

Nebraska Five Wins

Emanuel Wishnow to Direct University Orchestra Sunday

Presenting three soloists Sunday at 4 p. m. in the Union Ballroom, the university orchestra will offer its second concert of the season, under the direction of Emanuel Wishnow.

Soloists are Donald Wenzlaff, clarinetist; Cleve Genzlinger, baritone, and Ernest Ulmer, pianist. Both Mr. Genzlinger and Mr. Ulmer have appeared in graduate recitals this semester and will receive their master's degrees in February. Mr. Wenzlaff will join the school of music faculty beginning with the summer term. Each saw military service during the war.

Prof. Wishnow

Clarinet and Strings," written by Homer Keller, now doing advanced graduate work at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y.

Accompaniment for the first of three numbers which Mr. Genzlinger will sing has been arranged by Conductor Wishnow for string orchestra. The song is "Turn Ye to Me," a traditional Scotch air. An aria by Verdi and a song by Richard Strauss are his other selections.

Appearing as the third soloist, Mr. Ulmer will play the complete Mozart "Concerto in D minor" with the orchestra. The program as it will be given Sunday is:

- Tocatta..... Frescobaldi-Kindler
- Serenade for Clarinet and Strings... Keller
- Mr. Wenzlaff
- Turn Ye to Me..... Scotch Air
- Di Provenza il mar ("La Traviata")... Verdi
- Zueignung..... Strauss
- Mr. Genzlinger
- Concerto in D minor (K. 466)..... Mozart
- Allegro
- Romance
- Allegro assai-Rondo
- Mr. Ulmer and Orchestra
- Marche Militaire Française
- (Suite Algerienne)..... Saint-Saens
- Orchestra

Noted Author Deliberates War, Peace

Vincent Sheehan, noted author and foreign correspondent, spoke on the problems of peace in the light of the recent war, in a Town

VINCENT SHEEHAN.

Hall lecture, sponsored by the Junior League at St. Paul's Methodist church last night.

Mr. Sheehan, a veteran of both wars, is noted for his unusual range in experiences connected with the war. Possessing sharp insight as an analyst, his discussion covered interesting views regarding the U. S.-Russian relations.

Challenged Hitler.

Arriving in Germany at the time Hitler started his eastward expansion, Sheehan created international sensation by challenging some of Hitler's fabulous claims. He covered the march to the Sudetenland and broadcast regularly from Prague.

After covering the war in Spain, he was assigned duty with the plans division of the air staff in Washington. He later served as an observer for many missions flying over the Hump in the C.B.I. theater.

Sheehan was placed on inactive duty late in 1944 and immediately went abroad as a correspondent with Patton's Third army. Since the war he has retired to his Maine home to write a new book on the problems of the war and the peace.

Deadline Nears On Kosmet Klub Show Scripts

With the deadline for entry of scripts for the Kosmet Klub show on Feb. 1 and final examinations intervening, time is short for the preparation of the musical comedy manuscripts.

Fifty dollars will be awarded to the student or students who submit the winning entry for the Klub spring show. Kosmet President John Dale announced that would-be playwrights who did not announce their intention to submit a script before Christmas vacation may still enter a comedy in the contest. A number of students have announced that they plan to submit a musical comedy to the Klub, Dale said.

Scripts submitted should be adaptable for presentation by an all-male cast, should contain a pony-chorus scene and must include songs with original words and music.

Air Reserves

All Air Reservists are requested to attend the Thursday, Jan. 8 meeting in Union 315, where information of top importance will be presented, Fritz Craig announced today.

Sooners Lose In Loop Battle

BY GEORGE MILLER

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, fighting back from a 27-17 halftime deficit, upset the mighty Oklahoma Sooners in a Big Six contest before 6,500 partisan fans at the coliseum Monday night.

Coach Harry Good's hoopsters caught up with the Sooners after 14 minutes of the second half when Claude

Retherford sank a free throw to knot the score at 39-all. Jack Landon and Bill Waters shoved the visitors back into the lead with a pair of gift tosses, but Retherford connected on a short side shot to bring the Scarlet back into contention.

During the last four minutes of the game the visiting Sooners failed to score. At the same time the scrappy UN quintet was building up a narrow margin which proved to be enough. Joe Loisel potted a charity toss, Joe Brown did the same and then Retherford ended the scoring on another free throw with 24 seconds left in the game.

Playing without regular center Don McArthur, the Huskers amazed the crowd as well as the Sooners with a steady second half advance Omaha's Dick Schleiger took over the pivot post and did right well, scoring nine points himself and limiting the Oklahoma hot shot, Gerald Tucker, to a similar total. Tucker left the game on fouls late in the second half.

Retherford topped the Husker (See SOONERS, Page 3)

Twenty New Huskerville Units Ready

Twenty more apartment units at the Lincoln Army Air Field have been made available for veterans at the university and their families, according to L. F. Seaton, operating superintendent of the university.

Fifty-three apartments have already been completed, which brings to 73 the total ready for occupancy at Huskerville. About fifty are already occupied. Another 25 apartments should be finished in two weeks, to give nearly 100 by mid-January, Seaton said.

Apartments

Materials for converting the buildings into apartments are being received more rapidly and Seaton hopes to have all 253 apartments ready by the end of summer school. Dormitory space for single veterans has been available since last fall. The low cost apartments are furnished and include kitchen, dinette, living room, bath and two bedrooms.

Several dormitories have been converted into temporary two-room apartments for dormitory residents who have married. There is room for 250 men in the dormitories, but only about 70 rooms are occupied. If more demand for dormitory space is not evident after the second semester begins, Max Swan, Huskerville manager, said more dormitory rooms may be utilized as apartments.

