

Untested Huskers Begin Cage Slate

Husker basketball Coach Harry Good will take the wraps off his 1946-47 squad tonight when the Scarlet hoopers meet the University of South Dakota Coyotes on the Coliseum court at 8 p. m.

The Nebraska mentor will not be the only newcomer around when tipoff time comes, for only one member of probable NU starting lineup has seen service in Husker cage liveries before. Joe Brown, forward, is a letterman back from last seasons team which won seven and lost 13 games.

Teaming with the sharp-shooting Brown, who paced the Nebraska quintet in scoring, will be Claude Retherford, 6 foot 2 inch French Lick, Indiana, native who has taken over the other forward post.

Former Navy Ace.

Middle man on the Scarlet crew will be Rodney Cox, former Lincoln high stalwart who poured in over 400 points while playing with the fast St. Mary's Pre-flight team in 1945-46. The Husker center stands 6 feet 2 1/2 inches tall.

Don McArthur has gained one of the guard spots, coming out on top after a nip and tuck scrap with Ken Anderson of Creston, Iowa. Big Don at 6 feet 5 is the tallest man on the squad, and he adds to his height with plenty of spring during the scramble for rebounds.

A cager who won All American honorable mention will be running at the other guard slot. Joe Leisel, former Creighton star, will handle the post.

Behind these five, Good has named Matt Keating and Paul Shields as second string forwards, Waldo Winter at center and Ken Anderson and Jim Sandstedt at guards. A total of 20 Husker players will be in suit for the contest, the first of the season for both outfits.

Nebraska bounced the Sodaks 52-29 last year when the two clubs met on December 11 in Lincoln.

From all indications, this year's Coyote squad is not too well fortified with tall men. A look at the Sodak roster shows that the tallest player Coach Rube Hoy is bringing to Lincoln is Guard Harry Carleton who is 6 feet 3 inches tall.

traveling squad is Tom Luby who was the Coyote's high scorer against the Huskers last year. Luby connected for eight points and will be the starting center for the visitors tonight.

Charley Girardi, peppercorn forward, is another Coyote who is expected to cause trouble when the two quintets tangle. Fifteen South Dakota players will be on hand for the game.

Other Nebraska players who will be in suit in addition to the ten athletes already named are Bob Means, Al Kirlin, Thurman Wright, Anton Lawry, Don Waite, Lupe Arenas, Bob Cerv, Bob Korte, Gayle Lebsack and Dale Livingston. Lebsack, Sandstedt Korte and Livingston are lettermen in addition to Brown who are back from last year's team.

Coach Good has little information about the Coyotes, but he intends to use a unit system of substitution, sending complete new teams into the game, if he can afford to do so.

A preliminary game between two teams made up of players not on the varsity will open the program at 6:30. Those who will be in action are Don Bauer, Bruce Bergquist, Bernie Bieterman, Don Davis, Boyle Busskohl, Jack Dedrick, Bill Denker, Dan Dufphey, Don Duncan, Ken Hollins, Vaughn Kostielney, Harry Meginnis, Tom Milliken, Don Rice, Robert Robinson, Bill Saler, Dick Schleiger, Fred Simpson, Dick Srb, James Swanson, James Van Burgh, Bill Wenke, Melvin Williams and Hubert Winter.

These players will make up the Nubbins team which will swing into a schedule of its own after two more intrasquad games which will be played on Saturday, Dec. 7.
