

Beta Gamma Sigma Elects 13 Members

Beta Gamma Sigma, scholastic honorary fraternity in the field of business administration, yesterday announced the election of 13 graduating seniors to membership in the honorary for the year 1946-47.

Prof. Carl F. Nelson, secretary of the group, stated that Beta Gamma Sigma "is the only scholastic honorary recognizing meritorious work in this field." Organized originally as an honor society for men in schools of commerce, the fraternity admitted women to membership in 1922. This year, seven women and six men were chosen.

Students ranking in the upper 10 percent are eligible, but this year's members represent the upper 8 percent. No initiation date has been set as yet. The 13 students honored are:

Adelphi Receives Society Emblem

In a ceremony held in the Union parlors Monday evening, charter members of Adelphi, unaffiliated women's social group, received the society emblem. Betty Weible, new president of the organization, prefaced the presentation with a resume of the history of Adelphi. The pin pledge was administered by Arley Olsen.

Marion Collins, newly-elected vice president and social chairman, directed the installation of officers for the forthcoming year, which include Jeanette Sielaff, secretary; Mildred Nutzman, treasurer; Ann Kuncel, historian; Mary Lou Carson, publicity chairman; and Marjorie Baumann, activities chairman.

Retiring President Marie Klopberg delivered an appreciation, which was followed by the response of Miss Marjorie Leaskdale, faculty sponsor of Adelphi. This program, which was preceded by a dinner, incorporated group singing led by Betty Weible.
