

Vacanti's Kick Saves U.N.

Field Goal Helps Edge Jays, 16-14

BY GEORGE MILLER

LAWRENCE, KANSAS. — Nebraska's steadily improving Cornhuskers remained undefeated in Big Six play and spoiled the Kansas homecoming celebration by handing George Sauer's Jayhawkers their first defeat 16 to 14 Saturday.

For the first half the Huskers were almost unbelievably superior to the Kansans who were rated as pre-game favorites and only in the second half could Evans and his mates put together anything resembling a sustained drive.

Touchdowns by the Scarlet speed boys, Dick Hutton and Bill Moomey in addition to a field goal early in the fourth quarter by quarterback Sam Vacanti gave Bernie Masterson the first round in the rivalry with his former teammate K.U. Coach George Sauer.

Nebraska's hard-charging line led by game captain

Fred Lorenz effectively halted the Jayhawkers' running game limiting the K.U. eleven to 51 yards on the ground. Only in the passing department did the home team threaten to score and it was on a pair of passes by the dazzling Evans that gave the Kansas team their two touchdowns.

A crowd of 36,000, the largest ever to witness a Jayhawk home game, watched the Huskers leave the field at half time with a 3-0 lead and then come back to take the lead after an Evans pass to Bud French and Don Fambrough's successful conversion had given Sauer's club a 7 to 6 lead midway in the third quarter.

Nebraska scored first when Vacanti fired a pass to Dick Hutton on the Kansas 35. The elusive Auburn halfback eluded an onrushing Jayhawk and then cut diagonally across the field and outraced the Kansas defenders to score. Pass and run covered 52 yards and the Huskers were out in front with six minutes gone in the second quarter.

Vacanti's try for the extra point went wide when he hurried his

Junior Class Election Made Valid by Council

After hearing evidence on all sides of the dispute involving the eligibility of Duke Novotny in the junior class presidential election, the Student Council judiciary committee unanimously decided Friday afternoon that he was eligible for the position and declared Thursday's election valid.

According to a statement issued Friday by members of Sigma Chi, they will appeal the committee decision to the University senate committee as provided for in Article VIII, Section III of the Student Council constitution.

Official election results gave a total of 165 votes for Novotny and 111 for Devoe. John Dale, junior arts and science representative, contested the election under Article IV of the Student Council election rules, with a letter appearing in the Oct. 17 issue of the Daily Nebraskan, signed by Bob Johnson, as the basis for his request that Novotny be ruled ineligible.

Merchant Presides.

Gene Merchant, chairman of the Council judiciary committee, presided at the hearing. Before admitting testimony on behalf of either side, he emphasized to all students attending the session that it was not a debate, merely a hearing of evidence of interested parties.

Opening the proceedings before the judiciary committee, John Dale, in behalf of Devoe, read the following letter:

"Dear John,
"As my representative from Arts and Science college on the Student Council, I wish to present to you an objection in regard to yesterday's election for junior class president.

"Due to election rules and because of a precedent set a few years ago, I feel that one candidate, 'Duke' Novotny, be declared ineligible.

"Article IV of the Student Council constitution states: 'No printed, mimeographed, typed or otherwise published material in behalf of any candidate shall be permitted except the impartial announcements of the candidates appearing in the press. Any candidate violating these rules, either in person or through his supporters, shall thereby become ineligible.'

"In the 'Letterip' column of the Oct. 17, 1946, issue of The Daily Nebraskan a letter was printed which openly supported 'Duke' Novotny. I quote a portion from that letter: "'Duke' Novotny, Beta Theta Pi, Anti-Faction is the candidate for junior class president. If any of you are interested in expressing your disgust of back-room stabbings in politics—use your hal-lois to vote for clean politics, and Novotny.'

Referred to Art. IV.

"Not only is this a direct violation of Article IV, but the Student Council has set a precedent on this matter.

"For your information I quote a portion of 'Sports Arena' by Jim Evinger, a column appearing in the issue of the April 18, 1941 Daily Nebraskan. 'A year ago last fall a certain Kansas high school athlete enrolled at Nebraska. At that time he went unmentioned in the list of big names in sports entering our university.

"This lad came here with the expressed purpose of avoiding any big play concerning his athletic prowess. Upon graduating from his prep school, this athlete sought a school that was not offering him every advantage for his enrolling in that particular institution.

"Many middlewestern colleges offered this star athlete scholarships if he were to enroll at their school. But he didn't. He chose Nebraska, a university which did not bid for his services.

