Robert Osler Cops Annual Tri-K Contest

144 Contestants Compete in Meet

BY CHARLES BRIM.

Bob Osler, ag college senior, was announced as the winner of the 13th annual Tri-K Crops judging contest at a banquet held in the ag college cafeteria Saturday night.

Osler's score of 1309 of a possible 1400 points won first place honors in the senior division and was the high individual score of the entire contest. One hundred forty-four contestants participated in the contest which was sponsored by the University Tri-K club.

Waco Albert and Virgil Johnson took second and third place positions in the senior division which was open to students who had completed Agronomy 1, 3 and 5. Only four men competed in the division.

Jack Baird, second high individual in the entire contest, scored 1285 points to defeat Robert Kahrs and Leonard Kokes, second and third place winners, in the junior division. The junior division was open to students who have taken Agronomy 1 and 3.

The freshman contest, open to students who had no courses in Agronomy or had completed Agronomy 1, was won by Duane Sellin who was third high individual in the entire contest. Second and third place winners in the division were Bertrand Somerhalder and Edward Sautter.

Awards.

Gold, silver and bronze medals were presented to the top three men in each division by Dr. T. H. Gooding of the Agronomy department. Ribbons were awarded to the ten high men in the three divisions. In addition, the high individuals in each division will have their names engraved on the Tri-K honor plaques that are on display in the Crops Lab.

Applications For Festival Due June 1

Students planning to attend the World Youth festival at Prague, Czechoslovakia in July and August must submit applications and registration fees to the U. S. committee for the World Youth festival, 144 Blecker street, New York 12, New York, by June 1.

The United States has a quota of 500 young people for the festival and persons can attend only as part of national delegations. All must be officially registered by the committee.

Reconstruction.

Those who wish to do so may do reconstruction work in Poland, Yugoslavia or Czechoslovakia, after the festival, which will last approximately six weeks.

Transportation costs, estimated at $550 top, must be met individually by each delegate. Two troop transports, which the government has made available for youth travel to Europe, will leave sometime during the first week of July and return the early part of September.

Fee of $15.

The registration fee of $15 must reach the committee by June 1, together with applications filled out in duplicate.

Students who wish additional information may inquire at the Daily Nebraskan office.

Board Appoints Novotny, Flagg as 'Daily' Heads

Flagg—Will take over business duties.

Dale Novotny and Gould "Fig" Flagg are to be next semester's Daily Nebraskan editor and business manager respectively, the university publications board announced late Saturday morning.

Novotny, who replaces retiring editor, Shirley Jenkins, is a managing editor this semester, junior class president, chairman of the Student Union board, was co-chairman of the junior-senior prom committee and is a member of Beta Theta Pi and Delta Sigma Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity.

A former Daily Nebraskan assistant business manager, Flagg is secretary of Kosmet Klub, a 1947 Innocent and a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

Managing Editors.

Taking over as managing editors will be John Hill, re-appointed from this semester, and George Miller, who moves up from the sports desk after four semesters as sports editor. Secretary of Beta Theta Pi, Miller is a member of Newman club, Student Foundation, Innocents society, Delta Sigma Chi and Kappa Tau Alpha, scholastic journalism honorary.

Hill, also recently tapped Innocent, was a "Daily" news editor and managing editor for one semester each. He is editor of the Bulletin, Student Foundation publication, and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

New assistant business managers will be Irwin Chesen, Zeta Beta Tau and Merle Stalder, Alpha Tau Omega. Bill Wilkins, Delta Upsilon, was re-appointed from this semester.

Three news editors, Wallace Becker, Jeanne Kerrigan and Norman Leger, are carry-overs from this semester. The two remaining spots went to Gene Jensen and Alan Clem.

News Editors.

Becker has been a news editor for the past semester. Miss Kerrigan, a member of Pi Beta Phi and Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity, is a Coed Counselor and has been a news editor for two semesters. Leger, recently named to study in Oslo, Norway this summer, is a 1947 cheerleader and has also been a news editor for the last year. He is a member of Kappa Sigma and Corn Cobs and was cited for scholarship at Honors convocation this spring.

Miss Jensen, Daily Nebraskan society editor this semester is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, Coed Counselors and Theta Sigma Phi. Alan Clem, former "Daily" reporter, is a member of the university baseball team and Alpha Tau Omega.

