Honorary Degrees.

In 1942, the University of Michigan conferred the honorary degree of Litt.D. on Miss Cather, and Columbia and Yale followed with the same honor in 1928 and 1929, respectively.

Kenneth Forward, university assistant professor of English, believes that Miss Cather "was the most consummate artist to come out of Nebraska," and that "even though she had not lived in Nebraska for many years, most of her better works developed Western themes."

Miss Cather, who characterized the lives of people living near Red Cloud, considered foreigner's contributions to the American way of life valuable material.
