

EDITORIAL * * COMMENT

The Daily Nebraskan

FORTY-FIFTH YEAR

Subscription rates are $1.50 per semester, $2.00 per semester mailed, or $2.00 for the college year, $3.00 mailed. Single copy 5c. Published daily during the school year except Mondays and Saturdays, vacations and examination periods, by the students of the University of Nebraska under the supervision of the Publication Board. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office in Lincoln, Nebraska, under Act of Congress, March 3, 1879, and at special rate of postage provided for in section 1103, act of October 2, 1917, authorized September 30, 1922.

EDITORIAL STAFF.

Editor Phyllis Teagarden
 Managing Editors . . . Shirley Jenkins, Mary Alice Cawood
 News Editors: Dale Novotny, Phyllis Mortlock, Jack Hill, Mary Louise Blumel, Jeanne Kerrigan.
 Sports Editor George Miller
 Business Manager Jim Van Landingham
 Assistant Business Managers . . . Dorothy Lasher, Byron Barnick
 Circulation Manager Keith Jones

Classes as Usual...

Rumor has it that classes will be dismissed Saturday because of the student migration to the KU game, and this is to inform the general public that classes will be held as scheduled.

In a statement from Dr. George W. Rosenlof, Director of Admissions, he said that "no provision has been made by the faculty for dismissing classes, and consequently, classes would be conducted as scheduled." Explaining his statement, Rosenlof added that if classes were dismissed for the migration, other similar affairs would be planned in the future, expecting the same policy of temporarily suspending class sessions.

According to university police, a student is entitled to three unexcused absences during a semester, and Rosenlof hinted that this was a fine opportunity for one of them. "It is not that the administration does not sanction athletic activities. To the contrary, they support them, but it is well to keep in mind that the student's primary purpose here is to study," he concluded.

The KU migration is one of the big events of the football season, and should be well supported on behalf of the university itself and the student spirit that goes to make that university a fine one—one that is alive and constructive.

While Dr. Rosenlof agreed that the migration was a fine show of spirit, he did not feel that it was fair to dismiss classes this time in light of future occasions that would merit the same attention.

Theater Opens Winter Season With "Laura"

By Eddie McCullough.

Dean Graunke gave a flawless performance last night in the Experimental Theater's presentation of "Laura," the murder mystery which Hollywood recently filmed, starring Gene Tierney, Dana Andrews, and Clifton Webb.

As the manic-depressive Waldo Lydecker, lover-murderer, Mr. Graunke gave a superb interpretation of Clifton Webb's role, capturing the audience with his fine character portrayal. His speech, mannerisms, and actions were performed with the skill of an artist devoted to tiring rehearsals. He stole scenes with all the grace of a seasoned veteran.

Upon transferring the story from the cinema to the theater, the flash-back technique was necessarily lost, and it was not possible to build up the impression of mystery and charm which instilled a love in the audience for the dead Laura. Connie Cathcart, however, greatly replaced the loss with her own natural charm. Connie and her leading man, Harold Anderson, are both newcomers to the Experimental Theater. Anderson portrayed the role of Detective McPherson with conviction.

Newcomer.

Jay Holmes, another newcomer, is greatly reminiscent of Vincent Price, who portrayed the same role on the screen, and has the same low, soft voice which also helped Price portray the dissipated Southerner.

Barbara Berggren, a veteran of the Experimental Theater, did a convincing job as Laura's Irish maid, which would seem difficult for a Swede, but not for Barbara.

Good supporting performances were also given by Herbert Spence, the bobby-soxer who shared the multitude's unrequited love for Laura, Blanche Duckworth as his worried mother, and Bill Lucas, who said two words—and got laughs on both of them. Missing notably was the accompanying music, "Laura," which was played only twice on a phonograph.

SUBSISTENCE ALLOWANCE.

There has been some misunderstanding as to how much subsistence allowance will be paid to veterans under the G.I. Bill who are also earning money by reason of employment. Public Law 679 amends the G. I. Bill so that no veteran "on-the-job" training or training can receive more than $110 per month from outside employment without experiencing a proportional cut in subsistence allowance. This means that a student at the university who receives $111 per month from outside employment will have one dollar deducted from his subsistence allowance; a student receiving $112 per month would have two dollars deducted from his subsistence allowance, and so on.

When a student without dependencies receives $175 or more per month from outside employment he will then receive no subsistence allowance from the Veterans Administration. In like manner a student who has dependents and who receives $200 or more per month from outside employment will receive no subsistence allowance from the Veterans Administration. Of course, any student who receives $110 or less per month will receive his full subsistence.

If at any time during the semester a veteran's renumeration from employment changes so that he receives more than $110 per month where he was not receiving that much previously, he is required to report this change to the Veterans Administration. Conversely, if his renumeration from employment drops below $110 per month, he should likewise report to the Veterans Administration.

J. P. Colbert, Director University of Nebraska Veterans' Consultation Board.

Recently a writer interviewing Alan Ladd after seeing and hearing him play a scene for his new starring picture, "The Years Before the Mast," asked him what single talent he would credit the most for his phenomenal success. He answered quickly, "My voice."

Church Groups Plan Regular Services, Parties for Weekend

Campus church groups have scheduled regular meetings, services, and several parties as weekend activities.

