

HUSKER HIGHLIGHTS

By Lee Harris
(Substituting for George Miller.)

The Husker golf team will be up against stiff competition today when they tangle with Iowa State at Ames. The Huskers this year have posted one win in three starts, that being a 17-1 victory over Kansas State. Iowa State on the other hand has hung up seven straight triumphs in their race for the Big Six crown and Jack McGuire's men will be pointing for Nebraska. The Huskers will be at a slight disadvantage for Bernie Mortensen has an injured hand and will see little if any action. Five men made the trip besides Mortensen, they are: Don Waite, Del Ryder, Verne Stauch and Don Stroh.

The state high school track meet which will be held today and Saturday in Memorial Stadium will offer plenty of interesting competition. McCook led by Leo McKillip and Boys Town featuring Leonard Kroll look to be the favorites in the meet. McKillip is expected to crack the hurdles mark while the West Dodge sprinter is expected to give the dash mark a stiff argument. If he runs true to form, Leonard Kehl, the Scottsbluff vaulter, will post a new pole vault record. Kehl has gone over 12 feet 9 3/4 inches this year and the old record held by Howard Debus is 12 feet 8 inches.

With the exception of Boys Town the Omaha teams are expected to take a back seat this year leaving the way open for strong aggregations from McCook, Central City, Hastings, Scottsbluff and Lincoln Northeast.

While on the subject of track it might be noted that in the recent intramural track meet every record except one that being in the pole vault event was broken. Most of the records standing at the present time will be hard to beat next year for the quality of competition will soon level off. The present marks are for the most part where they should be, for it must be remembered that at least over half of the contestants in such a meet do not have the proper or adequate training that it takes to make standing records. However, the intramural records still stand favorably in comparison to many other high schools and college records.

With the Big Six outdoor meet drawing near, attention will fall on Nebraska's chances against the powerful Tigers of Mizzou. The recent dual meet held in Lincoln between the two schools seems to be a good indication of what is to come. However, the voices rising from the rival camps of Kansas, Iowa State, Oklahoma and Kansas State spell power in most of the events. The Wildcats from Kansas State might have a great deal to say about what happens in the weight events while their

Tennis Play Takes IM Spotlight

Since the completion of the intramural track meet held May 12, and 13, main interest has returned to the remaining inter-house competition in the tennis singles and doubles, and the horseshoe tourney.

In the tennis singles, five men have advanced to the quarter finals. McGehee of Phi Delta Theta will oppose Rex Jones of Phi Kappa Psi, while Fisher, another Phi Delta, and Durland, of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, will decide who will play Bahr of Sigma Phi Epsilon. Saladin of Sigma Alpha Epsilon beat Ray Spured of Phi Gamma Delta to earn the right to play the winner of Means, Beta Theta Pi and Hurlbert. Don McArthur of Sigma Alpha Epsilon is waiting to oppose the winner of Loomis, Beta Theta Pi, and Whelan of Alpha Tau Omega.

The tennis doubles tourney has seemed to be the victim of late matches as only two of the four semi-final matches have come off by the appointed date of Friday, May 16. In the matches played, Jenkins and Hurlbert, both Independents, beat Leik and Dedrich of Alpha Tau Omega, while McGehee and Olsen of Phi Delta Theta were busy eliminating Durland and Mills of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The Horseshoes contest is going well, with all four of its quarter-final matches ready to be played. Kushman outpointed Greenwood to gain his chance against Weigand of Delta Upsilon. Shaw of Sigma Phi Epsilon opposes Firnhaler, while Kathol, Delta Tau Delta, will pitch against Chastain of Delta Upsilon. Anderson beat Wenke of Sigma Chi to play Stahl of Delta Upsilon.

Nebraska's baseball team will tangle with Kansas this afternoon on the Jayhawk field with the hope of evening their win-loss record in the standing of the Big Six.

Included among his sixteen-man traveling squad Coach Tony Sharp took with him five pitchers: Jim Sandstedt, Elroy Gloystein, Herald Jacobs, Wally Scheef, and Sterling Van Vleek. Others on the traveling squad include Jim Sharp, Fritz Hegwood, Bob Grogan, Bob Cerv, Wes Maser, Thurman Wright, Hobe Hays, Del Blatchford, Willard Branson, and Don Hays.

Nebraska will meet Minnesota on the Husker diamond May 19 and 20, for their last 1947 appearance. If Huskers Bob Cerv and Jim Sandstedt continue to heal as they have in the past few days, Nebraska will be near full strength for the first time this year. Sandstedt seemed to be in good shape of late as he put the Iowa State Cyclones down, 4-2, in a recent series held in Lincoln.
