

Outside Vet Wages Must Be Reported

Nebraska World War II veterans taking on-the-job training or educational courses under the G. I. bill must immediately report their earnings, other than subsistence allowances, to the Veterans Administration, Lincoln Regional office, in order to comply with the law and remain on the subsistence payrolls, Ashley Westmoreland, manager, warned today.

"A veterans in training," Westmoreland said, "have been notified that they must report their earnings and the great majority have complied. There are, however, a number of trainees, particularly on-the-job trainees, who have not yet reported and unless their reports are received prior to Nov. 12, we have orders to remove them from the subsistence rolls."

Westmoreland explained the Public Law 679 which became effective last August 8, requires veterans in training to report to the VA all income, aside from subsistence allowances, earned while in training during the months of August, September, and October.

Reports should show the earnings by month. Disabled veterans training or receiving education under Public Law 16 are not subject to the requirement.

Infantry, Air Officers Join ROTC Staff

Infantry Maj. R. F. Brust and Maj. L. S. Sorrell, air corps, have been added to the university's ROTC staff, Commanding Officer Lt. Col. M. J. Senn announced Tuesday.

A native Nebraskan and a university graduate, Major Sorrell went on active duty soon after graduation and received his air corps wings in March, 1941. He went overseas early in 1944 as a test pilot and returned to this country in 1945. Sorrell is the son of J. F. Sorrell, democratic candidate for governor.

Major Brust graduated from the university in 1940 with a B.S. degree and a reserve infantry commission. A Nebraska City resident, Major Brust served with the 17th infantry, Seventh division, in the Attu and Kiska campaigns and was with the Seventh at Kwajalein, Leyte, and Okinawa. He was recruiting officer at Hastings until his present assignment.

Union Schedule For Week-End Features Dance

The week-end Union schedule will be headed by an all-university dance in the main ballroom Friday night from 9-12. The Smith-Warren orchestra has been signed to provide music and admission will be 44c per person.

The South American dance class, instructed by Flavia Waters Champe, will immediately precede the dance in the ballroom Friday night from 8-9.

Bridge Classes.

Contract bridge classes will be supervised by Instructor Dale Ball this afternoon at 4 and 5 in Union Room 313. These weekly bridge sessions are free and open to all bridge enthusiasts.

Entries are still being taken at the Union office for the second bridge tournament of the year to be held Saturday afternoon at 2. Teams wishing to enter the tournament must register before noon Saturday. The tournament players will be seeded according to playing ability and prizes will be awarded.

Naval Program Features Atom Bomb Films

A technicolor film record of Operations Crossroads, the Bikini atom bomb tests, will be featured in a free public showing of the latest navy action pictures in the Coliseum Friday night at 8.

The program in addition to the movies of the atom bomb tests, will include action films in technicolor on radar, submarines and the invasion of Iwo Jima. It will be presented through the courtesy of the university NROTC unit and the local Navy Recruiting Office. All persons interested have been invited to attend free of charge.

The action films were shown this week in Omaha at the Joslyn Memorial to an appreciative audience of one thousand.

Federalists Meet For Discussions

The university chapter of Student Federalists will hold its second discussion meeting Thursday at 7:00 p.m. in room 315 of the Union.

Aspects of world government will be presented in a talk on the principles of federalism by Dorothy Lasher. All students and faculty members are invited to take part in the discussion to follow.

Republicans Sweep Country As Fantastic Crisis Looms

BY JACK HILL

Gloom has struck the nation! Gillan and I are buying a supply of pencils and procuring tin-cups. Hundreds of our friends are talking of migrating to the Argentine, the home of true democracy. And if the stock market isn't crashing yet, it's teetering.

It would be well for the thinking student to ask why? to all this. In fact . . . it would be well for the Nebraska student to ask why? And the answer would be one insidious phrase which could answer everyone's gravest fear.

No Ordinary Crisis

This is no ordinary crisis like the cigarette shortage. It far surpasses any shortage this nation has ever had. I write in deadly seriousness, that we now have a critical surplus. But what a surplus! It is a surplus of a certain specie unknown for yea, these many years. The phrase I have postponed writing for heartfelt reasons herein follows:

Wednesday morning, the REPUBLICANS swept the country!

The only comparable situation that comes to mind would be if the Lower Slobbovians had elected Lena as their dictator.

Learned psychologists are already working on the causes bringing the change about. To speak frankly, it is the opinion of many that psychologists will be the only men capable of explaining the situation. That is, if there is an explanation.

The Bright Spots.

There are a few bright spots in the darkness that has settled across these fair plains. For one thing, the true liberals and outstanding Americans, meaning democrats of course, can coin two highly original slogans. One has a certain piquancy and newness that appeals to the ear. It is my prediction that posters all over the nation, will, in two years, be asking, "Had Enough?"

One that can be used almost immediately, and may in part replace the use of opium and barbiturates is, "Let's Wait 'Til '48." Both these rallying cries can well cause a trend that will once again put this glorious country on its feet, to use a portion of an obscure governor's address in the misguided state of New York. Said phrase was used without disturbing that pretty moustache, too.

The only other bright spot which we can see is that now we can become a vociferous minority. We are going to college to gain experience, and for Democrats to be in the minority at any time is certainly unique, unusual and may even prove to be fun.

Just Wait!

Just wait until the price of beef goes up a sixteenth of a cent per hundred weight . . . then we can climb on the band-wagon and howl. For that matter, we predict that whatever happens from now on will be blamed on the Republicans, unless it's a favorable reaction. Then any fool will be able to see that the reaction was because of careful planning during the Democratic regime.

To revert to an old Druidic superstition, it even rained Wednesday morning. If more proof is needed, a stunned Democratic ward healer on the south side of Chicago reports the appearance of Halley's comet early this morning. We don't get the connection in either case, but six rubber bands will get you a jar of Peter Pan peanut butter that a GOP hand was in on both happenings.

Betty T. Girling Installs Chapter Of Radio Society

Mu chapter of Alpha Epsilon Rho, national radio honorary fraternity, will be installed today by Miss Betty Thomas Girling, national vice-president of the organization.

Miss Girling, a member of the staff of radio station KUOM, attends the University of Minnesota.

Radio students of high scholarship and service are recognized by Alpha Epsilon Rho. Following installation of Mu chapter, Edith Miller president of the local chapter will initiate five charter pledges as members. Girls to be initiated are Betty Jeanne Holcomb, Pat Heynen, Pat Lathem, Dorothea Duxbury and Gloria McDermott. Paul L. Bogen, instructor in radio, is faculty adviser of the group.

Regardez Vous Hopeful Prince Kosmets--Here's Latest Dope

Wow! Look how things are shaping up. MB's are going to select Prince Kosmet.

What does the lucky fella have to have to pass before this board of feminine beauty and brains? Things look plenty dark. What do these gals expect? Come on, give the fellas a break!

Tips.

I'm for the boys, so here are a few tips. Just what will the male be judged on?

First off, here is fair warning to all that picnic blankets must go in the attic (just to help keep the mind alert at all times). Next, any UN man that can't make this sacrifice had better back out now. Please, we need someone to enter the race!

Are the fellas to be judged on whether they wear jockey shorts or G. I. holdovers? Their ability to snag a date the hour before-hand? (bless them). Is it a fella's frequency at Don's that makes him a Prince of a man, or is it the number of different girls he can take into the Crib in one day?

Just how big a wheel does it take to be a big enough wheel to become Prince Kosmet???????
