

Council Plans Kansas Migration

Seniors Elect Don Chapin President

Donald Chapin was elected president of the senior class when students went to the poles yesterday. The junior election was declared invalid.

According to Bob Coonley, student council president, the junior election was declared invalid because the discrepancy between signed voters and ballots was equal to the difference in count for the two leading candidates.

Tabulation of the junior class votes is as follows: Jackie Tobin, 56; Dake Novotny, 174; Darrell Devote, 180; one invalid vote; total, 411; signed registration, 404.

The judiciary committee of the student council announced that a registration shall be held for all students of junior standing Thursday, October 10, between noon and 7 p. m., in the Student Union. The list of registrants will be validated by the student council with the official records in the registrar's office before the second election is held. The second election date is set for Tuesday, October 15, unless the registrar cannot check the lists by that time.

Senior election results are: Donald Chapin, 169; Peggy Shelly, 132; total, 301; signed registration, 294. Chapin is president of the Sigma Nu house.

Poet Speaks At Opening Convocation

By Elmer Sprague.

Poet Paul Engle, addressing the opening university convocation Tuesday morning, began by saying, "You can write poetry for the same reason you do anything else in the world; because you want to do it."

"Writing a poem begins in living a poem," he said. "A poet is a supersensitive person, who lives intensely and remembers most of what he sees and does. Then when the poetic motive hits him, the poet is ready to dig into his remembered experience to poetically illustrate and amplify his original idea."

The speaker stressed that writing poetry is more than a matter of inspiration. The inspiration annoys the poet into starting to write, but the success of the poem depends also on the fullness of the poet's heart and mind. As Mr. Engle put it, the poet is a man of deep experience who has become a poet, before he starts to write. Poems begin at any time in the poet's life when he begins to remember.

Mr. Engle justified his theories on how poetry comes to be written, by reading some of his own poems. He told of the myriad ex-

Delta Sigma Pi Hears Compton Speak Monday

R. L. Compton, chief of personnel service at Western Electric, spoke on "Place of Training and Safety in the Field of Industrial Relations" to members of Delta Sigma Pi, honorary Bizad organization, at their meeting Monday night.

Stressing the importance of the development of safety training programs and the training of employees for technical and non-technical jobs within industry, Compton said that as companies grow, they should recognize the needs of a safety program and develop this program with the growth of the company.

New pledges to Delta Sigma Pi are Keith Anderson, Bob Allgood and Jack Limbaugh.

Jayhawk Student Special Scheduled

For the first time in five seasons of Husker football the Student Migration committee, headed by Doris Easterbrook, has announced the scheduling of a special train for Lawrence, Kansas, leaving at 7 a. m., Saturday, Oct. 19, the date of the Nebraska-Kansas University game.

In co-operation with the Union Pacific railroad this special train will arrive in Lawrence at 12:30, and leave Saturday night at 11:45 arriving in Lincoln at approximately 5:30 Sunday morning.

The Migration committee, composed of Miss Easterbrook, Don Kline, Jo Ackerman and Ned Raun, has emphasized that there will be absolutely no drinking by participants in the trip and that each individual student will be responsible for meeting the train schedule. Corn Cobs, Tassels and the Student Council will act in their regular capacities to see that the two rules are enforced.

Experimental Theater Opens Fall Season

The Experimental Theater will open its 1946-47 season with the presentation of "Laura" on October 17, Clarence Flick, Director of the Experimental Division of the University Theater announced. Any person holding a University Theater season ticket will be admitted. However, admission will be charged for those who are not patrons of the University Theater.

Casts for the production of "Laura" will include Mark McPherson, played by Harold Anderson; Danny Dorgan, Herbert Spence; Waldo Lydecker, Dean Graunke; Mrs. Dorgan, Blanche Duckworth; Bessie Clary, Barbara Berggren; Shelby Carpenter, Jay Holmes; A girl, Connie Cathcart; and Olson, Bill Lucas.

Murder Mystery.

"Laura" is a brilliant and tense murder-mystery, styled for the stage by Vera Caspary and George Sklar. As a 1945 movie, it was rated as one of the top motion pictures; and last Sunday it drew large crowds of students at its showing in the Union.

The Experimental Theater production of "Laura" will first have a private showing for the state bankers' convention here on October 12, and then will be presented to the public on October 17. It is the first of a series of Experimental Theater programs to which all University Theater patrons are admitted free.

According to Mr. Flick, Director, the Experimental Theater serves as a workshop, a sort of

Famed Violinist Records Music For New Movie

When pianist Jose Iturbi recorded the Chopin score for "Song to Remember," he probably didn't know that the talent of his fellow concert artists would soon be put to similar use. But Yehudi Menuhin, violin virtuoso who plays at 8:30 in the coliseum tonight, can tell him now.

Late this summer, Menuhin recorded near 45 minutes of music by the great violinist and composer Niccolò Paganini, for the studios of J. Arthur Rank, producers of "Caesar and Cleopatra." The picture, based on the life of the fabulous Paganini, is entitled "The Magic Bow," altho Americans may see the British film under another title.

Technician Too.

Menuhin not only lends the magic of his own bow to the production, but his technical advice as well since he reputedly knows more than any other living person about the life and times of his predecessor. Except for a few close-ups of his hands, Menuhin will not appear in the film.

