

One-Act Play Casts Named by Theatre

In final tryouts Monday night, casts were selected for "Gloria Mundi" and "Ile," two one-act plays to be presented by the university experimental theatre Dec. 5 in the studio theatre.

"Gloria Mundi," under the direction of Dorothea Duxbury, takes place in an insane asylum. The plot is set in the reception room where a strange assortment of people meet to discuss the activities of the institution. The cast includes: Gertrude Cloit as Miss Jebb, a nurse; Norm Leger as Robert Cartwell, a doctor; Lorma Bullock as Virginia Blake; Gladys Jackson as Mrs. Farnsworth; Jim Welch as Mr. Lloyd, and Mercedes James as Miss Dunn.

"Ile" Setting.

The setting for "Ile," Eugene

O'Neill's drama of an Arctic sea voyage, is aboard a whaling schooner, the Arctic Queen. Wearing by two long and monotonous years at sea, the crew members as well as the skipper's wife become intensely dissatisfied and attempt to persuade the captain to turn back. The captain, set on getting his usual full cargo of ile, is determined to stay on until enough whales are captured to supply the large amount of ile for which he has won fame among other whaleboat skippers.

Dean Graunke, director, will have as his cast: Herb Spence, steward; G. Bergoffen, Ben; John Wenstrand, Captain Keeney; Harold Anderson, mate; Mary O'Donnell, Mrs. Keeney; Milton Surface, Joe, and Shirley Sabin and Mark Wittenberg, crew members.

Italian Guest Pianist Will Play Sunday

Pianist Mario Braggiotti, who will appear as guest artist with the university orchestra in the Union ballroom Sunday, has played for the wounded of two world wars during an outstanding international musical career.

Born in Florence, Italy, Braggiotti was the son of American parents both of whom were singers. He, and seven brothers and sisters, took naturally to the atmosphere of music with which they were surrounded.

MARIO BRAGGIOTTI

Played for World War I Men.

When World War I came, Braggiotti's mother became a nurse in an Italian hospital and he

See ITALIAN, page 4.

Ball Announces Revised System In Union Bridge

Dale Ball, supervisor of Union activities, has announced a revised contract bridge program to accommodate both beginners and advanced contract players.

A series of five advanced contract classes has been planned with the first class to be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 in room 313 in the Union. Two classes in contract fundamentals will be held for beginners in the same room tomorrow at 5 and Thursday, Nov. 21st.

In the second monthly contract tournament sponsored by the Union Saturday, Vern Holmes and Ben Karas were awarded prizes as the winning team. William Tyson and Jerome Druliner were the runners-up.

Architects Build Scale City Model

Plans for a civic planning project have been adopted by the policy committee of the Architectural Society of the university. The intent of the project is to study various phases of city planning in Lincoln.

The proposal, suggested by John H. Chalmers, secretary of the society, entails the building of scale model of the city of Lincoln approximately 12 feet square. This archetype will have a two-fold purpose, primarily as a laboratory for comprehensive long range study of the future development problems of Lincoln, and secondly as a display for Engineers' Week, being observed from April 28 to May 3, 1947.

Smith Directs.

Under the direction of Prof. Linus R. Smith, students in city planning will use this miniature representation for research and for development of pictorial and statistical material covering various pertinent problems confronting the city. The extent and arrangement of zoning, traffic, industrial sites, low income housing plus a survey of school, church, shopping and amusement centers will be analyzed and interpreted.

Vets Broadcast Religious Views On Air Tonite

The weekly radio broadcast, "Veteran's Views," sponsored by the Veteran's Organization will be held from 6:30 to 7 p. m. this evening in room 201 Temple. This is a change from the regular time of 7:30 p. m.

"Is Organized Religion Accepting its Challenge?" will be the question discussed on tonight's program, which is in keeping with the spirit of Religious Emphasis week on the university campus. Speakers on the program are to be Father Obrist, pastor of the Holy Family Church; Rabbi Jolt, director of the Tifereth Israel Synagogue; and Dr. Reinehardt, chairman of the university's Sociology department.

Letters inviting interested people to attend the broadcast and to take part in veterans' discussions on important issues were sent to 88 pastors in Lincoln and were read in churches last Sunday. It is for this reason that an unusually large audience is expected to attend the discussion.

After the program a regular meeting of the Veteran's Organization will be held.

DeVoto Speaks At 3 P. M. Convo

One of America's foremost authors, historians, and journalists will speak this afternoon at 3 p. m. when Bernard DeVoto addresses a student convocation in the Union ballroom on "The Maturity of American Literature."

This is a topic with which Mr. DeVoto is familiar. He was one of the earliest and most persistent opponents of a literary belief common in the "twenties" that American literature was immature and unimportant. DeVoto See DE VOTO, page 2.

BERNARD DEVOTO

Five Section Recital Given By Students

Following last week's senior recital in the school of music student recital series today's departmental recital will be held simultaneously in five sections in the Temple and School of Music. A total of 61 vocal and instrumental students will take part. The sections, which begin at 4 p. m., are open to the public.

