Football . . .

Scarlet in football prowess. The only time the Kansas State team threatened to cross the Husker goal line was early in the first quarter.

The Purple squad lost the toss and kicked off. After three unsuccessful running plays left the ball on the Nebraska 22, Vacanti dropped back to punt. He fumbled the pass from center and in an attempted run, got back to the 24 where the Wildcats took over.

Wildcats Threaten.
Kansas State moved the ball to the Husker one-foot line and had four downs to make the distance, but Fred Lorenz, Ed Schwartzkopf, Cary Samuelson and Vern Stimer held fast on two running plays and third* and fourth down passes were incomplete.

Roy Long's punt was almost blocked and once more the Manhattan team moved within the 10 yard line, but again Nebraska held.

Those two attempts were the extent of the Kansas State attack, except for unsuccessful passes which were the order of the day every time the Wildcats got the ball. Nebraska, however, had learned its lesson in pass defense and the continued aerial efforts netted the Kansas State team nothing in the scoring column.

Hutton scored the first Nebraska touchdown when he raced wide around his own right end for 32 yards, outfoxing several Wildcat tacklers who had clear shots at him. Vacanti added the extra point, kicking from the 17 yard line after a holding penalty had nullified his successful attempt from the two yard stripe.

In the second quarter Moomy climaxed a sustained drive from the Nebraska 21, when he took a pass in the flat from Vacanti and scooted nine yards to paydirt. This time Vacanti missed the conversion after a second holding penalty had squelched a bullseye from the regulation distance.

K-Staters Tire

Following the halftime rest, Nebraska rolled over the tiring Wildcats for two counters in the third period. Hutton tallied the first score of the quarter by taking Vacanti's long pass, and Moore added another six points by driving over from the four yard line.

A pass from game captain Fred Metheny to End Jack Pesek was good for 40 yards and put the ball on the four from where Moore plunged over.

Moore, regular fullback last year, added the final points of the day three minutes after the fourth period opened by slipping thru a hole in the K State line to score from three yards out. Bob Tegt missed the placements following both Moore touchdowns.

Thruout much of the second half both teams battled ineffectively in the midfield area as substitutes took over the point-making responsibilities.

Quarterback Al Bandy and Fullback Karl Kramer, who put two kicks out of bounds deep in Nebraska territory, were about all the Wildcats had to offer.

Penalties Hurt

The Huskers indicated that they had partially conquered the pass defense weakness, and showed flashes of offensive ability, altho the play was ragged much of the time. Frequent penalties and fumbles thwarted scoring drives, the Kansas fumbling four times and losing 55 yards on penalties. Nebraska lost 130 1/2 yards of penalties and fumbled twice, recovering one of the bobbles.

Scarlet line play was uniformly good, as the UN forwards smothered all Wildcat attempts to gain, and Hobbs' Adams' aggregation wound up the afternoon with a net loss of 44 yards.

Thruout the afternoon the Huskers gained a total of 354 yards, 124 via the airlines. Line-ups:

Nebraska	pos.	Kansas State
Hazen	Vargon
Samuelson	McNeil
Lorenz	Berry
Partington	Snyder
Schwartzkopf	Resetar
Dibiase	Heath
Cochrane	Sharp
Vacanti	Grimes

Sidelights On UN-Wildcat Football Battle

BY BILL SWANSON.

The thrill of the opening home game of the season! The houses on the campus full to overflowing with returning alums . . . The traffic so heavy on R street that the Lincoln police force had a special detail of men to direct traffic on that thoroughfare . . . Everything and everybody alive with excitement and activity . . . That was the scene yesterday before the Husker-K. State battle.

On entering the stadium, it was seen that the place would be packed to capacity before game time. The Knot-Hole sections at both ends of the field were jammed at least an hour before the kickoff.

Late comers missed a pregame spectacle in the form of a colorful parade of the visiting high schools which were present for the annual Band Day celebration.

Rain Threatened.

Many an anxious eye was cast skyward, on the alert for the rain which seemed imminent. The cautious souls who feared the inclement weather added to the color of the scene with their brilliant rain coats and umbrellas. Many U of N men were seen wearing hats for the first time in the current college year—simply couldn't afford to get those curls wet.

The opening exercise, a salutation to the new chancellor, R. G. Gustavson, presented by the smart-stepping Husker band under the direction of Don Lentz and under the field leadership of "Shorty" Tangeman was especially effective. The Corn Cobs and the Tassels were well-drilled in their part of the opening ceremony.

The kickoff with 35,000 throats cheering was reminiscent of old Husker games when the stadium was filled to capacity for every game.

Nebraska's goal line stand on the six inch line early in the first quarter also recalled flashes of earlier Husker form as did the 35 yard jaunt of fleet Dick Hutton—shades of Cardwell, perhaps.

The game ran true to early season form with a multitude of long penalties and some very poor ball handling.

The half-time intermission was filled with a panorama of color as the Varsity Band again took the field, flanked on either side by eight high school bands, to play the Star-Spangled Banner and a number of college pieces. The short-skirted, high stepping majorettes were especially appealing to some of the dateless wonders in the student section.

The card sections carried off the stunts in a very satisfactory manner, although as always, there were a few slip-ups and yellow or red cards appeared where all should have been true blue. Only the final picture of the ear of corn with "Husker" spelled below in red letters was perfect. The athletic department and the Pep organizations are to be congratulated for a well-developed and displayed card attraction.

All in all, it was a perfect day for the Cornhuskers and their boosters. We rang up our first victory of the season and there is a bright prospect for better things to come.

Basketball Free Throw Tourney Opens Tomorrow

The intramural basketball free throw tournament starts Monday at the coliseum. Qualifying rounds of competition are on Monday and Tuesday, with final rounds scheduled for Wednesday.

The final rounds will include the best 32 scorers who will be paired off. If any one of these men fail to appear, alternates composed of the six next high men will replace them.

Points will be awarded each group toward the Jack Best supremacy award. The individual champion will receive a medal and certificate and the winning organization will receive a trophy. Last year's winner was Mack Robinson while the team championship went to Beta Theta Pi.
