Something Good . . .

For a Change

Sadly enough, constructive accomplishments of a university, or any other institution, are too often overshadowed by the trivial gripes that momentarily rock the very foundations upon which they are based.

Already this semester the UN student body has achieved a goal that failed miserably last year, and for which they have received little or no thanks up to this point. I refer to the All University Fund drive, sponsored by that organization on the campus in connection with the Lincoln Community Chest.

The goal set for the campus was $2200, with the suggestion that each student contribute as much or as little as he could afford. The total contribution was divided between the Community Chest and The World Student Service Fund, two very deserving organizations.

The campus made their goal, with contributions from individuals and organizations. It wasn't easy, and the pressure was put on both contributing factors more than once. But the goal was reached, and only because the student body saw fit to support it. For that the AUF organization thanks you.

Although it goes without saying that the drive is a worthy one, and the privilege of helping others, both in our own country and in foreign nations, is no great burden, the fact still remains that it is difficult to dig deep in the pockets when the result of said digging isn't right before the eyes.

Numerous bouquets to the AUF workers for their organization of the drive. And added bouquets to the student body for their support of the drive. May it continue throughout the year!

Betty Hill Wins Store Service College Award

Miss Betty Hill, a graduate of the university, has been awarded a store service scholarship at New York University School of Retailing.

While at the university, she received the degree of bachelor of science in 1946, and was a member of the Home Economics association and the YWCA.

This year's graduate class at the School of Retailing is comprised of students from 46 colleges and universities and from 21 states, Canada, and the territory of Hawaii. In their year of work at the School of Retailing, which was established 27 years ago, the students participate in a unique educational program.

To Work at Ohrbach's.
 During the first semester Miss Hill will work in the nationally known store, Ohrbach's, where she will have an opportunity to work in the various selling and non-selling departments under the supervision of store executives.

"Almost invariably students receive offers of positions from one or both of the stores in which they work during the school year," stated Charles M. Edwards, dean of the School of Retailing. "Often they are employed by out-of-town stores, several of which send representatives to interview graduates."

Vocal Ensemble Prepares Songs For Ag Convo

A small vocal ensemble from the ag college, under the direction of Mrs. Altinas Tullis, is preparing a sacred number to be sung Nov. 12 for a religious week convocation.

The group is composed of: Helen Achsner, Betty Beckner and Marilyn Kuhlman, sopranos; Wanga Hockaday, Mavis Musgrave and Charlotte Olson, altos; Neal Baxter, Ralph Kellogg and Stanley Lampshire, tenors; Tom Chilvers, John McDill and Dale Stauffer, basses.

Tenor.
 Neal Baxter, tenor, accompanied by Mrs. Tullis, appeared as soloist for the activities convocation, Nov. 5. He sang "Smilin' Through," by Penn.

The Ag college chorus of 118 voices is working on Handel's Messiah which is to be presented the afternoon of Dec. 15.

Circulo Espanol Forms As New Language Group

The formation of a new club, Circulo Espanol, was announced in the Spanish department yesterday. Marta Lemmon was elected president while Charles Williams was named vice-president and Arlene Shaneyfelt, secretary-treasurer.

Meeting in University hall for their initial organization, the group has scheduled a year's program of activities which will include Spanish records, movies and talks by various members of the faculty and students.

Williams named Nov. 21 as the date of Circulo Espanol's next meeting.

Smith Reports City Planning Consciousness

Nebraska's small towns and cities are becoming more "city planning conscious," Linus Burr Smith, chairman of the Department of Architecture, reported Thursday.

He attributed this wave of "civic consciousness" to problems resulting from (1) abnormal wartime and postwar expansion; and (2) either inadequate or no city planning on a long time basis which resulted in cities growing on a hit-or-miss basis.

"Some towns just 'grew' along covered wagon trails," Prof. Smith said. "There was no city plan because nobody planned to stay there long."

Surveys.
 The architecture department, making city planning surveys of Nebraska communities during the past ten years, found these problems generally creating a demand for civic improvement: (1) traffic and parking; (2) inadequate sewage disposal systems; (3) lack of attractive civic centers; and (4) lack of recreational facilities.

Making an average of three city re-planning surveys a year, the department has aided Omaha, Lincoln, Scottsbluff, Syracuse and Norfolk recently. Latest city to ask the department's help is Lexington.

Charm School Scheduled Tuesday Night

Charm School opens its 24th year of existence Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall with Mrs. Harold Stebbens presiding as guest speaker.

Mrs. Stebbens, formerly a student at the university is currently president of the Lincoln Junior League, and is known for her contributions as president of the National Camp and Hospitality Committee meetings for the American Red Cross during the war years.

Aid to Coeds.
 Originally, Charm School was planned to aid Nebraska coeds in finer points of appearance, table etiquette, and the newest styles and fashions. In recent years, however, the programs have been directed to topics such as care and types of furs, different types of perfumes, and the presentation of the annual spring and fall style shows.

Union Schedules Dance Orchestra, Bridge Tournaments

The Union will offer a full week-end of student activities leading off with a dance in the ballroom tonight from 9-12 to the music of the Smith-Warren orchestra. Admission will be 44c per person.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 contract bridge players will compete in the Union's second bridge tournament. Both beginners and advanced players may register for the tournament until noon tomorrow in the Union office.

