

World Premiere Will Show Here March 4

BY NORM LEGER.

For the second time in six years Lincoln will be the scene of a motion picture world premiere, and once again university students will play a part in the glittering spectacle of a grand opening.

MGM's "The Sea of Grass," starring Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn, will have its initial showing at the Stuart theater on the evening of March 4. The scene of the movie is set in New Mexico. The story is centered around the ranchers who first settled in the plains of the great southwest. Since the producers were unable to find the grasslands best suitable for photography in the southwestern states, the scenes showing the "sea of grass" were photographed on location at the "By-the-Way" ranch in western Nebraska. The ranch is owned by S. R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska.

Students Picked.

Like the usual Hollywood opening, the premiere will feature a radio broadcast and interviews with celebrities, amidst blazing lights and smartly dressed spectators. Since the two leading stars, Hepburn and Tracy, will be working on other pictures and will be unable to attend the premiere, a contest is being held to select two university students to act as their proxies at the opening. The selections will be made on the basis of facial resemblance to the picture's stars.

The winners will be special guests at the premiere along with the governor, senators, the city mayor, and Lincoln civic leaders, and will be brought to the stage to be presented with plaques and telegrams from Hepburn and Tracy. Governor Peterson will make the presentation.

Each student who wishes to submit an entry should leave his name, address, and telephone number in the Daily Nebraskan mail box as soon as possible. The mail box is located by the door of the Daily Nebraskan office in the basement of the Union.

Alvino Rey, America's number one guitarist, has been booked to play in the Union ballroom, Friday, March 7, according to Miss Patricia Lahr, Union director.

In order to have ample room to dance, couples will be limited to 425, and tickets will be five dollars per couple.

As a twelve year old Cleveland high school boy, Alvino Rey invented the electric guitar. He originally played with Horace Heidt and then organized his own band featuring the King sisters.

War Duties.

During the war he served as a seaman first class, reorganizing his band in the winter of 1946. His new Victor recordings featuring the Blue Reys are "Cement Mixer," "Save Your Sorrow," "Sepulveda," and the Guitar Boogie."

Securing a band is not a new problem to Miss Lahr. Sonny Dunham was replaced by Charlie Spivak of the Mortar Board Ball and the same problem was faced at the Military Ball.

Tickets.

Tickets for Alvino Rey will be placed on sale two weeks before the band date, Friday, Feb. 21. The increasing problem of booking bands makes it impossible to begin ticket sales until then.

Broken Contract.

Previously, Miss Lahr had booked Ray McKinley for Friday, Feb. 21. McKinley, formerly a drummer with Glen Miller's band, signed a contract with the Union for that date, received a fifty percent deposit. Miss Lahr then learned that the band route had been changed, and the contract was broken.

Slack's Boggie.

Freddie Slack, famous for his "Cow Cow Boogie" and "Mr. Five by Five," was also contracted to play on Friday, Feb. 21. Miss Lahr was notified that the Slack aggregation had disbanded so his contract was broken.

CHANCELLOR GUSTAVSON. Chancellor R. G. Gustavson will address the first convocation of the second semester Tuesday at 11 a. m. in the union ballroom. "Science and Religion" will be the topic of the chancellor's speech. This will be the university student's first opportunity to hear Mr. Gustavson speak in a student convocation.

Plan Presented For Infirmary By Gustavson

"Schools should practice good medicine as well as teach the latest techniques," stated Chancellor R. G. Gustavson in his address at the Rural Health Institute of Organized Agriculture held at the Student Activities building Thursday afternoon.

Admitting that the university student health service has not been adequate, he presented the plan of the university to build an infirmary capable of giving students the best medical care possible. He advised that in setting up an adequate system of medical care, "authority and responsibility should go hand in hand."

Other speakers at the Institute were Dr. D. M. Alderson of the State Department of Health and Dr. H. C. Lueth, dean of the college of medicine.

All-University Convo

"Instructors may dismiss their classes for the All-University convocation at the discretion of the instructor with the approval of the head of the department," according to Dr. Rosenlof, Registrar.

State's School Systems Rank Nation's Fourth

Nebraska's educational standing has risen to the nation's fourth place, according to a recent chart published in Look magazine.

Middle-western and western schools outrank the previously top-rated eastern schools in the first one-third. Utah, Kansas and Oregon hold the places immediately above Nebraska. Of the 22 states west of the Mississippi, 16 rank in the upper half of the list. In contrast to this, only 8 states of the 26 east of the Mississippi stand above the midpoint in the rankings.

Schools in the Big Six conference are all in the top one-third with the exception of Missouri which is in thirtieth place.

Schools rating the top one-third category are Utah, Kansas, Oregon, Nebraska, Iowa, Washington, California, Idaho, New Hampshire, Colorado, North Dakota, Nevada, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Massachusetts and Montana.

The poll was taken from "Education, America's Magic," by Raymond M. Hughes and William H. Lancelot of Iowa State College.
