Council Corner by Sam Warren

Last December, the Student Council sent four students to represent the university at the Chicago Student Conference, a meeting in which 727 delegates represented 672 colleges and universities and 55 national student organizations for the purpose of organizing a national organization of students.

A National Continuations Committee was established for the purpose of preparing a constitution and a general plan of activity to be presented to a larger assemblage of people at the University of Wisconsin this September.

For the purpose of facilitating the activities of the activities of the organization the county was divided into 30 regions, one of which includes North Dakota, South Dakota, and Nebraska. During this past weekend a regional meeting was held at Duchesne College in Omaha, with fifteen colleges and universities participating. The purpose of the meeting was to arouse greater interest in the national organization and in the constitutional convention this summer.

Regional organization was discussed at the Duchesne meeting and regional officers were elected. The officers are Eugene Barman, of the university, regional chairman; Bill Long, Kearney state college, vice-president; Don Nielsen, University of Omaha, treasurer; Robert Nickerson, Creighton University, secretary; and Wesley Sandvig, Augustana college, publicity chairman.

Most of the meeting was concerned with a discussion of the organization, its aims, purposes, methods, and structure. Following the lengthy discussion of the proposed organization it was found that all delegates present favored by Frank Sinatra fill the bill at 8:00 over KFAB. This same "Frankie" who is loved by millions of older as well as teenage listeners takes over the CBS network for one-half of the time between eight and nine this evening. As usual, Bing Crosby steals the spotlight at 9:00, as he echoes his majestic tones your way. Crosby, known to some people as "God's gift to music," sings and wise-cracks until 9:30. At this time information Please returns to the air after a leave of absence.

In order to catch this long-favored quiz program, switch that same little dial of KFAB, if you haven't exhausted yourself by listening to both Sinatra and Crosby before this.

the establishment of such an organization and were willing to take such a recommendation back to the campuses each represented. For this reason the meeting continued on organizational lines, the high-point being the assessment of each campus for an amount of money in accordance to a formula set up based on a per-capita and representative basis. The money is to be used to support the NCC, both national and regional, during the interim period until the constitutional conference.

Because of the brief time that had been allotted for the conference, and because the delegates wanted to get the opinions of their campuses concerning the proposed constitution for the NSA before the region made recommendations for presentation at the constitution convention, it was decided that another regional meeting be held on May 10 and 11.

An all out drive to interest other schools in the organization and to be present at the next regional meeting and the national constitutional convention has been undertaken by the executive committee. Only four colleges from this region were present at Chicago. There were thirteen at Duchesne, and several additional

Alpha Zeta, Phi U Hold Joint Meet

Phi Upsilon Omicron and Alpha Zeta, national honorary home economics and agricultural fraternal organizations, will hold a joint meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Home Ec social parlors.

Miss Georgette Khouri of Beyrouth, Lebanon and Mr. Yuen Chiu of Nanking, China will be the featured speakers. Miss Khouri is a graduate student of home economics. Mr. Chiu, who is taking his advanced degree in Plant Pathology, was formerly associated with the University of Nanking.

Following the meeting refreshments will be served and a social hour will be held in the Ag Student Union.

schools have expressed interest in the organization and are keeping in touch with the group.

The Griper . . .

The physical development of the griper has been concentrated on two organs—the one he talks with and the one he sits on.

He makes a brave noise with his mouth, but has the courage of a hyena and the co-operative spirit of a donkey.

The griper never says, "Let George do it." He screams, "Why hasn't George done it?" It never occurs to him that he might have done it himself.

When the cat needs belling, the griper is the first to see it, but don't expect any help from him when you get ready to do the job. He will shuffle off mumbling that he isn't going to stick his neck out.

In the presence of equals, the griper is free with bombastic denunciation of people in authority, but let a professor or an administrative officer appear and he falls over himself to go into the most disgusting act of bootlicking. The griper is an arrant sychophant.

His mind is a vacuum and his speech is claptrap.

He has neither the courage to back his play nor the sense to keep his mouth shut.

The griper is that which the Virginian said you should smile when you called him one.

Whenever we hear him begin his act, we think of this quotation from an unknown writer:

When you hark to the voice of the griper,
As you list to his hammer fall;
Remember the fact that the griping act
Requires no brains at all.

Dial Twistings . . .

BY LEE HARRIS

By merely flipping the dial on your home radio to KFOR at 11:30 today, each and every one of you can hear one of radio's best mid-day half hour shows. At that time the Kenny Baker program takes the air for 30 minutes of entertaining variety, featuring that popular vocalist of the same name. At 12:15, following Baukhage who reviews the news every day of the week, Ted Malone offers radio listeners a human interest story of the highest quality that late day writers can offer. Much of the time, Ted takes his thought from an actual happening from everyday life. Together with the quality of material offered and the way Ted Malone puts it into form, this fifteen minute period can be the day's most enjoyable time to you.