On Sunday, the weekly Variety Show will be moved up to 3 p. m. Sunday's Variety Show in the ballroom will present Noel Coward's "Life Begins at 8:30" starring Monte Woolley. The Coffee Hour is scheduled for the Union lounge at 5 Sunday evening and the buffet supper will be served in the dining room from 5:30 to 7 p. m.

Notice to All Seniors
 If you have not had your picture taken for your class section in the 1947 Cornhusker and wish to do so, you must make your appointment for next week. Appointments may be made in the Cornhusker offices in the basement of the Student Union. Office hours are 2 to 5, Monday thru Friday.

Ag Students Make Trek To Omaha

About fifty members of Prof. H. Clyde Filley's class in marketing of agricultural products drove to Omaha Monday to inspect grain operations and selling.

The field trip included the Omaha Grain Exchange, the Union stock yards, the Rosenbaum terminal elevator and the Nebraska Farmer's union state exchange.

Admitted to the trading floor of the Grain exchange, the students saw in action the system used in marketing the country's grain products. Exchange members explained how actual transactions in large volume are made.

Objectives Outlined
 At the 80,000-bushel Rosenbaum elevator, students saw whole carloads of corn unloaded in a matter of minutes.

Mr. C. McCarthy, general manager of the Nebraska Farmers union state exchange, outlined the objectives and accomplishments of the co-operative, and took them on a tour of the exchange building.

Blood Donations Needed by Lincoln Veterans Hospital

The veterans hospital at Lincoln is in vital need of blood donors, according to word reaching the vet organization publicity chairman, Dick Sinsel.

Announcement was sent Sinsel by the national field secretary of the American Legion, James H. McKinley. "The veterans hospital needs blood for transfusions to save the lives of your sick buddies," the statement read. "You will be paid $25 for each pint of blood. If you wish, you may fill out the pledge cards at the office of Lincoln Legion Post 3, main floor, Lincoln Hotel."

Sinsel reported the pledge cards would be available at least until the end of the week, and that the $25 was guaranteed each donor by the Legion.

Religious Groups

 Unitarian church, 12th and H, sponsored by the Young People's Group. There will be instructors for people learning square dancing, free refreshments. Tickets will be available at the door at 50 cents each or two for 75 cents.

Backward Party.
 A Backward Neewollah party will be held at the Episcopal church, 13th and R, at 8 p. m. tonight. There will be refreshments and dancing.

The Ag College Fellowship will meet at 5:30 for the usual supper-fellowship hour. After group discussions on the topic "Christian Faith," transportation will be provided for the group to the Coliseum, to hear Dr. T. Z. Koo.

Mass for all Catholic students will be said by Monsignor George Schuster in XYZ parlors of the Union at 11 a. m. Sunday. Horseback riding at Pioneers park Sunday afternoon is another Newman club activity.

Three Trips.
 A trip to Boys' Town on Dec. 7 is being planned by the Newman Club also. The trip will be made by chartered bus and reservations should be made at once at the Newman Club rooms in the Temple Building.

A social evening is planned for all Evangelical and United Brethren students tonight at 7:45 in the YMCA rooms of the Temple building. Rev. John Wichel, the Evangelical-United Brethren student pastor, states that plans will be made to organize an Evangelical-United Brethren student club. Refreshments will be served.

The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Room 316 of the Student Union. The Bible study will be presented in an informal manner by Phil Gustavson.

Colbert Brands 'Drop' Rumors As Ridiculous

Rumors that "many veterans" were dropping their courses, or being dropped by the university, were branded as "ridiculous" by Prof. J. P. Colbert, director of the University Consultation Board for Veterans.

Mr. Colbert said that it would be a very simple matter to check the records at the university to find out if these recurrent rumors about student veterans are true.

109 Dropped
 Only 109 veterans have dropped their courses since mid-September. Jobs, financial reasons, "needed at home," and health were the principal reasons given by the veterans.

Easterner's Club Dinner Attended By Fifty-Three

A dinner-meeting of the Easterner's Club was held Wednesday evening in the Union, with 53 students and faculty members from an ajority of the eastern states attending.

Art Cohen, the group's temporary chairman, expressed belief that the club will become a permanent fixture on the university campus.

Along these lines, preparations were made to have the club become affiliated with the school. A constitution committee was appointed to draft a constitution for presentation to the group at its next meeting.

Concert . . .

 cal humorist, and the university orchestra, under the direction of Emanuel Wishnow, will combine talents on a featured arrangement of "Rhapsody in Blue," according to the program released today.

A group of piano solos by Mr. Braggiotti will give the pianist an opportunity to display the keyboard versatility that has won him acclaim as a concert pianist.

Program.
 The complete program for the concert will include "An Outdoor Overture" by Aaron Copeland and George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," both performed by Mr. Braggiotti, accompanied by the orchestra. Solos by Mr. Braggiotti will include the "Warsaw Concerto" by Richard Addinsell and the pianist's own musical caricatures on "Yankee Doodle." The caricatures on the American folk song will be played a la Scarlatti, Beethoven, Debussy, Gershwin, and finally as boogie-woogie.
