

Filings Close For Elective Posts Today Council, Orator Pub Board Open

Filings for the 25 elective Student Council positions, for the three Publications Board offices, and for Ivy Day Orator, close today at 5 p. m. in the first-floor Student Activities office in the coliseum.

Because the majority of filings will be entered today, the Council has requested that filing procedure be explained again. As of yesterday, ten individuals had filed.

Eligibility requirements for any of the positions are that candidates must have a 75 average for each past semester in the university (not a weighted 75) and that at the end of this semester they be bona-fide members of the college, school or class that they wish to represent.

This means, for example, that those wishing to file for representative to the Council from Arts and Science college must have achieved junior standing for next year at the end of this semester, and Sciences college must have sent the sophomore class on Pub Board must have sophomore standing next year.

All college representatives to the Council, except those from Graduate, Dental and Law college sit at the Council as juniors. Therefore, junior representatives file in the spring of their sophomore year, and seniors-at-large file when they are juniors. Candidates for Graduate, Dental and Law colleges must be bona-fide members of those colleges, with no stipulations made about class membership. Eligibility in its three different phases will be checked by the registrar's office, and a list of approved candidates released for publication in Sunday's Daily Nebraskan, if possible.

Candidates are reminded to list on filing blanks the class they will be in next year and not the one they now are in. Altho filings have never been handled in the Student Council office, several students have gone there this week to file, instead of to the coliseum.

Indian Youth Leader Tells Of Homeland

S. Chandra-Sekhar, M. A., M. Litt., Ph.D., and lecturer in the department of Oriental studies at the University of Pennsylvania will address a student convocation on "Poverty and Population in India" tomorrow at 11 a. m.

Altho born a Hindu and the son of a prominent Indian educator, Chandra-Sekhar had a Christian education in an American mission high school. In 1938, when he was twenty years old, he graduated with honors from the Presidency College at Madras, majoring in economics. Madras University granted the scholar a fellowship to investigate economic problems in India, which has since been his major interest.

In London when the war broke out, he sailed for the United States to carry on research work in three Eastern universities.

Chandra-Sekhar has been in close touch with Indian affairs for many years. He was prominently associated with the youth movement in India, and served as President of the India Youth Congress and was also a member of the Indian National Congress.

Now a member of the East-West lecture association, Chandra-Sekhar has been termed a stimulating speaker who takes possession of his audience.

Uni Theater Production, 'Macbeth,' Opens Tonite

HENRY LEE AND BLANCHE DUCKWORTH

"... Wash this filthy witness from your hand. The Deed is done."

Duckworth, Lee Star In Tragedy

By NORM LEGEE, News Editor.

University Theater's production of "Macbeth," directed by Dallas Williams, will open tonight at 8 p. m. in the Temple theater. Playing the lead roles of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth are Henry Lee and Blanche Duckworth. The part of Banquo is played by Dean Graunke.

The Shakespearean drama is based on the life of Macbeth, king of Scotland in the 11th century, who murdered his cousin Duncan to win the throne. "Macbeth" is a study of the relentless ambition of both Macbeth and his wife to gain power, and relates the evil plot by which these ambitions are fulfilled and how it brings tragedy to the scheming couple.

University Theater first nighters will see the advantages brought by the use of the newly installed counter-weight system which facilitates the rapid changes of scenery. The play is divided into 17 scenes and will run for an approximate time of two hours. There will be a ten-minute intermission between scenes eight and nine.

A new sound system will be used for background music which will add to the effectiveness of "Macbeth's" many dramatic moments.

Other members of the cast include: Donald Hall, Duncan, King of Scotland; Joe Moore, Malcolm; J. K. MacDonald, Donalbain; John Wenstrand, Macduff; Gaylord Marr, Lennox; Kermit Rohde, Ross; William Palmer, Mentieth; James Johnston, Angus, and Claude Underwood, Fleance, son of Banquo.

Seyton, an officer attending Macbeth, is played by Dale Wisser; a sergeant, Don Johannes; a doctor, Dewey Ganzel; and a porter, David Andrews. The murderers are William Reuter, Bob Hansen and Rodney Franklin.

Rex Coslor, Don Johannes, Rodney Franklin, Walter Davis, and Merle Stalder play the soldiers. See THEATER, Page 4

Complete Interpretation Of Article IV On Publicity, Votes Made By Council

Interpretation of the much-discussed Article IV of the Student Council By-Laws has been completed by the Judiciary Committee of the Council at the request of the Faculty Committee on Student Organizations and Social Functions. The article deals with publicity and vote solicitation on election days.

In order to avoid further controversy over the exact meaning of the article, the Council has issued the following definitions of each term in the article.

Article IV. No vote shall be solicited at the polls or in the building in which the election is being held during election day.

No money shall be spent on behalf of any candidate. No printed, mimeographed, typed or otherwise published material in behalf of any candidate shall be permitted except the impartial announcements of the candidates appearing in the press. Any candidate violating these rules either in person or thru his supporters shall thereby become ineligible.

"No vote shall be solicited" shall mean: No person eligible to vote for any candidate shall, in any way, by means of the spoken or written word or any other means, be influenced at the polls or while in the building where the election is being held, to cast his or her vote for any particular candidate.

"At the polls or within the building in which the election is being held," shall mean: Any place within said building or on the steps, walks, drives or lawn, to a distance of one hundred feet from any part of the building.

"During election day" shall mean: At any time from twelve o'clock midnight of the day preceding the election to the time that the polls are officially closed.

"No money" shall mean: No cash, checks, mail orders, drafts, stamps, credit, or any other article of value.

"Shall be spent" shall mean:

Shall be exchanged, traded or given away in any manner.

Candidate

"In behalf of any candidate" shall mean: The term candidate shall include both the person whose name appears on the ballot and the political party with which he or she may be affiliated. This definition of "candidate" shall be followed wherever the term appears in this article. A person whose name is to appear on the ballot shall be considered a "candidate" any time after close of filing.

"No printed, mimeographed, typed, or otherwise published material" shall mean: No handbills, posters, papers, newspapers or any other type of materials or advertising on which appears any writing, typing, printing, cartoons, drawings, photographs or any other type of pictorial representation of thought except authorized publicity in the Daily Nebraskan or official posters.

"Shall be permitted" shall mean: Shall be legal and in accord with this article.

Announcements.

"Impartial announcements" shall mean: A list with pictures when provided of all candidates for all offices to be filled by the election, in which list the candidates'