The room numbers for each section and a few typical selections are as follows:

Voice, Temple 24: Among the 27 titles are "A Little China Figure," Shirley Stapleton; "Chere Nuit," Cleve Genzlinger; "Let All My Life Be Music," Betty Bracken; "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes," Donna Jean Wageman; and Grieg's "I Love Thee," Joan Elliot.

Piano, School 11: Nine students will play selections including a Chopin "Polonaise," Pat Lee; "Claire du lune," Marilyn Voorhees; and "Prelude in Memorium to Rachmaninoff," Marjorie Squire.

Organ, School 105: From five organ numbers are Karg-Elert's "Pastel," Mary Alice Peterson; "Exultemus," faculty member Mary Berner; and a Bach "Chorale and Variation," Dora Lee Niedenthal.

Wind instruments, Temple 103: A flute trio, brass sextette and brass quartet will be featured from 11 selections for trumpet, trombone, French horn, flute and clarinet.

Strings, School 17: Movements from two Handel sonatas will be played by Pat Felger and Shirley Laffin. Four other students will offer sonata and concerto excerpts.

Today's is the third departmental recital of the year.

Position Open On Ag Student Union Board

Any Ag student interested in serving on the Ag Union Advisory committee are to apply with Mrs. Richard E. Hiatt at the city campus union office, Mrs. Hiatt announced.

The purpose of the board is to plan union activities. On the board so far are Mr. Gooding, agronomy department; Mary Guthrie, of the home ec department; Lois Opper, graduate student who served on the union board of managers; Ned Raun, of the Ag Ex board; and Marianne Srb, of the Home Ec club.

Veter-Ann's, New Service Women's Club Meets Tonite

Veter-Ann's, newly-formed group of ex-service women on campus will elect a secretary and treasurer at their third meeting, tonite at the Methodist Student House.

Originally scheduled for 6:30, the meeting will be at 7 p. m. in order that those who wish, may hear "Veteran's Views," according to Ula Scholl, chairman.

Organization for future meetings will be discussed, and instructions about ticket sales for the veteran's organization banquet November 23 will be given.

Means Outlines Student Health Service Plans

In order that students may understand their health service, Louis E. Means, director of Student Physical Welfare, has released the following outline of services and schedules.

1. The student clinic closes at 5 p. m. daily and at 12 noon on Saturday. If the clinic is closed, students should call 2-2216 in an emergency. A nurse will then telephone for them and arrange for needed services, altho nurses are not available on off hours to call at campus homes.

2. A full time nurse, Miss Mary Fager, will be available to the women's Residence halls and to students who cannot reach the pharmacy building. She will also make daily routine calls at other nearby women's dormitories.

Ag Health.

3. Dr. Samuel Feunung will be at the Health service in Ag Activities building from 1 to 2 daily, Tuesday thru Friday. Dr. Ruth Warner's office hours there will remain 8 to 8:45 a. m. daily.

4. Two physicians will try to be on duty at almost all hours at Student Health.

5. From 5 to 6 p. m., during intramural athletics, emergency telephone service to Dr. Feunung will be available. Students must bear the cost of this special medical service call.

Ad Solicitors

Students are needed to solicit ads for the Daily Nebraskan. This is an opportunity for students to gain practical experience in the advertising field, in addition to earning money. All ad solicitors earn a ten per cent commission. Persons should apply to J. C. Van Lanningham, business manager of the Daily Nebraskan, Tuesday at 3 p. m.

Church Leaders Will Address Convocation

Highlighting Religion in Life Week activities today will be an interfaith convocation at 7:30 p. m. in the Union ballroom, with Dr. Amos Thornburg, of Grace Methodist Church, St. Louis, Father Edward Tucheck, Holy Rosary Church, Plattsmouth, and Rabbi Samuel Wohl, Isaac M. Wise Temple, Cincinnati, discussing the topic, "How My Faith Makes a Difference in the Way I Live."

Dr. Thornburg, who will represent the Protestant faith, is popular among university church groups, and has been active in Religious Emphasis Weeks in various schools. During the time he was minister at a Methodist church in Providence, R. I., he was a radio minister.

Father Tucheck, representing the Catholic faith, was an assistant at St. Mary's Cathedral, Lincoln, before being transferred to Plattsmouth. He conducted Religious Emphasis Week on the campus for Catholic students two years ago.

Rabbi Wohl.

Rabbi Wohl, presenting the Jewish faith, has traveled extensively in Germany, France, Italy, Egypt, Poland, Russia and Palestine. He is associate editor of "Jewish Frontier," and spent the past summer in South America as a representative of the Jewish Press.

The Rev. Samuel B. Maier, Presbyterian student pastor on the campus, will preside at the convocation.

Another special feature of today's program is the transcription of "Veteran's View," forum program to be broadcast over KFAB Saturday at 10:30 p. m. The topic for discussion on the program which will be transcribed from Room 201 Temple at 6:30 p. m., will be "Is Organized Religion Accepting Its Challenge?"

Taking part in the forum will be Dr. John O. Nelson, director of the commission on the ministry, of the Federal Council of Churches; Father Lawrence Obrist, chaplain of the local American Legion Post; Rabbi Harry Jolt, director of the Hillel Foundation on the campus; Dr. James Reinehardt, head of the university sociology department on the campus. Paul See CHURCH, page 2.