"The choice paid. There was no heavy burden of responsibility placed on this fellow's shoulders. He has gained his place through his own determination. That big boy, as you have probably guessed, is Bob McNutt, the Colby, Kansas, blood-sweating bruiser.

"A member of Ad Lewandowski's Scout Club last fall to preserve another year of athletics eligibility Bob now shines as a great tackle prospect for the 1941-1943 football teams.

"McNutt is taken for granted now as a star for the future in Husker grid annals. His 220 pounds over his six foot frame, coupled with his speed and agility for a boy his size, makes the horizon rosy.

"And now another McNutt is going to

AUF Collection Drive Reaches Quarter Mark

Completing its first week of soliciting, the All University Fund has raised only a quarter of its $2200 quota, Beth Norenberg, treasurer, reported today. With only an approximate $500 received in contributions, $1700 will have to be solicited before Wednesday if the drive is to end as scheduled.

However, if the quota is not reached, the drive will probably continue for several additional days as has been done in the past. If the quota is ultimately reached, the UN students will be accredited for supporting both the Community Chest and the World Student Service Fund with amounts of $1100 contributed to each. Twenty-five organizations are aided through the Community Chest, and among these are the Veterans Service Center and American Legion Service Bureau, Salvation Army, Jewish Welfare

Why Contribute?

WSSF aids students throughout the world who are in need of able and continued assistance along the lines of health service, re-establishing the universities, and educating groups of willing students who, in time, will be the leaders of their nations.

In a previous statement to the Daily Nebraskan, Mary Claire Phillips, director of AUF, said: "I know the question of 'why should I contribute?' is going to confront every solicitor at some time or other while he is on the job, but the reasons for contributing are

University Art Collection Wins Wide Recognition

The university's permanent art collection is receiving an increasing amount of national recognition, according to Dwight Kirsch, director of the university's art galleries.

Kirsch reports that in 1946 alone, nine paintings belonging to the university's permanent collection have been requested for six exhibitions of national scope.

The largest representation of university-owned works were displayed at the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center at their exhibition, which featured 72 pieces from 29 outstanding galleries across the nation.

Included in the galleries which asked for Nebraska-owned pictures for their national shows are: Addison Gallery of American Art at Andover, Mass., Milwaukee Art Institute, New York's Downtown Gallery, Walker Art Center of Minneapolis, and the Kraushaar Galleries of New York.

Innocents Announce Rules For Homecoming Displays

The Innocents Society, men's senior honorary, has announced rules governing the decorations of all organized houses for Homecoming week end.

Bill Thornberg, president of the group, remarked on the Innocents' traditional role as sponsor of house decorations and stated his belief that Homecoming this year "is to be the best and the most colorful in the long history of the University."

The following general rules have been published and the announcement made that failure to comply with them will disqualify the organization for competition in the University Homecoming Cup Award:

1. No display will exceed the maximum cost allowance of $40.00 for each house display.

2. All decorations must be completed by 6:00 p.m., Nov. 1.

3. All entries must be submitted to the Innocents Society by Oct. 24.

The board of judges will consist of three non-student experts and two members of the Innocents

Society. Names of all judges will be announced at a later date.

Their decisions will be based on originality, attractiveness, and general relationship to the theme of Homecoming, according to Thornberg. The judges' decision will be final and Thornberg emphasized that expensive displays are not necessarily good displays.

In a final explanation of the Homecoming Cup Award, the Innocents president announced that every house on the campus, both organized and unorganized, is eligible for the award. He called for 100 percent cooperation on the part of every group in the university.

Betty French Rules Friday At Ag Ball

Betty French, home economics senior from Lincoln was presented as the Farmers Formal queen at their first ball since 1941 Friday night.

The queen's attendants were Carol Bridenbaugh, Dakota City; Ruth Anne Medaris, Aurora; Kathryn Marie Abraham, Alma; Betsy Kovanda, Ord; Helen Marie Wulf, Lincoln; and Marilyn Anne Hartsook, Lincoln. All the attendants are home economics seniors.

Over 200 couples, wearing plaid shirts, blue jeans, levis and gay print dresses, attended the dance in the Ag college activities building.

Master of Ceremonies Wick Wahlstrom, junior in the agricultural college, made the presentation which climaxed the Ag executive board sponsored program.

Innocents

Innocents will meet Monday at 10 p. m., according to Bill Thornburg, president.
