Big Six Declares Bernie Ineligible

Husker athletic circles were in a whirl today following the revelation by Big Six officials that Football Coach Bernie Masterson has been suspended for participating in the YM-CA swimming championships in 1932.

The Nebraska mentor failed to get permission from the university, but the incident has just been brought to the attention of the faculty committee. By virtue of the discovery a chain of related incidents has sprung up.

Masterson was ineligible for his last season of Big Six football. The Scarlet team was forced to forfeit all its games won in that season and along with it the conference football championship. In addition to the penalty, the Chicago Bears may be liable because of an invasion of college ranks to pick up a player who had not yet completed his college career.

Reports from other conference schools indicate that Nebraska will be dropped from football schedules because of the stigma attached to competing against a school with an undergraduate for a coach. It is further reported that the Huskers are dickering with state junior colleges for these schools are not adverse to meeting the Huskers.

There is a possibility that Masterson will attempt to finish his college career this fall, thus relieving the quarterback situation which took a turn for the worse when Joe Partington suffered a broken nose last week.

Research shows that if the Husker team of 1933 had forfeited its games, the conference championship would have gone to Kansas State then coached by Bo McMillan. Possessing a loop champion, the Wildcats probably would have retained McMillan at any cost and in all likelihood athletic relations between Nebraska and Indiana never would have been started.

Speculation concerning the gridiron director for the coming season centers around several outstanding students in the university's physical education school.

Gustavson Will Entertain Graduate Club Tomorrow

Chancellor and Mrs. R. G. Gustavson will be hosts in their home tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. to the Graduate Club for an informal "get acquainted" evening. All graduate students are invited.

Chancellor Gustavson will talk briefly on "What a Graduate Club Ought To Be." Following his talk, George Banez, graduate student from Manila, who will speak on "My Life in the Philippines," will tell his experiences there before the war, mentioning the life of the different classes, the Philippine universities, and the contribution of the United States to lower education.

Bridge playing and refreshments will complete the entertainment.

'Flat Fifty' New League's Title, Add 43 New Teams

There may be new opponents on Nebraska athletic slates next year.

Following the admission of the University of Colorado to the Big Six, and the weighing of the application of Oklahoma A. and M., conference schools have decided that they do not want their regular meetings held up by discussions on the possibility of new league members. Hence a proposition has been advanced, and is receiving strong backing, that the Big Six add 44 new members, thus limiting membership to an even fifty.

Should the proposal be approved, the loop will be named the "Flat Fifty" since all members will hail from the prairie states.

On the Road

Tentative plans have been made to send the Husker football team on the road for three consecutive years. At this rate, and playing 16 or 17 games per season, the Scarlet gridders would be able to meet all of the conference teams.

Champions will be determined once every three years, and after their three year road trip the Scarlet athletes will remain at home for the next three years.

The same system will be followed for the basketball, golf, swimming and wrestling seasons, and an arrangement has been set up whereby members of the traveling squads will pursue their studies at the schools where they are competing.

Schools mentioned as possible additions to the conference in addition to the present members are Abilene Christian, Arkansas A. & M., Baldwin Wallace, Brim & Becker Miners, Cumberland Teachers, Culver Stockton, Casper Junior College, Coe, Chadron State Teachers, Cameron Aggies, Doane, Dakota Wesleyan, Emporia State, Emporia Teachers, Flatlands Tech, Fort Riley, Graceland J. C., Golden State, Highlands J. C., Haskell Institute, Ishpeming Mines, Jensens Applied Arts, Kerrigan Korner, Kansas Wesleyan,

More Activity Seen For IM Athletes

Intramural Director Lou Means has announced plans for an enlarged program of intramural activities for university students next year.

Thirty-four sports will be added to the program, one of the biggest in the nation. Additions will include skeet shooting, darts, curling, archery for distance and accuracy, squash rackets, soccer, jai-alai, cricket, quoits, deck tennis, marathon running, individual and team, crow bombing, parachute jumping, car-hopping, table-hopping, motor scooter relay, fly casting, card filing, for speed and accuracy, volleyball inflating race, pie throwing, pie eating, weight guessing and jitterbugging.

Winners in all sports will receive trophies, and all teams are urged to enter now. Competitors for the marathon and table hopping events are urged to start training immediately in order to be ready for the actual competition next fall.
