

Ragged Edges

BY ELLIE SWANSON.

From all signs early in the week, the weekend will be another one of those when something big is going on every minute. Parties, as if there weren't enough last week, will prevail again and the last home game will draw a big portion of Iowa State students.

Duke Ellington will be at the Pike come Friday and a few who have already made plans to attend are Johnny Rushton and his usual, Tish Gardiner, Mimi Loomis and Bob Metheny and Dottie Hand and Dick Swan.

Running competition to the old Duke will be the Phi Delt exclusive for pledges-party. According to the pledges, "It's going to be too good to miss." A few of the lucky girls to be present are Ginny Trant with Vern Daniels, Phyl Harris and Paul Bloomer, Jody Wolcott and Fred Schroeder (they hit it off well at the last Phi Delt party), Ed Donegan and Janice Ryman. Dottie Manion's escort will be Al Amsten.

People are noticeably busy hanging pins again. One new pinning of late is that of Bill Moorhouse and Jane McArthur. The pinning took place Sunday night, to almost everyone's surprise and they passed the candy Monday night to make it official. Jo Bauer and Steve Wiles also took the fatal step which proves that Jo is particularly fond of DU pins.

Bob Korte can now be added to the list of married men on the campus. The girl is Betty Page, a long time steady. While on the subject of marriage, it is rumored that a duo engagement will be announced at the DU party, Nov. 23. Bill Skog will announce his engagement to Carol Hemmingson.

Seen around a great deal of late are Jean Hickey and Bill Vichek—while Anne Whitham and Johnny Connelly, a very common two-some, will have a rendezvous in Omaha Saturday night.

Another traditionally big party will be held Saturday night. The Phi Gam Dog Patch affair. Few dates are available as it was just recently announced, but Warren Eisenhart will be with Ann Phillips and Annis Gilmore will be escorted by Jim Waters.

Putting in their bid for a big party are the AoPis who are having a house party Saturday. Phyl Kohjer will be with Stu Tangeman, Joannie Marcell and Normie Williams and Buzz Howard with Char Miller.
