

Seniors Approve Recognition Week

Students Refer Plan to Faculty

BY DON AMSDEN.

More than 300 seniors attended a special convocation yesterday and gave their unanimous approval to the suggestion of their class officers for a traditional Senior Week.

This approval by the required majority of the senior class cleared the way for the next step in establishing a traditional week of activities to replace the final exam week for seniors. This step will be to present the plan to university officials for approval, according to Don Chapin, senior class president.

Not Official Yet.

Although approved by the students, Chapin emphasized that no official sanction has been given the Senior Week plan as yet. He outlined a tentative schedule of activities, however, including a banquet, dance, vocational guidance program, picnic and other possible programs. Final decision on the schedule for Senior Week will be left up to a master committee to be selected from seniors who indicated their willingness to serve, following the convocation. Approximate cost of Senior Week activities was estimated at $4 per student.

During the convocation, Chapin emphasized that the idea of establishing Senior Week was to start a tradition at Nebraska. "Kentucky and Colorado universities," he pointed out, "already follow the plan with success."

Officers Needed Info.

The convocation's purpose, he said, was to find out how many would attend, as well as approve a Senior Week. Complete attendance at the planned activities would be necessary if the tradition was to survive, the seniors were told.

When a show of hands was requested in order to determine those willing to, not only approve but attend, such a program, the response was unanimous. Faculty approval will be required for further action, Chapin indicated.

Interfraternity Council Books Levant for Ball

Phil Levant's band has been booked for the Interfraternity ball Feb. 28, replacing the previously scheduled Ray Herbeck aggregation, inter-fraternity president Dick Folda announced today.

Ray Herbeck notified the interfraternity council that he had changed his road schedule, when the management of the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco signed another contract with Herbeck for a longer engagement.

The Levant orchestra is advertised as "zippy, bright, colorful," and features the singing voices of Shirley White and Maurice Seymour.

Tickets for the dance, which is open to all fraternity men and their dates, retail at $2.40, tax included. Only 600 tickets have been printed, Folda said. The dance is scheduled Friday, Feb. 28, at the Turnpike, from 9 to 12 p. m.

Books Reviewed In Library Today

The second in a series of book review devoted to inter-American affairs will be held in the west room, Love Memorial Library, this morning at 9:30.

Two books in South American personalities will be reviewed. Mrs. Arch Hutchinson will review "Captain of the Andes," by Rojas and Mrs. Norma Kidd Green will review "A Latin-American Speaks."

Chen Talks Of Coalition Government

Speaking as a representative of the League of Democratic Parties in China, Percy Chen, Chinese political leader, journalist and lecturer, told yesterday's convocation audience that industrial progress will be made in China only when there is freedom of private enterprise, and that such freedom will never be had under the communist or Chiang Kai-shek government.

Mr. Chen declared that industrial reform can never be brought about under leadership of present ruling factions because of the lack of industrial planning on the part of the communists and the corruption of the Kai-shek regime which disables China from obtaining outside financial support.

Advocates Coalition.

Mr. Chen advocated the establishment of a coalition government made up of the three major factions in China, including the League of Democratic Parties, which represents over a hundred million middle class liberals. He said that under a constitution based on liberal, democratic principles, a coalition government could function for the good of all China. He stated that 90 percent of the Chinese people want neither the Chiang Kai-shek nationalist or communist government.

Praises Marshall.

A government supported by the League, which would activate a planned system of free enterprise, would assure China of financial aid from the United States, he said.

Mr. Chen praised Secretary of State Marshall as "the greatest living American today."

High School Press Clubs Meet Today

Students to Hear Talks, Edit Daily

Registration for The Nebraska High School Press Association convention which meets today, will be from 8 to 10 a. m. on the third floor of the Student Union, William F. Swindler, Director of the School of Journalism, has announced.

Students who have already registered will be conducted on a tour of the campus.

A general convocation will be held at 10:00 a. m. in the Union ballroom, with Merritt Whitten, president of the NHSPA, as the first speaker.

Speakers

Dr. Swindler will talk to the high school students on the requirements and preparation of high school graduates for university work in the School of Journalism.

Journalism from the university student's viewpoint will be the subject of the next speaker, Tom Sorensen, first semester graduate.

A representative from the Student Foundation will then speak.

Edit Nebraskan

In the afternoon, high school students will edit the Daily Nebraskan. Those not participating in this activity will compete in copyreading, advertising copy, journalistic vocabulary and editing. Also at this time, clinics will be held for the discussion of business problems concerning journalism.

The students are also invited to a Friday night juke box dance in the Union ballroom. The Student Foundation will furnish refreshments during the evening. A breakfast discussion for high school advisors at 8:00 a. m. will initiate Saturday morning activities.

Clinics

Clinics will be held during the morning to discuss the editorial side of journalism. Honors will be awarded at the luncheon held in the Union ballroom by Sigma Delta.

See PRESS CLUBS, Page 4, Col. 1

Blazine Accepts Husker Contract

New Football Line Mentor Tutored Rose Bowl Illini

BY GEORGE MILLER.

Anthony A. "Tony" Blazine has been signed to a three-year contract as university football line coach, according to word released Thursday afternoon by Athletic Director A. J. Lewandowski.

