

Iowa Poet Will Speak At Convo Tuesday

Paul Engle, Iowa poet, will lecture on "Poetry and Modern Life" in the Union ballroom today at 11 a.m.

According to Life magazine, Engle has always written about the greatness of the country and in his latest book, his poetry has become "intimate and personal." Illustrations used in the book were included in Life's writeup and "these pictures," state the editors, "catch the reflecting tenderness of a father's poems and the gentle charm of a child's growing up."

A midwesterner by birth and choice, Mr. Engle has lived most of his life in Iowa. With the winning of a Rhodes scholarship the poet went to Oxford University in England and obtained the degrees of A.B. and M.A.

ATTENTION, WOMEN!

All unaffiliated women students not living in the residence hall for women and who wish their pictures in the Cornhusker should come to the Cornhusker office for appointments immediately.

The sorority schedule for this week is as follows: Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, according to Jean Fankhauser, managing editor of the Cornhusker.

Upperclassmen Will Go to Polls Today

Three juniors and two seniors are slated as candidates for junior and senior class presidents in today's election.

Darrel Devoe, Dake Novotny and Jackie Tobin are running for the junior class prexy position with the names of Donald Chapin and Peggy Shelley appearing on the ballot as senior candidates.

City campus polls will be open from 9 a. m. until 7 p. m. in the Union basement. Voters may enter the Union on the east side and must have their identification card to be admitted. Ag polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in Miss Wheeler's office.

The registrar's office will send a listing of junior and senior students eligible for voting to the polls. To be eligible to vote for junior class president, the student must have 53 to 88 credit hours, and students with 88 or more credit hours will be considered a graduating senior.

Student Council members stress that rules of procedure must be closely observed.

The election provisions of the Student Council constitution, article IV, affirm:

Provisions.

"No vote shall be solicited at the polls or in the building in which election is being held during election day. No money shall be spent in behalf of any candidate. No printed, mimeographed, typed or otherwise published material in behalf of any candidate shall be permitted except the impartial announcements of the candidates appearing in the press. Any candidate violating these rules either in person or through his supporters shall thereby become ineligible."

Activities of the candidates for junior class president are: Darrel Devoe, Kosmet Klub, Corn Cobs, and Phi Gamma Delta; Dake Novotny, Student Union Board, Daily Nebraskan news editor, and Beta Theta Pi; Jackie Tobin, Tassels, Awgwan exchange manager, Newman club and Alpha Omicron Pi. Home Ec Class Hears Chinese Artist's Lecture

Chang Shu-Chi, prominent Chinese artist, lectured on painting and gave demonstrations of his work last week to students of design in the home economics department.

Reproductions of Mr. Chang's most famous paintings were shown as well as those he produced during the lecture to illustrate the methods of the artist.

Back to China

Mr. Chang, formerly professor of arts at National Central University in Nanking, is returning to China after five years in the United States. He came to this country at the invitation of the State Department for the promotion of cultural relations between the U. S. and China. While in Lincoln, he was the guest of his former pupil, Miss Mei Yu Chen, graduate student in Home Economics.

In China, Mr. Chang won pre-eminence among modern painters of birds and flowers. His painting, "The Hundred Doves," brought him recognition in this country. A gift to President Roosevelt, it symbolized international peace.

BABW Sponsors Meeting Tonight In Union Parlors

An informal get-together sponsored by the BABW for women living off the campus will be held tonight at 7 p. m. in parlors X and Y of the Union, according to Helen Wulf, president.

Because of crowded dormitories hundreds of women are living in private homes scattered throughout the city. This series of meetings is to acquaint all off-campus university women with other students and to serve as a link between them and the campus activities.

Plans are underway for a get-acquainted dance, hay ride, and a newsletter. All women who have not been previously notified are welcome to attend, Miss Wulf stated.

Student Council

The Student Council judiciary committee will meet at 8 p. m. in the council office to validate the returns from the junior and senior class elections.

All members of the elections committee must be present when the polls close at 7 p. m. to tabulate the vote.

Union Director Lists Activities For This Week

The first siesta film hour of the year will begin at 4 p. m. today in the Union lounge, with three features and a March of Time newsreel. The features include "Keyboard Concert," "Two Little Lambs," and "Hub of the World."

Under the supervision of Donna McCandless, a beginning class in social dancing, first in a series of six, will be held in the ballroom tonight at 7:30. These classes which are open to everyone will be held every Tuesday night through November 12, and will include instruction in tango, conga, and samba.

Noon hour dances and matinee dances from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m. have been scheduled for both Wednesday and Thursday.

School of Music Reports Shortage Of Instruments

Due to a record enrollment in the university school of music, a critical shortage of musical instruments used to instruct students has developed, it was reported Monday by Dr. Arthur Westbrook, school director.

He has appealed to Lincoln residents owning violins, cellos, horns and clarinets not in use to loan them to the university.

Campus Heads To Enumerate Group Activities

Campus organization presidents will explain their individual activities to new students tomorrow at 5 p. m. in the Union ballroom.

Speaking Wednesday evening will be Arlie Swanson of the University Theater; Mary Claire Phillips, director of AUF; Helen Wulf, president of BABW; Merril Shutt, editor of the Cornhusker; and Mimi Ann Johnson, president of AWS.

Work of the Daily Nebraskan, YWCA, WAA, Tassels and Alpha Lambda Delta will be the topics at a meeting October 16. Tentative plans are being made for explanation of men's activities, according to Mimi Ann Johnson, president of AWS.

Miles Will Talk At Next Meeting Of Young Demos

Clarence Miles, candidate for Lancaster county attorney, will speak at the next meeting of the Demo-Vets and Young Democrats which will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday evening in the YMCA parlor room of the Temple theater.

Don Morrow, chairman, declared that plans for a democratic political rally will be discussed at this next meeting, besides methods of encouraging students to register for the coming elections.

Jerry Hoelscher Wins Theater Prize

Jerry Hoelscher, university sophomore, won the Capitol theater amateur contest last Friday night, according to the theater manager, R. W. Buchanan. Hoelscher plays the accordion and was presented with an Eversharp fountain pen.

These amateur nights will be a regular feature at the Capitol every Friday night, the manager said and everyone is invited to take part if they so desire.

VESPERS TONIGHT
All-University Vespers will be held at 5 p.m. tonight in XYZ parlors of the Union. Miss Mildred Taylor, executive secretary of the Y. W. C. A. will offer the meditation, speaking on "Religious Cooperation for One World." The Vesper Choir will sing, and Shirley Hinds and Phil Frandson will assist in the service.
