

Huskers Drop Final Diamond Tilt 14-7

Score: Minnesota 14, Nebraska 7. Remindful of the thrilling battles these two schools have staged on the gridiron in past years. But that score is the final tally of the Husker's last diamond appearance of the 1947 campaign.

It was a disastrous third inning in which the Gophers picked up eight runs that spelled defeat for the Nebraska nine in their season finale.

Big Jim Sandstedt held the Big Nine hitters at bay in the first two frames, but weakened in the third canto, issuing three charity passes and delivered a home run pitch with bases loaded. Elliott started the inning with a Texas leaguer. Grant went to first safely on a blooming bouncer in front of the plate, and Johnson survived on an error by Grogan to load the bases.

Elliott Homers.

Shield greeted Big Jim with a sharp single sending one run home. Then Sandstedt issued two successive bases on balls before Dorrell was out on a high fly taken by Cerv. But Sandstedt handed Gilbert a free trip to first and then grooved one for Elliott who smashed it over the fence in left-center field. Elroy Gloystein came in to relieve Sandstedt and snuffed the big rally by striking out Honning, starting Gopher hurler.

The Huskers rallied in their half of the third to score three runs. Denker was hit by a pitched ball and Grogan singled. Cerv hit into a fielder's choice and Hegwood lifted a hit into short right sending Grogan home. Maser then grounded out to the pitcher. Wright then came thru with his only hit of the day to drive home Cerv and Hegwood.

Gloystein Toils.

Gloystein was in trouble in the fourth. Denker made a diving stop of Grant's hard hit grounder, but the throw was too late. Grant moved to second and Frank sent him home with a sharp single. Meers then tripled and scored on an error by Hegwood. Denker and Grogan collaborated to trap Dorrell between second and third to retire the side.

Tony Sharpe's Huskers showed signs of life in the sixth inning. Cerv lived on a wild throw by Kranz, third Gopher chucker. Hegwood and Maser drew a pass to load the sacks. Cerv scored on a passed ball, and Hegwood tallied after the catch of Branson's long fly ball.

Final Husker Threat.

The Husker scoring attack ended with two runs in the seventh. Hegwood drew another free pass to first. Maser singled, and Wright survived on an error by Meers, Minnesota short, to load the bases again. Hegwood romped home as Bronson hit into a fielder's choice and Maser slid in safely on a passed ball.

Johnson hoisted one of Gloystein's pitches past Maser for a triple and scored when Denker missed a hot grounder off the bat of Shield for a single score in the eighth.

The Gophers padded their lead in the ninth when Elliott lashed out a triple following Gilbert's single. Grant then doubled to send in the final Minnesota run.

Minnesota greeted Sandstedt and Gloystein with 17 hits, while the Huskers could nick four Gopher hurlers for only seven safe blows.

Whiffs Seven.

Gloystein struck out seven and Sandstedt whiffed one. Six Huskers went down via the strikeout route. Gloystein displayed great control, giving no base on balls. Sandstedt issued four walks, while the Minnesota mound star delivered eight free passes.

Cerv and Branson cut down six of Dave McMillin's boys at second on attempted steals.

Grogan lashed out two singles to lead the Husker batting parade. Grant and Elliott each collected three hits to pace the Minnesota attack. Elliott's potent bat smashed out a single, triple and a home run.

I.S. Cyclones Enter 36 Men

The Iowa State College Cyclones have entered thirty-six men in the Big Six Track and Field Championships to be held in Memorial Stadium Friday and Saturday.

Dwayne Feeken, Cyclone high jumper and co-holder of the Big Six record in that event, will be competing in his specialty. Feeken and Tom Scofield of Kansas are the record holders. Iowa State is not expected to be a serious contender for the team crown.

The University of Kansas is the defending champion, but the Jaykawks are given little chance to repeat in this year's carnival.

When you graduate, you will have one of the finest opportunities to learn to fly ever offered young men in peacetime.

The Army Air Forces' Aviation Cadet Training Program gives you that chance. It cannot be duplicated anywhere at any price. Leader in new things for aviation - in jet and rocket propulsion, far-ranging heavy aircraft, improved navigation facilities, and many other of the latest developments in a fast-moving field - the AAF can help you begin a brilliant future.

The Air Forces have reopened Aviation Cadet training to qualified civilians 18 to 26 1/2 years of age. Men selected for training as pilots under the terms of the program must be single and have had at least two years of college education, or the equivalent, in an accredited institution. Upon successful completion of the course, graduates will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, Army of the United States, and assigned to flying duty with the Army Air Forces.

Reactivation of the Aviation Cadet program is typical of the AAF's continuing effort to provide selected young men every opportunity to earn advancement. Cadets who win their wings as today's pilots will be the same kind of men who, in wartime, built and manned the world's mightiest air arm.

Make your plans now to get in at the start! By applying immediately after graduation, you can take your qualifying examinations and enter the July 1st class, or - if you want a summer vacation - you can take your examinations now and be ready to enter the class beginning October 15th. Further information is available at AAF Bases, U. S. Army Recruiting Stations, local Civil Air Patrol headquarters, or by writing to the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, Washington 25, D. C.