Newman club members and their friends are invited to attend the CYO masquerade ball tonight at 8 p. m. Admission price is 25 cents and prizes will be given for the best costumes. Msgr. George Schuster will say mass Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in Parlors XYZ of the Student Union. Officers will meet at 10 o'clock.

Scavenger Hunt.

Presbyterian students will hold a scavenger hunt tonight, with the Student House as the place of meeting. The party will start at 7:30 p. m., and will begin with a mixer. Prizes will be awarded to the team completing the hunt first. The Presbyterian Sunday evening forum will be held jointly with the Urban League this week. Students wishing to attend are to meet at 5 p. m. at the Student House, from where transportation to the League meeting at 20th and T streets will be provided.

The Lutheran Chapel service will be held at 10:45 Sunday evening in Room 315 of the Student Union. Holy Communion will be served. Communicants are to register with the Rev. H. Erck, Lutheran pastor. The sermon topic will be, "And Forgive Us

Our Debts." June Gast will accompany the hymns.

The young people of the First Christian church will meet tonight for a hayrack ride, provided the weather is favorable. On Sunday the CYF group will meet at 5 p. m. for the Comparative Religious course and a fellowship meeting.

Foreign Guest.

Mohammed Olouf will be guest speaker at Grace Methodist church Sunday evening. He will speak on the Moslem religion.

University students are invited to the 7:30 p. m. meeting of the Unitarian Young People's group, Sunday at the Unitarian church, 12th and H streets. Camilla Palmer and Arch Johnston will give a report on their investigation of social service needs of the community, and Dr. Carl Storm will lead a discussion on "Dynamic Religion for Youth."

Members of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Room 316 of the Student Union for worship and Bible study. Phil Anderson will continue leading the "Look Thru the Eyes of Apostle Peter," series.

City campus LSA will meet Sunday at 5 p. m. at the First Lutheran church, 17th and A streets. The ag campus group will meet at 6:30 p. m. at the Student Center, 1200 No. 37th street.

Medical Groups Elect Johnson, Sage as Heads

Drs. Earl C. Sage and Herman F. Johnson, members of the University Medical faculty, have been elected to presidencies of two national medicinal societies.

Dr. Sage, chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, has been named head of the Central Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, largest society of these specialists in the nation. Its membership includes 500 doctors from 28 mid-western states.

Dr. Johnson, associate professor of orthopedics, has been named head of the Clinical Orthopedic Society at its convention in Rochester, Minnesota.

Lutheran Groups Attend Conference

Representatives of the Lutheran Student Association, from colleges and universities in Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, will attend the LSU Midwest Regional conference at Lawrence, Kansas, this week end.

Nebraska's delegation of 40 will be in charge of vespers Friday evening and plans to attend the Kansas-Nebraska game Saturday.

Alan Ladd never had a mother in a movie until Kathleen Lockhart played the role in Paramount's "Two Years Before the Mast."

Buffet Dinner This Week

Escaloped Turkey
Vegetable and Fruit Salads
Frozen Green Beans
Chocolate Cake

85¢

5:30 p. m. to 7:00 p. m., Sun., Oct. 20

Union Main Dining Room

Jay Norris, Pianist

TONIGHT is COLLEGE NIGHT

at

College Couples Only

KING'S
THE GAY NITE SPOT

No Stags

Be sure to have your Ident Card

Dancing 9-12 Admission 83c each plus tax Free Booth Reservations

Hay Rack Ride
 B A B W plans a hay rack ride and weinie roast at Pioneer Park for all unaffiliated women on Friday evening. Anyone desiring to attend should call Margie Helmers, 3-4673 or Dorothy Stevens, 3-1513 for further information and for reservations.

Donna R. Gorham Wins $300 Home Ec Scholarship

Donna Rae Gorham a sophomore in the department of home economics at the University, has been revealed as the winner of the $300 scholarship awarded by station WNAX of Yankton, South Dakota.

On the basis of her college average, Miss Gorham, the daughter of E. E. Gorham of Aurora, was granted the scholarship which is given each year to a rural student in home economics. She has previously received recognition for scholarship, being on the university honor list for 1945-46 and receiving a Mortar Board scholarship in her freshman year.

JOHNNY COX
 and Orchestra
 Playing 9 to Midnite
FRIDAY, OCT. 18
 44c per person
Union Ballroom

King's College Night
 By Jack Hill

It looks as if King's College Night has really caught on with the gang, jdgng from the crowd of there last Friday night. Dancing to smooth music of Sonny Henderson's band, there was just enough room in the big ball-room, with jst the right nmbur of kids. And tomorrow will be another special night with Hank Winder and his orchestra splying the music.

We saw a lot of couples you probably know. Jackie King and Gordie Johnson, Fay Simpson and Sid Salzman, and J. C. Clemens and Mary Plouf were there and having a great time. It looked as if Evvy Lukowski and Dick Knudsen, Phil Kokjer and Don Klineschmidt and Sally O'Shea and Mickey McDermott were too busy to say hello, but they managed to stop dancing long enough to see s.

As usual, booths will be reserved free and dancing will go from 9 to 12. Jerry Carpenter, King's manager, has requested that all coples bring their ident cards and that no stags will be admitted.