Rally Tonight!

"This is the rally of rallies! Don't miss it!" she screamed, and then quietly fainted into the arms of Carton Broderick, Jr., to-wit, Yehudi, to-wit, the little man who wasn't there.

After Dodie Easterbrook was revived, she gave out, coherently and otherwise, with the scoop on tonight's "Rahrah" session.

"Now get this—at 7:15 tonight, at 16th and S, by the Theta house, out in the street, it all begins. Cobs, Tassels, and cheerleaders, in true energetic form, will start the ball rolling, will get everyone out, and proceed down S street to the mall between teachers and Andrews. The tune of a pep band, 15 strong, that's going to blare, 'twil curl yer hair, but I don't care, dah de dah . . .

"Where was I? Oh! There'll be songs, cheers, and lots of zip and spirit, but now check this: two well known faculty members, won't say who now, but you know 'em, will lead cheers, and two other notorious instructors will read extemporaneous speeches written especially for them by the Awgwan staff! No foolin', the rally's going to be terrific. Rally, did I say? Yes . . . Rally, rally, rally!" and Cheerleader Easterbrook was up and gone before anyone else could catch his breath.

That's it, guys and gals. Tonight at 7:15 at 16th and S street. The first home game! Rah! Rah! Rah!

Any church group wishing announcement of their meetings and services to be included in the Church story, published each Friday in the Nebraskan, must send or bring the announcements to the Nebraskan office by Thursday noon, according to Mary Lou Blumel, news editor.

High School Bands Will Play at Game

With 18 Nebraska high schools represented at the fifth annual high school band day, some 1,500 meetings, the early elections of band members will be participating in Saturday's stadium activi-ties, Don Lentz, university band director, announced.

> Tomorrow morning a drill session will be held on the freshmen football field west of the coliseum with each band giving a seven minute performance. Open to the public, this band session will begin at 9:30 a. m. and last until 11:00. These bands will not compete for ratings, but judges from the school of music will offer constructive criticism to each band.

Sales Begin

A 12-day Cornhusker drive begins Monday, according to Dean Skokan, Cornhusker business manager, with only 3,000 copies of the university yearbook scheduled to be published.

Corn Cobs and Tassels will combine efforts in the annual campaign, Skokan pointed out, and added that the books will be distributed on a first come, first served basis.

All Tassels and Cobs will be equipped with receipt books from Oct. 7 until the supply is exhausted and each group will be prepared to sell the books at any time during that period.

increase in the overall costs of the nor Veterans. Tickets are $1.50 per 47 Cornhusker, students will pay only 50 cents more for the book year, bringing the total cost to $5.50 per volume. Greater size, improved coverage and colorpictures have all contributed to the higher costs but Skokan predicts the 1947 Cornhusker to be one of the finest editions ever printed on

Group Heads

Presidents of university organizations will explain their individual activities to new students at two meetings scheduled for October 9 and October 16 at 5 p. m. in the Union ballroom.

At the first meeting, presidents of the University Theater, AUF, BABW, Cornhusker and AWS will describe these activities. Work of the Daily Nebraskan, YWCA, Work WAA, Tassels and Alpha Lambda Delta will be the subjects for the meeting October 16. Tentative plans are being made for explanation of men's activities, according to Mimi Ann Johnson, president of AWS.

The 1946 edition of the Nebraska football team will take the field before a home crowd for the first time Saturday afternoon at 2:00 when the Huskers battle the Kansas State Wildcats in a Big Six football encounter, the first loop game of the season for either squad.

A battle of the airlanes is expected, for the Kansas State team, acknowledging the Huskers' weakness against passes at Minnesota last week, is prepared to keep the Nebraska pass defense on edge thruout the afternoon.

Plays Tonite

Eddy Haddad's band will play from 9 to 12 tonight for a Veterans' Organization dance in the Union ballroom.

The dance is open to all students and their guests, and is not Altho there has been a $3.50 limited to Organization members couple, 76 cents for individuals.

> Door prizes are hard to get items-ask any woman-and will be given at intermission for both men and women. Prize numbers will be distributed thru the use of balloons. Cokes will be sold on the third floor balcony of the Union.

> Haddad's band has just completed a record-breaking engagement at Lake Okoboji, a summer resort. The contract for the Vet's dance was signed in June.

Gamma Mu Theta Hears Dr. Warner Discuss Medicine

Dr. Ruth Warner, organization sponsor for Gamma Mu Theta, honorary women's pre-medical sorority, discussed socialized medicine and group health organizations during the group's first dinner meeting of the year, held at the Union Wednesday evening.

President Grace Heins conwhich it was decided to have regular meetings on the second Wednesday evening of each month. Myrlee Holler and Colleen Kahoa were named as the program committee, and special activities for the group were discussed.

All pre-medical girls interested in future Gamma Mu meetings and activities are asked to call Glenda Baack, secretary, at Both teams will be seeking their first win, for while Coach Bernie Masterson's club was bowing to Minnesota 33-6 last week, the 'Cats were taking a 21-7 thumping from Hardin-Simmons.

Nebraska's scoring hopes appear to rest with the winged feet of halfbacks Cletus Fischer, Dick Hutton and Bill Moomey, all of whom are threats each time they get the ball on quick-opening T formation plays. Not to be ignored is the passing arm of quarterback Sam Vacanti who had an off day at Minneapolis last week, The rugged signal-caller will be wearing a nose guard to protect a severely lacerated nose, a reminder of last week's Minnesota game.

The visiting Wildcats are big. Their forward wall does not contain a man under 200 pounds, while backfield weights are about the same as the Huskers' except for flyweight Harry Merriman, 138 pound halfback who is ex-pected to start for the Manhattan crew.

Two changes are anticipated in

Frosh English Classes Enroll Over 4,000

With over 4,000 students enrolled in beginning English, freshmen English classes this year are the largest in the university's history.

To accommodate the increased number of students, there are 103 sections which include noon. Twenty-six faculty members are instructing freshman English courses. This is an increase of 12 over last year. In 1938-1939, the freshman English staff consisted of 18.

Supplies have been available for all classes, but Kenneth Forward, supervisor of this depart-ment, believes sufficient books may not be available for English 1.

Wishnow Names University Orchestra Members Today

Selecting a combined person-nel of 78 members, Emanuel Wish-piano soloist playing Gershwin's now, director, announced today the University orchestra players chosen to present the orchestral events of the campus musical season.

Mr. Wishnow stated "At the beginning of a school year, I have never before had as many experienced players apply." "In addition," he continued, "there is a better-balanced instrumentation and a higher proficiency as well,"

Four major projects are planned for the first semester. In addition to forming the orchestra for the "Messiah" and the late semester performance of the opera, "Pag-Hacci," the University orchestra will appear in two concerts each featuring soloists.

The first of these are Nov. 17 when the Union will sponsor the orchestra in an all-contemporary piano soloist playing Gershwin's "Rahpsody in Blue," while the orchestra will offer compositions by the Americans Aaron Copland and Samuel Barber. On January 12, three graduate students will solo with the orchestra.

Mr. Wishnow points out that he is still able to accept viola and cello players. The personnel as it stands now includes:

Concertmaster Alice Saunders Aleta Snell Aleta Sneil
Shirley Rigg
Helen Murray