The newest member of the Scarlet coaching staff has been tackle coach at the University of Illinois since 1942 where he aided in the development of this year's Rose Bowl champions.

Former Pro Player.

He played collegiate football at Illinois Wesleyan, and came out of comparative obscurity to play 58 minutes as a member of the college All Stars against the Chicago Bears in the 1935 all Star game. Blazine was with the Chicago Cardinals for five years of professional football and played for one year with the New York Giants before turning to coaching.

The 35-year-old coach will report for duty on March 1. He is married and has a daughter three and one-half years old.

Contract Terms.

According to terms of the contract, Blazine will receive $5,000 the first year, $6,500 the second year, and $7,000 the third year.

He is of Austrian descent, over six feet tall and weighs 220 pounds.

Blazine's acceptance of Nebraska terms completes the Cornhusker coaching staff which was depleted when Backfield Coach Glenn Presnell retired and Line Coach Gomer Jones took a similar post at the University of Oklahoma.

Dougal Russell, former Kansas State backfield coach, was signed for the same job at Nebraska earlier this month. Other members of the staff are Bernie Masterson, head coach; Pop Klein, freshman coach and Ray Prochaska, assistant coach.

Spring football drills are tentatively scheduled to begin on Monday, March 3.

Met Tenor Sings Here Monday

Tenor Charles Kullman, who sings here Monday on the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra series, will return to Lincoln March 20th on the motion picture screen when the Universal film "Song of Schenerezade" based on the life of composer Rimsky-Korssakoff, comes to the Lincoln theatre. Cast as a ship doctor, he will sing a number of Korsakoff's songs.

The "call to Hollywood" came in his tenth year of stardom with the Metropolitan Opera Company with which he traveled when the company undertook the longest tour in its history this season. A student at Yale, Julliard and Fontainebleau, France, Kullman joined Vladimir Rosing's American Opera Company, dedicated to promoting opera in English. Repeating his American successes in Berlin, Vienna and Salzburg, where he appeared with Toscanini and Bruno Walter, he sang at Florentine May Music Festival in Italy and at London's Covent Garden.

Met Debut

Hailed in Europe, Kullman returned to this country in 1935 to make his Metropolitan debut in "Faust," later singing "Carmen," "Traviata," "Magic Flute," "Boris Gudonoff," and "Manon." When the Met added Mozart's "Abduction from the Seraglio" to its repertory for the first time this season, Kullman was chosen for the leading role. Listeners to the Saturday afternoon opera broadcasts heard him during the last two months in this work and in "Madame Butterfly."

Radio and recording are also who records for Columbia records. Singing regularly on a series of operettas over CBS, he has appeared on such other shows as Hit Parade, Ford, Chesterfield,

See KULLMAN, Page 4, Col. 1

Five Hepburn-Tracy Finalists Named In "Sea of Grass" Premiere Contest

Women contestants in the Tracy-Hepburn contest, from left to right: Margaret Huff, Betty Schultz, Mary Lou Thompson, Mary Kuppinger, Maxine Deason, Margaret O'Connell, Arlis Swanson, Maxine Ludwick, and Joan Lewis. The men, Robert Crooks, Craig Cole, orman Keyes, Bill Reese and Fendrew Nelson.

From a group of 14 contestants, five finalists were picked Wednesday in the Tracy-Hepburn preliminary judging. These five, who competed yesterday in the final judging, are Maxine Deason, Joan Lewis, Arlie Swanson, Craig Cole and Fendrew Nelson.

In the final contest, each entry appeared on the Temple stage made up to resemble as nearly as possible the star whom he or she was representing. The winners will be coached by Dallas Williams, University theater director, to walk and speak like Tracy and Hepburn in preparation for their appearance at the "Sea of Grass" premiere as the proxies of the two stars. The names of the two winners will be announced in the Sunday edition of the Daily Nebraskan. Judges for the contest were Mr. Williams, E. D. Rich, representative from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and Shirley Jenkins, editor of the Daily Nebraskan.

Forum Agrees On Delinquent Control System

Complete agreement that juvenile delinquency must be controlled in the home was reached by the four speakers in the regular Veterans' forum yesterday afternoon.

Mary Dye, junior in Teachers college, said that the cure for juvenile delinquency was in high school. She pointed out that 20 per cent of all arrests concern persons under 21.

Judge John L. Polk, a district judge of Lancaster county, stated, "Juvenile delinquency cannot be abolished; it can only be diminished." Mental and physical training for abnormals as a control was another point made by Judge Polk. He also contends that team participation for all children in school should be provided, not only for those fitted to be athletes, but also for the others. He says that everyone should be given the chance to learn to co-operate.

Don Charles, a veteran and a graduate student in Teachers college, believes that the environments must be attacked and that national education and juvenile campaigns should be conducted.

Dr. Gerald Kennedy, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, asserted that "we must get rid of selfishness and sin." Dr. Kennedy also believes that everyone is a potential delinquent. According to Dr. Kennedy, a person who has become a delinquent had no help in escaping evil. This help should include a feeling of importance, a foundation on which to stand, and a feeling of love.

The final half of the program was devoted to questions and opinions from members of the audience.