UN Debate Meet Shelves Decision Six Nebraska Contestants Awarded Superior Ratings

More than 275 debaters from 11 states attending the seventh annual two-day debate and discussion intercollegiate conference on this campus voted Saturday afternoon to table final action on the labor-management question until next year.

The question, "What Should be Our National Labor Policy," was taken to the plenary session where all delegates met to decide steps to be taken. Amendments were made to the original resolutions before the decision was reached to withhold further action. For the past two years, conference reports have been mailed to senators and representatives from contestant's respective states. Several of these resolutions have been printed in the "Congressional Record."

Nebraska Awards.

Nebraska contestants in the invitational meet were awarded six superior ratings in three divisions.

Av Bondarin, the university's only entry in the newscasting division, won a first place. In competition last year, Bondarin placed second in newscasting.

Excellent ratings were awarded Ted Sorensen in both extemporaneous speaking and oratory. "Should the Wagner Act be Revised," was the topic of his extemporaneous speech, and "Challenge of the Open Mind" was his oratorical subject.

Individuals rating superior in discussion were Betty Jean Holcomb, Don Kline, Leo Ramer and Jack Solomon. Miss Holcomb was also named a first place winner in last year's meet.

In debate competition, only nine teams were judged superior. Three debate teams from the University of Kansas were given this rating. Other schools granted superiors included the University of Nebraska, Iowa State College. See DEBATE, page 4.

Livestock Show.

Willard Visek, show manager, in urging registrants for the show to start fitting their animals, stated that showmen will be graded on the basis of improvement made in fitting their animals. Registrants should seek advice and instruction in showmanship from their respective superintendents. The superintendents are: Rudolph Tomek, swine; Rick Wahlstrom, dairy; Dale Stauffer, horses; Dick Fleming, beef cattle; and Waco Alberts, sheep.

Block and Bridle members and students who have applied for membership will meet at 7:00 p. m., Tuesday, March 3, in Animal Husbandry Hall, to discuss Junior Ak-Sar-Ben plans.

Co-Op Board Gives Report Of Activities

A report on accomplishments of the Board of Directors meeting of the Central League of Campus Co-Ops has been presented to the Inter-Co-op council by Lylod Glover, Pioneer Co-op, and president of the board.

With the help of the Consumer Cooperative Association, a revolving fund to provide money for building campus Co-op houses has been set up and will be administered by the Inter Co-op council on each campus.

Establish Employment Bureau.

In addition, an employment bureau, covering positions in all aspects of Co-op work through which any member can find a summer job to fit his needs and interests will begin soon.

Third point on the program is the scheduling of a recreational camp, designed to provide both fun and training in leadership for members attending, for the third week in June. One member from each Co-op on this campus will attend.

Cast Announced For "Silver Cord"

The cast for "The Silver Cord," a three-act play to be produced by the Experimental Theater on April 2 and 3, has been announced by Miss Margaret Servine, director of the play.

Title to Missouri; Ginn Wins Twice

(Special to The Daily Nebraskan.)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The dogfight anticipated between Missouri and Nebraska for Big Six indoor track and field honors came off as expected Saturday night, but the Tigers got too much of an early lead and took home the conference indoor laurels with a 55½ to 46 victory over Coach Ed Weir's Huskers, second place finishers.

Nebraska hopes suffered when Harvey Stroud, counted upon as an almost certain winner in the 440 yard dash, pulled a muscle and did not place in the race. This coupled with surprising Missouri strength in the hurdle events and the 60 yard dash forced the Nebraska squad into second place, ahead of Kansas and Oklahoma.

AUF Begins Annual Red Cross Drive

With a goal of $1,800, the all-University Fund will begin its annual Red Cross drive Tuesday, Mary Claire Phillips, director of AUF, announced.

Meeting.

A meeting of all AUF workers and solicitors will be held tomorrow afternoon at 5 p. m. in Room 315 of the union. Miss Phillips stated that all students who will work on the drive should attend tomorrow's meeting.

Tiny Bobby Ginn, Madison distance ace, sparked the Scarlet squad with victories in the mile and 880. Ginn was the only double winner of the meet, and broke his own record in the mile by touring the pine board saucer in 4:19.7. The previous standard was 4:21, which Bobby established in 1942.

Along with his mile win, Ginn defeated teammate Harold Kopf in the half mile race, crossing the finish line in 1:58.8.

Bob Blakely, sensational Bengal freshman, shattered the high hurdle mark with a sizzling .07.5 performance which replaces the .07.6 time held by Bill Smutz of Nebraska since 1941.
