GAMES THIS WEEK.
Oklahoma at Kansas.
Drake at Iowa State.
Colorado at Missouri.
Kansas State at San Francisco.

RESULTS LAST WEEK.
Iowa State 13, Kansas State 7.
Oklahoma 14, Texas Christian 12.
Missouri 21, Nebraska 20.
Kansas 14, Oklahoma A. & M. 13.

Although only one Big Six conference game is on tap this week, it will go a long way toward untangling the jumble in the upper half of the standings.

Oklahoma's unbeaten Sooners will visit the Kansas Jayhawks at Lawrence in an attempt to join Missouri at the head of the loop. The Tigers are currently pacing the pack with three wins and no losses but have games with Oklahoma and Kansas left on their league schedules.

An Oklahoma loss would move Kansas into a tie with the Huskers for third place, but in view of past occurrences, the Sooners appear to be a good bet to get past the Jayhawk menace.

Missouri took over first place temporarily with a hair-raising 21-20 squeeze past Nebraska. Trailing 21-6 at the end of the first half, the Huskers turned on the power in the second half and were on the offensive most of the time.

Huskers Have Chance.
Coach Bernie Masterson's charges had previously been tied with the Tigers and Oklahoma at the head of the procession. With conference tilts against Iowa State and Oklahoma still on the schedule, the Huskers have a chance to remain near the top.

Nebraska has an open date this week before games with Iowa State, Oklahoma and UCLA, the last two encounters to be played away from home.

Missouri will take a week off from loop competition to entertain the Colorado Buffs at Columbia. On the following Saturday the Bengals will tangle with Oklahoma in the game which will probably decide the Big Six championship.

Coach Lepley Asks for Swim Team Candidates

All men intending to come out for the varsity swimming team are asked to report to the training room in the field house for physicals at 7:00 p. m., Wednesday, Nov. 6.

They are also requested to see Swimming Coach Hollie Lepley Thursday, Nov. 7, in order to arrange their practice schedule.

sas State last week, will face an old rival this Saturday when the Drake Bulldogs move up from Des Moines for an intra-state contest. The Cyclones' 13-7 win over K-State last week kept the Ames outfit from falling into the conference cellar, and extended the Wildcats' string of losses.

Oklahoma Squeezes By.
Coach Jim Tatum's Sooners had a tough time moving past the rugged Texas Christian Horned Frogs by a 14-12 margin. Only a pair of extra points off the toe of Dave Wallace enabled the Oklahoma team to avoid an upset.

Kansas, the Sooners' foe next week, was able to do what the TCU eleven could not. The Jayhawks pulled one of the day's many upsets when they bumped Bob Fenimore and his Oklahoma Aggie mates 14-13 Saturday. Don Fambrough, the Kansas extra point specialist, did not fail as he provided George Sauer's club with its winning counter.

A long trip is in prospect for the hapless K-Staters who will travel to the coast to meet the San Francisco university team Saturday.
