

Univet Group Plans Dance On March 15

An orchestra dance free to students holding membership cards in the university's Veterans' Organization for the spring term will be held in the Union ballroom Saturday night, March 15, according to Miss Betty Larsen, social chairman.

Bob McNannay, "Univet" president for the spring term, reported that the first meeting for members will be held Wednesday, Feb. 12, at 7:30 p. m. The meeting will be highlighted by a report from the Educational Facilities committee now lobbying in the state legislature for an adequate budget for the university.

According to Don Baker, director of EFC, the budget recommended by Governor Val Peterson, now in the hands of the budget committee headed by Senator Callan, has no provision for new buildings or for extensive improvement of present buildings.

Baker added that the budget will be in the hands of the committee until some time in March when it will move to the floor of the legislature for final consideration. "The tentative budget is subject to much needed revision and is being given extensive study by the EFC," he added.

Carol Krey Tells Kernels' History At Dinner-Meeting

Following a dinner meeting Monday, the Kernels, social organization for unaffiliated women, entertained prospective new members at a party in the Union.

Carol Krey, president of the group, told the guests the history of the club. Cleo Schmoldt spoke on present activities, and Lois Gobar talked of the future plans of the club. Following refreshments, guests and members adjourned to the game room for bridge.

New officers of the Kernels for the second semester are Carol Krey, president, and Marjorie Marshall, vice-president. The new officers emphasized that all unaffiliated girls at the university are eligible for membership in the group. Anyone interested in becoming a member of the Kernels has been asked to contact one of the officers or a member of the group.

Navy To Allow Sailors In V-6 Paid Vacations

The U. S. Naval Reserve of Lincoln has announced that all members of the V-6 Inactive reserve are eligible for "a two weeks vacation this summer with pay" by requesting a cruise on one of the navy ships going to the Canal Zone, Cuba, San Juan, Bermuda and other ports in the Caribbean area.

Those taking the cruises will receive full pay and allowances at the rate at which they were discharged, transportation to and from the port of embarkation and clothing for the cruise.

Ex-navy men and veterans from other branches of the armed forces may enroll in the navy reserve and become eligible for these cruises. Enlistments in the naval reserve are still being accepted at the Naval Reserve office in the Post Office building. Ex-navy and coast guard veterans may enroll at their highest rating held at time of discharge.

It should be remembered that by joining the navy's inactive reserve none of the benefits as a veteran are lost, and the reserve may not be called to duty unless our national security is threatened.

The navy feels that the best and most expedient way to insure our national security is by building a strong reserve. These cruises represent an effort to

Films to Highlight Engineers' Meet

The student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers will be host to the Nebraska graduate section of the society in its first regular meeting of the semester, Thursday evening at 7:15 in room 315 of the Union.

Highlighting the meeting will be two sound films, "Boulder Dam," and "Wealth of the Andes." The latter film shows the difficulties confronted in the construction of the Central Railway of Peru thru the rugged Andes.

All civil engineering students above freshman standing may attend the meeting.

Federalists Preparing For Convention Sunday

Student Federalists will hold a meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. in the Faculty lounge of the Union to make final preparations for the state-wide Student Federalist conference to be held at the university this Sunday.

Members will also plan a membership and financial drive for the promoting of legislative action on a resolution called Federal World Government in Our Time.

Those members who have volunteered to work for the Regional Office may now do so and a work list has been placed in room 305 of the Union. The key to the office is obtainable in the office of the Union.