Robert Slemmons Wins Top Honors In Design Contest

Robert Slemmons won first place in the "Modern American Church design problem recently completed by Prof. Ben T. Hemphill's architectural design class.

Second place went to George Fox and George Kuska. The project was adopted to stimulate the use of current developments in materials and methods of construction in church design.

The Rev. John O. Wichelt and the Rev. Alvin Petersen were guest judges. Assisting them were Professors B. E. Graf, H. Skaret and M. Johnson of the architectural department staff.

The entries are now on exhibition in architectural hall.

Former Nebraska Student Featured In 'Look' Article

Stanley G. Martz, '45 graduate of the Engineering College, is featured in a four-page article in last week's Look Magazine.

The picture and story featured the work and social life of a student engineer at General Electric. Martz has been working for General Electric for one year and expects to become sales engineer after three more years of training. Graduating with the class of 1945, Martz was a member of Sigma Chi and Sigma Tau.

State Rural Music Is Topic Of Magazine

Music in Nebraska schools is the topic of three articles in the current issue of "Education Music" magazine and the inside cover has a full-page picture of the chorus of the Nebraska Music Educators' Clinic held last month at the university.

David Foltz, assistant professor of music, has written about a new course of study for Nebraska rural schools developed by a committee which he heads. The group was named by the state department of public instruction to aid the rural school music system in Nebraska. Mr. Foltz' article is entitled, "Diagnosis and Cure."

Mildred Ohlund, music teacher in the Havelock Central school, and a graduate student at the university during the summer, wrote on "Music a La Xylophone." She told of the enthusiasm and activity which resulted when she brought her fifth graders a xylophone she had made. The class constructed several of the instruments, and his given xylophone programs.

Veterans' Wives To Have Home Making Classes

Twenty wives of war veteran students will hold joint evening meetings Jan. 13, 15 and 22 with members of the university methods class in adult homemaking education.

The meetings, which will be held at Teacher's College, are part of a university-sponsored program to help veterans' wives solve housekeeping problems. The director is Mrs. Rhea Keeler of the university's department of vocational education.

Answer Questionnaires.

Topics for the meetings are being chosen from answers to questionnaires distributed to the veterans wives. Those in biggest demand at present are: Making the present home attractive; entertaining on a shoestring; easy, quick meals; budgeting time, money and energy.

The questionnaires are being distributed by Mrs. Keeler. For further information or for a check sheet call Mrs. Rhea Keeler, Dept. Voc. Ed. Phone 2-7261, extension 237, ring 2 or 5-9868.

Goss Tells Additions to Grad Faculty

Dean R. W. Goss of the graduate college recently announced that 15 members of the university staff have been added to the faculty of the graduate college.

They are Dr. Cecil T. Blunn, assistant professor of animal husbandry; Dr. Boyd G. Carter, assistant professor of romance languages; Dr. Benjamin Boyce, professor of English; Dr. Frederic D. Garrett, assistant professor of anatomy, college of medicine; Dr. Ephriam Hixson, professor of entomology.

Dr. Harold C. Lueth, dean of the medical college and professor of medicine; Dr. Jesse E. Livingston, assistant plant pathologist and assistant extension pathologist; Dr. John Roger McHenry, assistant professor of agronomy; Dr. Rufus H. Moore, assistant professor of horticulture; Dr. Otto Muller, instructor in physiology and pharmacology, college of medicine.

Dr. Carl Olson, jr., professor of animal pathology and hygiene; Dr. Edgar E. Palmer, professor of statistics; Dr. Ian W. Tervet, associate professor and associate plant pathologist; Dr. Harold E. Wise, associate professor of secondary education, and Dr. Walter F. Wright, assistant professor of English.

Charles W. Rook Joins Electrical Engineers' Staff

Charles W. Rook, member of the University of North Dakota electrical engineering department since 1941, will become associate professor of electrical engineering at the University of Nebraska February 1.

Much of Mr. Rook's work at the University will be in electronics courses, according to O. J. Ferguson, chairman of the electrical engineering department. Mr. Rook took his bachelor's degree at the University of Colorado in 1936, and did graduate work at Iowa State College.

The new faculty member worked for the Western Electric Company in Denver from 1937-39, and at the Westinghouse Research laboratories at Pittsburgh in the summer of 1945.

Theatre Sets 'Angel Street' Tryout Dates

First tryouts for the University Theater's third production of the year, "Angel Street," will be held tomorrow night from 7 to 9 p. m. in room 201 of the Temple, according to Max Whittaker, director of the play.

"Angel Street," Patrick Hamilton's Victorian thriller, is scheduled to open February 26 for a four night run with a Saturday matinee on March first. The play, set in a gloomy living room of a four-story house in London in the late 1800s, has a cast of three women and two men.

Story.

The story of the play is centered about the Mannings of Angel Street. Mr. Manningham, suave and authoritative, is attempting to torture his wife into insanity as part of his diabolical scheme to obtain a hidden fortune. Mrs. Manningham, who reflects by her haggard, wan and frightened air her husband's plan is succeeding, is helped to retain her sanity by Rough, a friendly detective, who suddenly appears upon the scene, suspicious that Mr. Manningham is not the respectable gentleman he appears to be.

Characters.

Nancy, a self-conscious, pretty, cheeky girl of nineteen, is the maid of the house who enlivens her working hours with parlor flirtations with the master. Elizabeth, a stout, amiable, subservient woman of fifty, is the housekeeper and cook.

Additional tryouts are scheduled for Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. Final tryouts will be announced later in the week.

Any student in the university who is carrying 12 hours or more and is in good standing is eligible to try out. Mr. Whittaker stated that students must attend at least two of the scheduled tryouts to be considered for a part.