The entire plot of the picture is being adapted to Menuhin's musical sequences. It is perhaps the first time in the history of the motion picture that moviegoers will see a picture whose plot is woven into a musical background, instead of a musical background woven and dubbed into the film action.

Single admission tickets will be on sale tonight at the coliseum for $3. Students may still purchase $5 season tickets at the School of Music and Union offices. Regular reserved season ticket sales are handled thru the inside box office of the Stuart Theater.

Social Workers Schedule Meeting In Union Tonight

The first meeting of the American Association of Social Workers will be held at the Union today. Anyone interested is invited to attend. Dinner will be at 6:15 and the meeting at 7:15.

The speakers will be Rev. James T. Maehan, professor at the University of St. Louis, and an authority on rural life, who will speak on the topic of Rural Leadership.

The officers of this association are: The Very Rev. Msgr. Joseph Pruzdzik, president; Mrs. Dorothy Hubbard, vice president; Mrs. Gertrude Allen, secretary; Mrs. Hazel Hardin, treasurer; Ruth Pierce, program chairman. Meetings are held once each month.

Journalism Banquet Slated For Thursday

One event of this school year which will have adequate newspaper coverage, you may be sure, is the journalism achievement dinner this Thursday at 7 p. m. in the Union main dining room.

More than 75 newspaper reporters, editors, and those aspiring to those positions, will be gathered for the rewarding of long hours spent slaving over Daily Nebraskan, Cornhusker and Awgwan copy tramping the corridors of the City Hall, police station and county court house. Five upperclassmen who have made the most outstanding records in their years at the school of journalism, and five sophomores whose awards will be made on the basis of their freshman work, will receive gold achievement keys from the faculty committee.

Began Awards.

Last year the school of journalism began a program designed to strengthen and improve school journalism on the high school and college level over the state. In the spring, 15 silver achievement keys, bearing the seal of the university, were awarded by the school of journalism to senior students in Nebraska high schools who had done especially good work on their school papers. These students, if they are now attending

Rhodes Scholarships Come Back to Campus This Year

After a lapse of six wartime years Rhodes scholarships, which entitle recipients to study at Oxford university, are again available to University of Nebraska students, C. H. Oldfather, dean of the college of Arts and Sciences, announced today.

In addition to the 32 annual scholarships allotted the United States, sixteen special war service scholarships have been made available this year. Scholarship winners will enter the University of Oxford in October, 1947, for a minimum of two and possibly three years and receive a basic annual stipend of $1,600 which may be raised to about $2,000.

Application Blanks

Application blanks may be obtained from Dean Oldfather in 112 SS, and must be filed with his office by noon, October 19. Faculty committee for examination of applicants comprises Professors David Dow, Lane Lancaster, Harold Manter, Clarence McNeill and Chairman C. H. Oldfather.

Conditions of eligibility as announced by Oldfather are: Male citizen of the United States and unmarried (except for war service scholarships, for which marriage is not a bar); born on or after October 1, 1922 and before October 1, 1928. War service scholars however, may be born on or after October 1, 1915 and before October 1, 1928. Candidates must at time of application have junior standing.

Qualifications

Qualifications upon which final selection of scholars will be made, as provided for by the will of Cecil Rhodes are literary and scholastic ability and attainments; quality of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness, and fellowship; exhibition of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates; physical vigor, as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

University students recommended for scholarships by the faculty committee will then be examined, along with students from all other Nebraska colleges, by a state committee of selection. The state of Nebraska committee will nominate three students who will then appear before the six-state district committee. The district committee, of which there are eight, then selects six men as Rhodes scholars.

District five, of which Nebraska is a member, comprises Minnesota, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas. Rhodes himself intended for a student from each state of the Union to attend Oxford, but mistakenly thought there to be only thirty-two states. This error makes necessary the district divisions of the United States.

Expenses

Total expenses for the trip, including train fare and a ticket to the game, will be $11.00. This is the minimum amount that can be charged and Miss Easterbrook emphasized that there will be no "middle-man" profit involved. The only organization to derive any profit will be the W.A.A. since concessions on the train will be under the group's supervision.

Tickets for the game will be sold in the Athletic Director's office in the coliseum and the Union Pacific railroad company has agreed to set up an office in the foyer of the same building.

Srb Announces Dates of Home Ec Workshop

The University Home Economics department will act as the hostess to all college home economic clubs of Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Nebraska at the home economics workshop in Lincoln, October 18 and 19, according to Marianne Srb, general chairman.

A total of 75 girls who are majoring in this field are expected to take part in forums concerning the future of home economics in the world, the progress of home economics as individual clubs, and the importance of research as a career. Points of interest from the discussion which took place at the national convention in Cleveland last spring will be presented.

Workshop

The workshop will open at 9 a. m. Friday with registration and will be succeeded by tours of research labs pertaining to nutrition and kitchen utensils. Following a luncheon at noon will be the business meetings. After a tour of the capitol building at 4:15 p. m., Gov. Dwight Griswold will speak to the girls.

A dinner in the Union XYZ parlors will be conducted by Marjlyn Hartsook, toastmistress. Dr. G. W. Rosenlof will be the principle speaker.

Advance registration for all University of Nebraska women who wish to participate is necessary. Tickets for the dinner Friday night will be available during home economics club registration beginning Wednesday, October 9.
