

Husker Baseball '9' Entertains Cyclones

Battling to retain their position at the top of the Big Six baseball standings, the Husker nine will go into action Friday at 4 p. m., and Saturday at 2 p. m., against Iowa State on the NU diamond northwest of the coliseum.

Coach Tony Sharpe's club trounced the Cyclones 12-3 last Monday at Ames, but suffered a 2-0 whitewashing the next day.

Elroy Gloystein, who has won three conference games without a loss, is expected to pitch for the Huskers Friday against Gene Mahany of Iowa State, who shut out the Scarlet Batters Tuesday.

Cerv Doubtful.
Bob Cerv, slugging outfielder-catcher for the Huskers, will not start Friday. He suffered an ankle injury during the second game at Ames.

Wes Maser, right fielder, has hit stride and has been moved into the cleanup spot. The versatile Lincoln performer played shortstop last year, but has moved to an outfield berth for the 1947 season.

Cleanup hitter for the Cyclones is Dave Jones, Omaha, who will cavort in left field. Jones was at second base for the Ames team last season.

Cyclone Villain.
Center fielder Hogue was the I.S. batter who ruined Tap Jacob's effort against the Cyclones last Tuesday. He collected three hits in three times at bat, including a triple which brought in one of the two runs scored by the Iowa State team.

Following the Iowa State series, the Cornhuskers will remain at home for a two-game engagement with the University of Missouri on Monday and Tuesday. The Tigers slugged out a 13-8 victory over Nebraska at Columbia in a series limited to one game because of rain.

With Cerv sidelined by injuries, Coach Tony Sharpe has moved two catchers to the varsity from the Nubbins squad. Dillard Blatchford of Maskell and Willard Branson of Stanton have been advanced, along with Pitcher Jack Helmsing of Omaha, Infielders Don Hays of Lincoln and Elburn Rice of Palisade and Outfielder Harold Schreve of Beatrice.

Weir's Cinder Artists to Face Colorado Foes

Husker track and field performers will make their first dual meet start Saturday afternoon against the University of Colorado team at Boulder.

Indications point to a strong showing by the Scarlet team in the field events, and a domination of the track events by the host track squad. With Don Cooper, Herb Grote, Monte Kinder and Dick Miller available for field event service, the Huskers should score heavily.

Bobby Ginn will get stiff competition in the 880-yard run when he faces Dave Bolen, the Colorado flash, who is unbeaten in this event.

Casualties.
With Dick Piderit, Loyal Hurlbert, Fritz Ware and Bill Moomey still out of action, the Nebraska squad will be short-handed in some events.

Coach Ed Weir intends to reveal the traveling squad this morning, and the squad will leave tonight for the scene of the meet.

Tennis Results
The Nebraska tennis team defeated Ottumwa Navy 4-3 in a match played Thursday in the coliseum.

Final Varsity Drill to Feature Scrimmage

Members of the Nebraska football squad spent Thursday's practice session preparing for the final scrimmage slated to occur Friday afternoon. Coaches divided the backfield according to the squad split for the game and gave each unit a few new tricks.

The final scrimmage will pit varsity elevens against each other rather than the varsity against the Nubbins as has been the case in all previous scrimmages. Coach Bernie Masterson has divided the varsity outfit into two teams, the Blue Devils and the Red Dragons.

Three players were brought up from the Nubbins for the final drill. They are Fullback Buzz Hollins, Halfback George Bostwick and Tackle Bob Harrington. The team rosters:

Whites Trip Blues By Narrow Margin

The wind-swept north practice field was the scene of a bitter battle between the Blues and the Whites, the two teams made up of men from the freshman and Nubbins football squads. Victory went to the Whites, 7-6. The Whites won the advantage of the junior hurricane wind and kicked off from the west end of the field to start the game. The kick-off went well over the goal line forcing a third down kick from the Blues.

This started a series of punts from both squads until the Whites finally broke the ice with backs Ray Magsamen, Bob Long, and Bob Scoville totting the pigskin for three first downs.

The Whites advance was soon halted, however, when Center Jack Andrews of the Blue Squad dragged down a pass. The White squad regained possession of the leather when the Blues cut loose with a third down punt and soon locomotive Magsamen was thru the line for a White first and ten.

Kicking Toes.
The second quarter brought out some educated toes with Neihart and Dean DeMude of the Blues cutting loose with some long punts. Quarterback Churchill of the Blues received a leg injury and Magsamen changed colors to call signals for the Blue squad. The half arrived with both teams hanging an egg on the score sheet.

Bob Long started the half off for the Whites with a galloping return of the Blue kickoff. Fumble, Magsamen broke out his both teams and a White loss on a lowing a series of good punts for tossing arm and uncorked a 25 yard toss into the glue fingers of "Red" Neihart to tally six points for the Blue squad. The try for the extra point failed and the making another driving kickoff third quarter ended with Long return for the Whites.

Highlights of the last quarter was a half back pass with Prall firing thirty yards into the waiting arms of Fox who romped over for the White squad. Russell Hale followed the trend for the Whites by pounding over on a quarterback sneak for the extra point.

More Trouble.
It looked as if the Blues would be in for plenty of trouble as the game neared the close when Blue back Ted Gunderson dropped a punt and recovered only to run into Blue quarterback Magsamen.

Following this catastrophe Neihart was thrown for another Blue loss but retaliated by cutting loose with a deep into-the-wind punt which went right on by the White safety. A last minute pass for the Whites fell short as the whistle blew.
