an open-house party given by Nebraska Masquers in the Temple theater last week for students interested in University Theatre and its activities.

Blanche Duckworth, Masquers president; Max Whitaker, University Theater technical director; Dallas Williams, theater director; and C. E. Fleck, experimental theater director, gave welcoming addresses. Romulo Soldevilla, instructor in speech, was master of ceremonies. The program consisted of take-off skits based on "Hay Fever," "Seven Sisters," and "Wingless Victory."

With casts selected from the audience, Masquers presented a preview skit of "The Girl of the Golden West," a University Theater production to be sponsored and directed by Masquers.

Students Get Activity Tickets Next Tuesday

Students who purchased student activity tickets may pick them up in the Coliseum Tuesday, Oct. 1, from 8 to 5, according to A. J. Lewandowski, director of intercollegiate athletics.

The tickets will be filed alphabetically on tables on the floor of the Coliseum, and students must present their identification cards to obtain their tickets. Anyone receiving a block must have his identification card and sign a receipt.

Director Lewandowski also announced the sale of student activity tickets Wednesday, Oct. 2, in the Coliseum ticket office, for those who have not bought them. In order to purchase these, students must bring $6.60 and identification cards.

Kosmet Klub Actives Entertain Prospective Pledges at Smoker

The Kosmet Klub, men's dramatic society, entertained 25 prospective pledges at a smoker Wednesday night in the Union faculty lounge and president John Dall introduced the present actives and explained the club's history and plans for the coming year.

This meeting marked the full return of Kosmet Klub to campus activities. Inactive during the war years, the club was reorganized last spring and sponsored the fraternity skit show. This year will include the first complete program of activities since before the war.

Year's Plans.

Plans for the coming year are the annual fall skit show and selection of Prince Kosmet and a beauty queen, as well as an original musical-comedy to be produced next spring.

Active members present at the smoker were Ken Younger, Kayo Loudon, Walt Dorothy, Dick Lahr, Van Westover, Darrel Devoe, Arleigh Batson, John Dale, John Slothower, Harry Mease, Fred Teller, Av Bondarin, Stan Johnson, Bill Waldie, Jack Wilson, and Jack Buffington. Dick Folda, retiring president also attended the affair.

A list of the new pledges will appear in the Daily Nebraskan at a later date, following approval by the university administration.

R. A. Gustavson, Capt. M. Mathews Flown to Chicago

Chancellor R. A. Gustavson and Captain M. D. Mathews, NROTC commanding officer, flew to Chicago in a navy plane last Thursday for an NROTC Presidents meeting.

The presidents, chancellors and commanding officers of the 52 naval units in the universities of the country held a meeting to determine policies of the units.

Gustavson and Mathews returned to Lincoln yesterday, according to the university publicity office.

Radio Classes Large; Offices, Labs, Rebuilt

Lab, office and class rooms are being remodeled for use by the largest radio classes in the department's six year history.

The studio rehearsal laboratories, expected to be completed next week, will enable three groups of students to work in the sound-proof studios simultaneously. Two studios will be ready for live-program work by 1947, if sound-proof material is available by that time.

Other additions to the radio department's equipment are four portable recording units and one play-back unit to be used primarily by radio students and also by the speech department.

Alpha Epsilon Rho, radio honorary fraternity, recently established Mu chapter here. The largest radio fraternity in existence, it has chapters at universities throughout the country.