Remaining Positions.

The board named Ralph Stewart, sports reporter this semester to the sports editor spot vacated by Miller. New Ag college editor, who replaces Charles Brim, is Keith Frederickson, Ag YMCA vice president, Cornhusker Countryman reporter and a member of Farm House fraternity.

Sam Warren retained his post as special features editor. Warren is a member of the Student Council, Interfraternity council and Sinfonia, a YMCA cabinet member and secretary of Corn Cobs and Sigma Nu.

Appointed to succeed Miss Jensen is Valora Fiddock, new society editor. Miss Fiddock is a former Daily Nebraskan reporter and a member of Alpha Omicron Pi and Coed Counselors and Theta Sigma Phi.

Has Beens.

Retiring news editors are Patricia Jensen and Sue Golden.

Novotny—Will form "Daily" policies.

Staff Members Attend Regional UNESCO Meet

Other Delegates.

Other faculty members who attended as delegates from national organizations include Miss Mabel Lee, the National Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation; Dr. E. E. Lockey, National Council of Geography Teachers; and Dr. Galen Saylor, the National Association for Supervision and Curriculum.

Home Ec Club Holds Last Meet, Plans Program

Home Economics club members will hold their last meeting of the year Tuesday, May 20, at 5 p. m., in the Home Economics Social Rooms, according to Priscilla Flagg, president.

The theme of the meeting will be "What we did last summer." A skit portraying the opportunities for jobs open to Home Economics majors will be presented by club members.

The meeting will be dismissed in time for YM-YW picnic, according to program directors Lois Thorfinnson and Vivian Fraser. All Home Economics Club members are urged to attend.

12 Selected For Cheer Squad Finals

Twelve finalists were named late Saturday to compete in Yell Squad tryouts scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Daily Nebraskan office.

The committee in charge of selecting finalists was composed of Stan Johnson, president of the Innocents society; Joan Ackerman, vice president of Mortar Board; Harriet Quinn, president of Tassels, and Duane Munter, president of Corn Cobs. Martin Pesek, Yell king, acted in an advisory capacity.

Finalists.

Finalists chosen were Betty Aasen, Norm Leger, Jerry Johnston, Margie Cherny, Cherie Viele, Hazelle House, Dorothy Borgens, Phyllis Harris, Jo Seidel, Nancy Gish, Jackie Tobin and Marge Lesse.

Because only seven men tried out for positions on the squad, the committee has announced that other men students interested may compete in the finals Wednesday.

To be eligible for participation a student should be of sophomore standing by next fall and should be taking at least 12 semester hours this current semester.

Squad Number

The planned squad for the coming year will include four men, four girls, and the yell king, making cheer leaders' duties consist of leading yells at games and rallies.

Pesek instructed students trying out in two yells before individual competition began. Personality, potential ability, co-ordination and pep served as the bases for selection of the finalists.

Former Squad

Student members of this year's cheering squad included Hink Aasen, Doris Easterbrook Beindorff, Jackie Scott, Betty Aasen, Norm Leger, Jerry Wilson, Martin Pesek and Ray Biemond. Art Beindorff served as yell king the past year.

Next year's squad will be selected from the list of 12 finalists and any additional men entries at Wednesday night's competition.

Corn Cobs Plan Smoker For Pledging

Corn Cobs will hold its annual pledge smoker Tuesday at 7 p. m. in room 313 of the Union, to entertain prospective workers. At that time workers for the next year will be selected from candidates representing organized houses and students at large.

Any man not living in an organized house who is interested in being considered for pledgship should place his name in a letter containing the Corn Cobs' mail box in the Union basement, according to Secretary Sam Warren.

Representation.

Presidents of organized houses, fraternities and co-ops, will receive letters Monday instructing them to choose two worker candidates from their chapter to represent their houses.

Qualifications make it necessary that any pledge have a minimum of 24 hours credit by the end of this semester, and to have carried 12 hours during this semester. A weighted 75 average is required for initiation of the 16 workers chosen at the end of the year to become actives.

Other qualifications stipulate that a pledge preferably have Saturday mornings free from classes next fall so that he may devote time to Saturday work projects during the football season. Workers should be sophomores, although neither of these is essential.
