Husker Homecoming . . .

Homecoming weekend is here in all its glory!

A schedule packed with rallies, parades, games, dances allows no time for even a long breath of fresh air, but it's fun. Homecoming weekend happens once a year, and everyone goes all out to prove to the rest of the population that the University of Nebraska has the most spirited student body in existence.

With five thousand returned veterans cherishing memories of past Homecomings, we owe it to them to replace those memories with an even better Homecoming for 1946. With a team, that is a team, a queen of all queens, house decorations, floats, bands, Tassels, Corn Cobs, how can we miss! Forget for a time that recent six weeks' exams were pretty rough, and concentrate solely on showing returning grads that UN is everything they remembered in the dear old days of long ago, or not so long ago.

Activities begin tonight with judging of house decorations and the rally of all rallies, at which time the Mizzou tiger will go up in smoke, symbolic of Saturday's football game outcome. The traditional freshmen-upperclassmen tug-of-war will also take place then.

Bright and early Saturday morning the extensive Homecoming parade will begin its journey through town. Just before the game, the Victory bell will be presented in the usual pre-game ceremony. Half-time will see the presentation of the 1945 Pep Queen, both Missouri and Nebraska marching bands, and the card section.

As the grand finale to a grand weekend, the Homecoming dance will be held in the coliseum Saturday night, with Elliot Lawrence making the music. The new Pep Queen will no longer be a secret, cheers will be heard for miles around, and another Homecoming weekend will close.

But not really. The spirit and fun of good sportsmanship demonstrated this weekend musn't die come Saturday night at 12 bells. This weekend offers an opportunity to display the ultimate in Nebraska spirit, but that same spirit and enthusiasm must last the remainder of this year, and next year, and for every year to come.

This is Homecoming. Rally 'round the old Victory bell, Huskers, and show them who's boss.

French Musician Dupre Gives Organ Recital Tonite

Marcel Dupre, noted French organist, will be heard tonight at 8 p. m. in First-Plymouth Congregational Church when he presents a program of traditional and contemporary music.

Appearing here on his first American tour since 1940, Marcel Dupre has been described as "a great organist" by university organ professor Myron Roberts. His career compares with those of Cesar Franck and Charles Widor.

Memory Work.

In 1920 Dupre played the entire organ works of Bach in a series of ten recitals at the Paris Conservatory. Music historians rate this as probably the greatest feat accomplished by a virtuoso since Bach was first played.

As an improviser, Dupre's talent is acclaimed everywhere. He takes several themes, handed to him just before the recital, and creates an integrated composition from them.

Dupre's program for this evening includes a fuge and sonata by Bach, compositions by French and American contemporaries, and a suite by Dupre himself composed in 1944 but as yet unpublished. The "Study in E major" is a pedal study whose young composer, Jeanne Demessieux, made a sensational concert debut in Paris last year.

Tickets can be obtained for $1.20 from Walt's and Dietz' music stores, from Professor Roberts and at the door tonight. The complete program is:

- Triple Fugue in E flat . . . . . J. S. Bach
- Sixth Sonata in G major . . . . . J. S. Bach
- Allegro—Andante—Finale
- Third Chorale . . . . . Cesar Franck
- Star of Hope . . . . . Richard Keys Biggs
- Mist . . . . . Harvey Gaul
- First Movement from Gothic Symphony . . . . . Ch. M. Widor
- Study in E major, No. 5 . . . . . Jeanne Demessieux
- Suite . . . . . Marcel Dupre
- Allegro Agitato
- Cantabile
- Scherzando
- Finale
- Improvisation on submitted themes.

Tiger Band to Play Saturday At Half-Time

The Missouri band will be here Saturday afternoon to cheer the Tiger team, and supply attractions of their own to the pre-game and half-time programs, revealed Band Director Don Lentz today.

At the beginning of the game, the Missouri and Nebraska bands will march out on the game field playing the "Star Spangled Banner." After this, the Innocents, accompanied by the Missouri pep group, will parade onto the field between the two bands, where the traditional Missouri bell will be presented to the Missouri group.
