

Vote Now For Colonel Students to Elect Honorary Colonel

Religious Emphasis Week Scheduled

Religious Emphasis Week will begin on the campus Sunday, with 15 speakers participating in the program.

"The Faith that Makes a Difference" will be the theme for the week this year, and the Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish churches are planning special activities, according to Mary Esther Dunkin, chairman in charge of the week. This year the program is held in co-operation with the University Christian Mission, with Phillips Prentice Moulton, national director in charge.

Four Convocations

The general program will include four convocations, the first of which will be Sunday, at 7:30 p. m. in the coliseum; personal conferences, seminars, house visitations, and classroom discussions. Seminar topics are marriage, race, campus life, faith, world relatedness, and interfaith.

Dr. T. Z. Koo, who has returned to the United States after having served three years as layminister in Japanese-occupied China, will be one of the outstanding speakers. He will present the principal address at the opening convocation Sunday.

Retreat.

The Rev. Edward J. Weisenberg, S. J., associate professor of dogmatic theology in the divinity school of St. Louis University, St. Mary's, Kas., who holds a degree from a university in Rome, will lead the Catholic program. He will conduct a student retreat.

Rabbi Samuel Wahl, Isaac M. Wise Temple, Cincinnati, Ohio, will be the visiting Jewish leader.

A speaker well-known to Lutheran students is Carl E. Lundquist, formerly executive director of the Twin City Lutheran Student Body.

Convocation Will Feature Dr. R. Bragg

Dr. Raymond B. Bragg, associate editor of the "Humanist" Magazine, will give the second in the series of All University Convocations in the Union ballroom tomorrow at 3 p. m. His topic will be, "Europe's Rehabilitation—How Far to Go?"

Bragg has been a minister of the First Unitarian church in Minneapolis. See BRAGG, Page 4.

An all-student election will be held today to elect an Honorary Colonel to reign at the annual Military Ball Dec. 6.

According to Helen Laird, Student Council president, votes may be cast from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. in the Union from 9:30 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. in Agriculture hall on ag campus. Each student must present his identification card in order to be eligible to vote.

Candidates chosen as finalists from a group of 15 senior girls nominated by organized houses are Hink Aasen, Mary Cox, Ann Doudna, Doris Frahm, Betty Lou Horton and Betty Stanton.

Results of the election will not be disclosed until the night of the See COLONEL, Page 2.

Vet Consultant
Veterans who have not yet received their subsistence checks may consult with representatives of the Veterans Administration in Room 212, Mechanic Arts Hall, from 8:30 a. m. to 12:00 noon on Nov. 9. No conferences will be held on Nov. 7. Each veteran should bring his C-number with him.
