Sidelights On Husker IS Battle

BY BILL SWANSON

Husker Dads can be proud of the showing made by their sons as they mowed down the Cyclones of Iowa State 33-0 in the forty-first meeting of the two teams. The crowd for yesterday's game was approximately 25,000, the smallest of the 1946 Cornhusker home season.

Chilly breezes and Friday's inclement weather kept many of the faithful away and for the first time this season there was room in the south end of the west stadium for some of the early arrivals out of the Knothole section. However, the slimmest crowd of this season numbered several thousand more than the largest single attendance of the 1945 home schedule.

In racking up their third Big Six triumph of the current campaign, the Huskers scored as many points against the Iowa Staters in two quarters as they did in the games against the Cyclones in the '43, '44, and '45 seasons combined. Fred Metheny, in his first starting role of the year, scored 12 points, one less than Nebraska could muster against the Iowans in the two previous games.

The best run of the day was Dick Hutton's 60 yard touchdown return of an Iowa State punt in the third quarter, which was nullified by a questionable clipping penalty. Press box opinion seemed to be that it was one of those questionable blocks which could be called either way, but Cyclone Frank DeBecker's superb dramatic ability thoroughly convinced the officials that he had been illegally taken out of the play. He left the field immediately, limping very badly and it looked as though he would see no more service in the game. But, miracle of miracles, this same Mr. DeBecker came bouncing back into the game just exactly two minutes and 45 seconds later and he seemed frisky as a young colt without a trace of the aforementioned severe limping condition!

Broad Jumper

By the way, in his scoring jaunt, Hutton looked like a sure point winner in the broad jump event in the Big Six meet as he leaped far and beyond the grasping arms of a would-be tackler at the Iowa State 12-yard line.

Nebraska's quarterbacking which was good throughout the game, was best in the second period when Jim Meyers was called upon to quick kick. A very fine boot caught the Cyclone flat-footed and the ball rolled dead on the Iowa State 12-yard line—a break, which coupled with Willard Bunker's fumble recovery set up the second Cornhusker touchdown.

The fastest huddling and action of the first half, Nebraska worked three running plays and one pass in 25 seconds and Vacanti's toss to Cochrane for the third tally came with only seven seconds to be played before the intermission.

Bill Mooney looked very good in his 70-yard streak down the west sidelines to pay dirt, but the officials stepped in again and claimed he stepped out of bounds on the I. S. five.

The Dads of the players, hud-

Myers downed Norman's punt on the Nebraska 40.

NEBRASKA: Myers lost a yard hitting the line. Mooney failed to gain. Norman took Myers' punt on the 12-yard line and was driven out of bounds on the Iowa State 29.

IOWA STATE: Klootwyk picked up 3 thru the middle. Klootwyk got thru to the 35. Partington stopped Paetz for no gain on an end-around play. Norman's punt went out of bounds on the Nebraska 34.

NEBRASKA: Mooney rned 61 yards down the west sidelines to a touchdown, but the officials ruled that he stepped out of bounds on the 5-yard line. First down for the Huskers. Myers was piled up on the Iowa State 4. Myers plunked thru to the 1-foot line. Metheny went over for the touchdown on a quarterback sneak.

SCORE: NEBRASKA 25, IA. STATE 0. Vacanti's kick for the point was good.

SCORE: NEBRASKA 26, IA. STATE 0. Vacanti kicked 0 1/2 into the end zone for an automatic touchdown. Iowa State took hal lon own 29.

IOWA STATE: Chauncey picked up 3 yards thru the middle. Chauncey crashed the middle to the Iowa State 27. Chauncey was inches short of a first down. Norman picked up a first down on the Iowa State 32 on a quarterback sneak. On another quarterback sneak Norman got to the 37. Howard took a pass from Norman for a first down on the Iowa State 47. Norman fought his way to the Nebraska 47. Norman's pass to Paetz was good for a first down on the Husker 40. Nebraska took time out.

Williams threw Paetz for a 3 yard loss. Norman's pass was fumbled and DiBiase recovered for Nebraska on the 50.

NEBRASKA: Long punted out of bounds on the Iowa State 11-yard line.

IOWA STATE: Chauncey picked up 1 yard as the quarter ended.

SCORE: NEBRASKA 26, IA. STATE 0.

dled on the east players bench, wore numbers corresponding to the numerals on the sons' jerseys, making it very easy for spectators to locate the proud father of each player. The Dad attracting the most attention probably was "Tiger Jaw" Pesek, the Ravenna strongman and long time "King of Rasslers," who is the father of Jack Pesek, right end for the Huskers.

Placement Act

Before the opening whistle, Iowa State's Harle Rollinger, the nations leading field goal artist, was kicking successful placements from as far out as the forty yard line. However, Mr. Rollinger had no occasion to use his talented toe in the battle which followed.

The half-time entertainment was again very effective. The I. S. C. band in black uniforms trimmed in gold and red, started at the north end of the field in a "V" formation, massing into a full parade formation and finally peeled off to execute a perfect "U of N" which changed without a break into "I. S. C." The baton twirlers with the Cyclone band were a treat to watch and Pat Appar, former national high school champ, gave a solo entertainment which featured the handling of three batons at one time.

The Husker Band, undoubtedly one of the most colorful in the nation, executed a huge D A D while the player's fathers were introduced. During the intermission visiting M V A dignitaries and governors of several mid-western states were also introduced.

Although it was not as evenly fought or as thrilling as some, the 1946 Iowa State-Nebraska tussle was a fine game to close the N. U. home season. The players were happy, the coaches were pleased, the fathers were proud, the spectators were cold and Iowa State was "waiting for next year."

Six Varsity Lettermen Report To Swimming Coach Lepley

Six lettermen have reported to Swimming Coach Hollie Lepley as the University of Nebraska swimming team goes into the first stages of drilling for meets later in the season.

Heading the list is Les Oldfield, Big Six backstroke champion of prewar days. Other letter winners reporting are Roger Moore, a diver; Conrad King and Bob Hazelrig, breast stroke; Bill Burr and Orville Chatt, free style.

Art Cohen, a free style numeral winner, and Jack Kleinkauf and Dean Porter, former squadmen, are other experienced varsity men reporting.

Promising newcomers include Perry Branch, W. C. Becker, W. A. Connell, Jack Campbell, M. U. Grimm, R. T. Hoffmeister, Howard Love, Andy Miller, Tim Sullivan, L. C. McDonald, J. J. Witkowski, N. H. Holmes and Bill Fenton.

Present reports indicate that Kansas is the only Bib Six school that will definitely not have a swimming team, while Missouri is classed as a doubtful entry.

Full Schedule.

Coach Lepley promises a full slate for the Husker swimmers and is anxious to have more men report for the squad.

The intramural swimming meet on December 16, 17 and 18 will give Lepley a look at talent which may be valuable in later days. All students except letter and numeral winners are eligible for this intramural competition.
